

The Only Way to Save This Nation From Entire Subjection to Slavery.

The people of the North as a general thing are opposed to all the movements of the slaveholders for the extension of slavery and other movements whose object is to strengthen and perpetuate that hateful institution.

The following from the Boston Commonwealth, points out the only remedy: Preston King, a true man, who has kept his integrity, and steadily refused to endorse the stupendousascalities of 1850, said, in his letter to the Faneuil Hall Convention, the other day, the "Friends of freedom should learn to be united. They should agree to vote together for the better side, and against the worse, until an administration shall be elected, because it is favorable to freedom. The gauge of battle thrown down by Mr. Douglas challenges such action."

The Nebraska Bill in the Senate.

The Senate, after a protracted session, adjourned last night, at a late hour, having ordered the Nebraska Bill to be engrossed for a third reading. The amendment offered by Mr. Chase, affirming the right of the People of the Territory, under the Constitution of the United States to exclude Slavery from its limits, gave rise to a warm discussion, but, as we predicted, was voted down. The Southern Senators deny openly the existence of any such right in the People of Legislature of a Territory, and the Northern Senators supporting the bill did not dare to affirm such a right. They leave that to be done by the journals at the North engaged in the work of duping the People. The other amendment of Mr. Chase, designed to carry out the theory of self-government, so vehemently contended for by the supporters of the bill, were also voted down. The majority who ordered it to be engrossed, refused to let the people elect their own Governor and Judges, or to deprive the Central Power at Washington, of the veto power. One amendment adopted at the instance of Mr. Badger provides that nothing in the Bill shall be construed to revive the Laws of Louisiana in existence in the Territory before the passage of the Missouri Compromise. This of course will be treated as leaving the question of Slavery unembarrassed, to be determined by the action of the Territorial Legislature. It will thus be made to serve the purpose of politicians in the coming election in New Hampshire. Let not the People be caught with chaff. What do these Southern men care for the old code of Louisiana; when they claim a surer and broader guarantee for their "slave property" in the Constitution of the United States. It is in virtue of this, that they claim the right to carry slaves into Nebraska, and hold them there, against the will and legislation of the People thereof. The vote was a small one. In fact, this Bill, so incalculably important, was carried by a minority of the Senate—twenty-five Senators out of sixty-two only voting for it. Twelve voted against it. Twenty-one were absent, or refused to vote. It is worthy of remark, in connection with this vote to repeal a positive act of Congress limiting Slavery, that resolutions still stand on the journals of the Legislatures of sixteen States of this Union, passed in 1818, 1819, and 1820, instructing or requesting their Senators to sustain the policy of positive Congressional enactment against Slavery in the United States Territory. Had the Senators from those States been true to the spirit and policy of these resolves, there would have been thirty-six, instead of twelve votes, against the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. People of the North, you have given yourselves up to the keeping of the Whig and Democratic parties, and sworn allegiance to the Baltimore Platform. You are responsible for all this.—Daily National Era.

Having received the above via Uncle Sam's mail, we were ruminating thus upon the shifting of scenes incident to the great drama of life: But yesterday, she was with us a maiden in our own mountain land—to-day, a happy bride in the far-off West—to-morrow—God bless her!—the printer is not forgotten! A cake! I! O! A! Cake!—White as the driven snows of Winter, reminding one of the purity of the donor—embowered with springs of green, emblematical of the new Spring season of life opening to the happy couple—red and golden dots, love and plenty—yes, the d—l's not forgotten—bless her—w. r. satisfied.

his provinces of Bohemia, Hungary, Moravia, Servia and the Bannat. In all this extensive region, the Emperor has by decree abolished all obligation to render service or labor to the original owner of the soil. The government decrees that the peasant shall receive a farm as his own property, at a price to be determined by Commissioners appointed by the government to stand between the nobles and the serfs. The payments are made on easy terms; and when the farm is paid for, the owner becomes entirely free and independent. Republican America is contriving means for extending and perpetuating slavery, while despotic Austria is active in abolishing slavery.—Boston Commonwealth.

Verdict in the Gardner Case.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 3, 1854. The Jury in the Gardner case returned a verdict of guilty this morning, after twenty-two hours' deliberation, and the Court passed the highest sentence allowed by law, viz., ten years' imprisonment in the Penitentiary. Gardner is in the custody of the Marshal. Execution has been stayed till two days after the rising of the Circuit Court, to which the case is carried on a bill of exceptions. His counsel's exception to the bill contained 29 counts, and the general opinion is that the Circuit Court would have granted a new trial. Dr. Gardner was found dead in his room to day. He is supposed to have poisoned himself after his conviction. The Coroner's Jury commenced an investigation this evening, and adjourned till the morning, when a post mortem examination will be made. It is not certain that the case is suicide; overwrought feeling, it is thought, may have been the cause. On entering the cell where Gardner was confined, he was observed to drink some water, throwing his head back, and it is supposed that he took a strichnine pill. He was seized with convulsions almost immediately. After giving a letter to Charles Gardner, his brother, he remarked that he was going before a Judge who would not pronounce him guilty, and expired in great agony. His corpse remains in the jail. He was 36 years old, had the education and manners of a gentleman, and was engaged to be married to a lady in Georgetown. It is not known for whom the letter was intended. The Nebraska Indians were at the President's levee this evening.

The Nebraska Bill an Administration Measure.

We ask honest democrats to look at the position of President Pierce. Says Hon. Edmund Burke through the Concord Reporter— We see various rumors in the newspapers respecting the course which the Members from this State will pursue on the Nebraska bill. One rumor says that "Mr. Kittridge and Mr. Morrison will speak and vote against it, leaving Mr. Hubbard as its only supporter from the President's own State." Another rumor says that Mr. Hubbard's course is also in doubt. Now, we have no means of knowing what course any member of our delegation will pursue, but presume they will all sustain the bill. It is a measure with which Gen. Pierce and his administration has become completely identified, and to suppose that the gentlemen named will oppose it is but to suppose that they are ready to oppose the administration, which is hardly to be presumed. Our readers probably understand what would be the effect of the passage of this bill: But on this point we will again quote from the Concord Reporter: We assert, without the fear of successful contradiction from any respectable source, Judge Douglas not excepted, that the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, revives and re-establishes the law of slavery in Nebraska and Kansas, and permits the people of the Southern States to go there and settle in those territories with their slaves. If it has not this effect, then the Nebraska Bill is a cheat and a humbug as well upon the people of the North as the South.

Premium Fanning Mills.

THE subscriber has purchased of J. B. Bamforth the right to use in Potter and McKean counties his patent in the construction of Fanning Mills. He has also, at great expense, commenced the manufacture of a PREMIUM MILL which will clean from 100 to 200 bushels per hour. This Mill was patented March 20, 1847; since which time it has stood at the head of the list at all the State and county agricultural societies where it has been exhibited, and is a universal favorite with all farmers who have tried it. If took the premium at the first Agricultural Fair held at Harrisburg, Oct. 31st, 1851, when there were 30,000 people present; and at the great State Agricultural Fair at New-York, held at Rochester Sept. 16-19, 1851, this Fanning Mill received the highest honors. Having met with uniform success wherever tried, I confidently invite the farmers of Potter and McKean counties to call at my shop in Coudersport and examine for themselves. A supply always on hand, to be sold on reasonable terms. 6-37f JOHN RECKHOW.
