

THE WAY TO GET ON IN THE WORLD.

A working man, some time ago, published his own biography, one of the most interesting little volumes that has appeared during the present century. It is as follows:—"It may, to some, appear like vanity in me to write what I now do, but I should not give my life truly, if I omitted it. When filling a cart with earth on the farm, I never stopped work because my side of the cart might be heaped up before, the other side, at which was another workman. I pushed over what I had heaped up, to help him; so doubtless he did to me, when I was last and he first. When I have filled my column or columns of a newspaper with matter for which I was to be paid, I have never stopped, if I thought the subject required more explanation, because there was no contract for more payment, or no possibility of obtaining more. When I have lived in a bar-room, and I have stopped my work, and taken a baby from a soldier's wife, when she had to work, and nursed it for her, or gone for water for her, or cleaned another man's accoutrements, though it was no part of my duty to do so. When I have been engaged in political literature and traveling for a newspaper, I have gone many miles out of my road to ascertain a local fact, or to pursue a subject to its minutest details, if it appeared that the public were unacquainted with the facts of the case; and this, when I had the work, was most pleasant and profitable. When I have wanted work I have accepted it at any wages I could get, at a plough, in farm-draining, stone quarrying, breaking stones, wood cutting, in a saw pit, as a civilian, or a soldier. In London I have cleaned out a stable and groomed a tabman's horse for a sixpence. I have since tried literature, and have done as much writing for ten shillings as I have readily obtained—both sought for and offered—ten guineas. But if I had not been content to begin at the beginning, and accepted shillings, I should have arisen to guineas. I have lost nothing by working; whatever I have been doing, with spade or pen I have been my own helper. Are you prepared to imitate? Humanity is always the attendant of sense, folly alone is proud. A wise divine, when preaching to the youths of his congregation, was wont to say, 'Beware of being golden apprentices, silver journeymen, and copper masters'—The only cure for pride is sense; and the only path to promotion is condescension. What multitudes have been ruined in their prospects by the pride of their hearts! Away, then, young men, and forever, with self-foppery, and empty pride, idle habits, and expensive associates—stop and conquer. Sink in spirit and rise in oppulence. Be faithful over a few things, and be made ruler over many."

READING AND WRITING.—Those accomplishments are the most excellent and most worthy of cultivation which contribute most largely to the happiness of others. I place that of reading well before every one of the arts which usually are so designated; and certainly, had I the fairy's power to bestow but those I loved the gift which should most endear them to others—not of course including good principle, good sense and good temper—I would give them the power of delighting their own family circle by reading and talking well. The former art especially is cultivated far too little for the health as well as the happiness of a young woman; so much is it neglected, that probably twenty can sing pleasingly for every one that can read agreeably. Yet we cannot doubt that a voice for singing is comparatively rare, and that almost any one who chooses to do so, can read so as to give pleasure. Perhaps there are two reasons for the general neglect of this charming accomplishment. In the first place, we are far too apt to cultivate most carefully that which is to please in society, and to neglect those arts which can contribute to domestic happiness. We sing for our acquaintances, to excite the admiration, or, it may be, the envy of people who see us but seldom, and would not greatly care if they never saw us again. But in being able to read well a good poem or play, or even the debates in parliament, we are only likely to give pleasure to an invalid father or brother or perhaps a group of younger brothers and sisters. But to increase the happiness of but one of our home circle ought to be a source of far more satisfaction to us than the applause of any stranger whatever. To wile away the dreary hours of pain and sickness—to charm a group of young listeners into forgetfulness of the rain or snow that is preventing them from enjoying their usual sports—these are objects we can so easily attain, and from which we shall derive such real happiness, that they are well worth a little effort.

A SELL.—The City Marshal of Bangor, Maine, seeing a man drinking something out of a bottle, offered him three dollars to tell him where he got it. The money was paid over and pocketed, and the Marshal was shown to the pump! The bottle contained water.

He who can "be a gentleman when he pleases," never pleases to be anything else.

DIED OF BROKERS.

"He Died of Brokers Sir!"—"He did not die of cholera, he died of brokers, sir!" said a man to us yesterday, speaking of the death of his friend.—"He projected an unwise improvement of a piece of real estate, made loans, covered himself with bonds and mortgages, and finally incurred a 'street debt' of $2,000, which rapidly rolled up to $8,000, and crushed the life right out of him. He borrowed Canada money on call, to be paid in current funds; got paper discounted, payable in seven days in the city of New York; borrowed Ohio and Kentucky currency for one day, returnable in notes of Buffalo banks; shinned it from street to street and friend to friend, to keep the debt ahead of him. Why, sir, I could not sit down to consult with him, or do any kind of business with him, with the least assurance that he would not jump up suddenly, to go out and give another shove to that cursed debt. The memorandum book of his obligations was always in his bosom, and, sir, it burned to the poor man's heart. He was owned by brokers. He worked for them, lived for them, and died for them. He did not die of cholera at all, sir. He died of a street debt, upon which he expended his strength every week in throwing it ahead from one day to seven days.—New York Paper.

THE WAY TO EVADE A QUESTION.—"What do you believe?" said a man to his neighbor. "Why I believe the same as the church believes." "Pray what does the church believe?" "Why the church believes the same as I believe." Well, then, what do you and the church both believe? "Why the church and I both believe the same thing."

War Declared at Last. THE long repose of Europe is about to be disturbed by the bugle's note and the rattle of the drum, calling its slumbering millions to arms in the defense of their flag and their country. England and France are calling for men and means, and sending forward their armies to battle against the aggressions of the Russian Bear; but while the Old World is convulsed by revolution, mutual peace and plenty reign in the New.

In the peaceful and quiet pursuit of our business, we have found a competitor: in the name of N. S. BUTLER & CO., and have taken the store in Empire Block, in the village of Olean, formerly occupied by Thing & Co., and are now receiving a splendid new stock of goods adapted to the season and wants of the community, which we intend to sell exclusively for cash down, at prices that will cause consternation and dismay in the ranks of old logjammers that have been so long established in this section. We refer to "Dr. Curtis' Hygienic, or Inhaling Hygienic Vapor and Cherry Syrup." With this new method Dr. C. has restored many afflicted ones to perfect health: as an evidence of which he has innumerable certificates. Speaking of the treatment a physician says: "It is evident that inhaling—constantly breathing an agreeable, healing vapor, the medicinal properties must come in direct contact with the whole of the arid cavity of the lungs, and thus escape the many and varied changes produced upon them when introduced into the stomach, and subjected to the process of digestion. The Hygienic is for sale at the druggists' through out the country. N. Y. Dutchman, Jan. 14.

S. M. KNIGHT, Attorney for Government, Claimants, Washington, D. C. CONTINUES to give prompt and personal attention to the prosecution of Claims of every description against the Government, and particularly to those before the Treasury Department, Pension and Bounty-Land Boards, Patent and General Land Offices, and Board of Claims.

An experience of years, and a familiarity with the means of obtaining the earliest and most favorable action on Claims, with his facilities for the dispatch of business, justify him in assuring his Correspondents, Claimants, and the Public generally, that interests entrusted to his keeping will not be neglected. PENSION, BOUNTY LAND, PATENT, AND PUBLIC LAW OFFICES.

He has nearly ready, for gratuitous distribution among his business Correspondents, (and those who may become such), a neat pamphlet containing a synopsis of the existing Pension, Bounty Land, Patent, and Public Law, down to the end of the late Congress—including the BOUNTY-LAND ACT OF MARCH 3, 1855, under which all who have heretofore received less than 100 acres are now entitled to additional land; said Act grants also 160 acres to all Officers, Non-commissioned Officers, Chaplains, Soldiers, Wagon Masters, Teamsters, and friendly Indians, of the Army, including State Troops, Volunteers, and Militia—and all Officers, Seamen, Ordinary Seamen, Marines, Clerks, and Landsmen, of the Navy, not heretofore provided for, who have served not less than fourteen days (unless in battle) at any period since 1776; and to the widows and minor children of all such persons entitled, and deceased.

This pamphlet contains "Forms of Application" more full and complete than any elsewhere to be found; adapted to the wants of every class of Claimants under the Act, with copious decisions and instructions of the Department, and practical suggestions as to the course to be pursued in suspended or rejected cases.

Persons not wishing to avail themselves of the facilities afforded by this Office in securing prompt and personal superintendence of their claims at the Departments, can obtain copies of the above pamphlet by remitting thirty cents in postage stamps.

INDUCEMENTS TO CORRESPONDENTS. Correspondents who prepare and forward cases for management by this Agency will be dealt with liberally; supplied with all necessary blanks gratis, and kept constantly advised of the changes that from time to time occur in the execution of the laws.

It is within the subscriber's power to direct his Correspondents to the locality of very many persons entitled under the Act; and having obtained several thousand Land Warrants under former laws, he is in possession of data that will materially assist in securing additional bounty.

Fees, below the usual rates—and contingent upon the admission of Claims. The highest cash-prices given for Land Warrants, Revolutionary Script, and Illinois Land Patents. S. M. KNIGHT, Washington, D. C.

All kinds of Produce taken in exchange for Goods, at the highest market prices; also, $20 per ton paid for old iron. JAS. W. SMITH. 6-12 ly.

Premium Fanning Mills. Important to Farmers and Mechanics. THE subscriber has purchased of J. B. Bamforth the right to use in Potter and McKean counties his patent in the construction of Fanning Mills. He has also, at great expense, commenced the manufacture of a PREMIUM MILL which will clean from 100 to 200 bushels per hour. This Mill was patented March 20, 1847, since which time it has stood at the head of the list at all the State and county agricultural societies where it has been exhibited, and is a universal favorite with all farmers who have tried it. It took the premium at the first Agricultural Fair held at Harrisburg, Oct. 31st, 1851, when there were 20,000 people present; and at the great State Agricultural Fair at New-York, held at Rochester Sept. 16-19, 1851, this Fanning Mill received the highest honors.

Having met with uniform success wherever tried, I confidently invite the farmers of Potter and McKean counties to call at my shop in Coudersport and examine for themselves. A supply always on hand, to be sold on reasonable terms. JOHN RECKHOW. 6-37ft
