jurisdiction. She would have us see to it that this Government, President, Judges, Congress, and all, be speedily rescued from the foul embrace of the great Southern syren, raised up from its low debauchment to virtue and freedom, vitalized anew by the inspiring breath of liberty, and replaced on the old foundation upon which its great fathers established and left it, there to be resolutely and actively on the side of freedom. It is meet and proper that the State of Ellsworth and Sherman, who would not admit slavery into the Constitution on any terms, and the State of Putman and Hale, who fought honorably for freedom, should speak out clearly at such a crisis, and all upon us to shake off from this covernment the accursed vampire of slavery. My honorable colleague has undertaken for the second or third ume to prove the Missouri Comprovise line unconstitutional. I will not tax the patience of the Senate with any reply, further than to offset the opinions of President Monroe, together with those of his unrivaled Cabinet, Calhoun, Crawford, Wirt and John Quincy Adams, against the arguments and opinions of my honorable colleague. He has also animadverted on the Fugitive act, and he is welcome to his opinions on that subject. 1 do not intend ever to be drawn into a discussion of that measure. It might have an awkward tendency toward pacification. No, Mr. President, I am bot the man to discuss the Fugitive Constitution of my country as to admit by the remotest implication the the constitutionality of an act which, hy one bound, vaults over all the bulwarks of liberty in all the States of this Union, and strikes down at one blow the writ of habeas corpus, and the right of trial by jury, which converts the great question of personal liberty, not to a judicial trial, but to a summary process before a magistrate appointed not by the President, with the concurrence of the Senate, by the Court ; which forbids the exercise of Christian charity towards the poor and perishing under sovere penalties; which seeks to degrade man below the leasts; which accounts his precious rights of too little value to be entitled a jury trial; which holds out the bribe of a double fee to the petty Commissioner for dooming a human being Slavery; which, in short, overthrows li the safeguards of human rights, and leaves man an easy prey to be des-poiled and captured by the pirate, the adnapper and the slave-hunter.

It was conceived in sin, shapen in inquity, and baptized in blood. It has no rival in its savage brutality; had in this county, has made himself ac-nothing in the code of civilized nations quainted with the lands and land titles of the to compare with it, but towers alone in its detestable preëminence of atro- trasted to him. cious, unmitigated villainy. Do you accuse me for using strong language ? I am just from the people, and have a right to use strong language in their sovereign name. In conclusion, Mr. President, allow me to say that I feel a just and loyal pride swelling my bosom as I contemplate the position of the good old commonwealth which I have the honor in part to represent. She has begun the good work, and will go on to perfection. It gives me joy to think her dark days of servility and shame are over, and that she has entered upon a new career of freedom and glory; but if from any unforescen nisfortune she should ever fall back again into the hands of the servile Philistines-the slave-mongering Democracy, which Infinite Mercy arrest -I will not follow the example of my honorable colleague and take advantage of her misfortunes to insult and expose her before all Israel and the hand, with paper, pens, shates, and every thing needed with paper, pens, shates, and every thing needed for yoing to school.
