J. BLOOMINGDALE,
Principal.

The undersigned, Trustees of the Coudersport Academy, are moved by a sense of official and personal duty to invite the attention of the Public—of parents in particular, to the rising and useful character of this Institution of Learning. When invited, a little more than a half-year ago, to the superintendence of its affairs, we found it depressed and still declining. We requested Mr. J. Bloomingdale to become its Principal Teacher, and entrusted its organization and other most onerous affairs to his discretion and management. Experience has proved him to be faithful, efficient, and practical—just such an instructor as this community need. The number of pupils in the school is now over sixty. We refer to Mr. Bloomingdale's advertisement for information as to the terms and conditions on which pupils are admitted, and for other facts of interest; and recommend the institution to the patronage of the people.

JOEL L. RAYMOND,
Treasurer of Potter Co.

TREASUER'S OFFICE, Coudersport, March 24, 1854. } 45-3t

Lewis Mann

IS again home, in the store opposite the Northeast corner of the public square, and is receiving direct from New-York city not a "mammoth stock" of winter goods, but sufficient to fill up the old store; which goods are now offered for inspection and examination. He would therefore say to the old customers, Step in and see his assortment; and to the public generally, that as his goods are for sale, he will be happy to receive "calls."
