

REMARKS OF MR. LAPORTE.
On the resolutions relative to Slavery.
April 12, 1855.

Mr. SPEAKER: I do not rise this evening for the purpose of making any extended remarks, but merely to notice the extraordinary position taken by the gentleman from the county [Mr. CUMMINGS.]

I said at the close of the afternoon session, when an attempt was made to evade this question by dispensing with the session this evening, which had been set apart for the consideration of the subject, that I was anxious that its question should be met—that I wished to know whether there was in the State a great and powerful party opposed to the aggressions of slavery, determined to resist its extensions and to use its overwhelming power in politics of the country; or, whether its opposition was merely feigned just before the elections, for effect. I said that I believed there were many thousands of voters in Northern Pennsylvania who wished to be satisfied as to the existence of an organized party in this State in favor of freedom, before they were again called upon to cast their ballots. I threw out those remarks because I feared there was a hollow-heartedness in certain quarters upon the question of slavery extension and domination. I was not aware until just now that the gentleman from the county [Mr. CUMMINGS] was one of the Union savers of 1850. I did not know that he was among those who were frightened by the threats of the Southernists, and had been led to believe that the Union was in danger. I was therefore surprised when I found him opposing these resolutions, especially when he is the especial champion for the election of a distinguished individual to the U. S. Senate, gen. [Cameron] who stands before the country in a recent letter, which goes after against slavery than the resolution now under consideration.

That letter was written in sincerity of truth, and was regarded as containing the fixed principles of its author, by the gentleman from the county. I do not see how he, holding the views he has just expressed could give the author of that letter, that earnest and able support that he has given him. After having rendered him that support he certainly should support these resolutions, to be at all consistent. But he seems to content himself by merely denouncing the Nebraska bill, looking rather to the past than the future in his opposition to slavery aggression. The history of the past should teach us to provide for the future, and the outrages that have been perpetrated against freedom, should admonish us that the North must be united, true to itself and determined to resist all such outrages hereafter, or the government will become a mere machine for the extension and preservation of Slavery.

The people of this state have rejected the civil-doers of the last Congress by an overwhelming demonstration at the polls—and let us be true to the issues of that canvass. Opposition to the aggressions of Slavery was the first idea that stirred the popular mind in that contest—was the question discussed in every newspaper from Delaware to the Ohio State line, it was declared on the stump as the overwhelming issue by Gov. POLLACK. This question cannot now be ignored by any party. I think I have seen a disposition in certain quarters to bury it, to divert the public mind by other issues of much less importance. The spoilsman snuff the plunder of the general government, and are trying to distract a national party to elect a president and distribute the spoils.

Mr. Speaker—The Democratic party met with overwhelming defeat, because their leading men have labored to make it the pro-slavery party of the country; have tried to crush out the Free Soil element, and stifle all discussion of this question. It is my firm conviction that any attempt to stifle opposition to slavery aggression, will destroy the party making the attempt, to whatever may be the character of the organization. Your Know Nothing lodges will be scattered like grass before the wind if you attempt it.

The same causes that overthrew the Democratic party will overthrow all others that attempt to embrace the very propagandists.

Dr. BLAKE, Dentist, is again in town, and will remain for a few weeks. Rooms in Temperance Block.

Very Important Information.

Dr. JONES, one of the most celebrated physicians in New York, writes as follows:

Dr. CURTIS—Dear Sir—Having witnessed the excellent effects of your HYGIANA or INHALATION, HYGIAN VAPOR AND CHERRY SYRUP, in a case of chronic Bronchitis, and being much in favor of counter-irritation in affections of the throat, bronchial tubes, and lungs, can therefore cheerfully recommend your Medicated Apparatus as being the most convenient and effectual mode of applying anything of the kind I have ever seen. No doubt thousands of persons may be relieved, and many cured, by using your remedies.

You are at liberty to use this in any way you may think proper.

Respectfully yours, &c.,

C. JOHNS, M. D.,
No. 609 Houston street, New-York.

Prof. S. CENTER writes as follows:

GENTLEMEN—I have recently had occasion to test your Cherry Syrup and Hygeana Vapor in the case of chronic sore throat, that had refused to yield to other forms of treatment; and the result has satisfied me, that whatever may be the composition of your preparation, it is no imposition, but an excellent remedy. I wish, for the sake of the afflicted, that it might be brought within the reach of all.

Rev. Doctor CHEEVER writes:

New-York, Nov. 15, 1854.

Dear Sir—I think highly of Dr. Curtis's Hygeana, as a remedy in disease of the throat and lungs. Having had some opportunity to test its efficacy, I am convinced that it is most excellent medicine, both the Syrup and the inhaling application to the chest. The Hygeana is for sale by D. W. SPENCER, Coudersport.
