

From the Buffalo Democracy.
SLAVEHOLDERS' ARTS.

"FERIOUS FUROR SVO PUNTOR."
Freely translated, "men in a rage bite their own noses." The percussion-cap, gilt-epauletted statesmen of Missouri—the Majors, the Captains, (almighty few of that low grade), the Colonels, (numerous,) the Generals, (thick as hairs on a dog,) and the Major-Generals, of the highly intelligent and carefully polished society of the trans-Mississippi South-west, recently in Convention at Lexington, have fully manifested how it is possible for men in a rage to make perfect fools of themselves. Everything was "tremendous" there, according to the telegraphic report. Southern proceedings are always tremendous. The "excitement" among the Colonels, Generals, Majors, and Captains was tremendous no less than twice. The "confusion" was tremendous; so was the storminess of the session. Everything was tremendous—even the folly, absurdity, and childishness of the entire occasion. These were more tremendous than all else.

Think of it, now—the stupidity that sets up a great six-foot-two-inch fellow—pompous with a self-assumed or bar-room baptized title of "General"—fierce with great whiskers, and a carefully cultivated martial scowl—and actually fires out of him in bomb-shell style an offered resolution to exclude by taxation the products of Massachusetts from the State of Missouri, for that Massachusetts will not catch Kentucky niggers! Not to talk of the unconstitutionality of such a Pro-Slavery revenue arrangement, consider its folly. It proposes to stop the supplies of the necessities of life of this very creature, and of his brothers and sisters and friends and neighbors. Missouri does not manufacture. She has to buy, or go naked and shiver. But all the manufacturing States regard nigger-catching with equal repugnance. General Phoebe of Missouri, therefore, is obliged to exclude all American manufactures from his State. There are British fabrics, to be sure; but England not only refuses to catch slaves, but emancipates all she has power over. So with the French. But France and England are out of the Union, and not bound by the "Compromises of the Constitution." Then comes a difficulty not anticipated by the Generals of the South-west. The manufacturing States of this Union are the importing States. If Missouri wants Manchester or Birmingham, Lyons or Paris fabrics, she has got to buy them in Philadelphia, New-York or Boston. She has not the choice of going to New-Orleans for them, nor to Savannah, nor to Charleston. They have lots of slaves there, and a carefully cherished Slavery—but no ships, no European trade, and no present visible means of establishing direct European trade. Does not General Phoebe see that his resolution, beside being self-injurious, is impossible of execution? Missouri would become as ragged as Lazarus, and more impoverished than Job, if she undertook to accomplish the policy recommended to her by the epauletted fools recently in Convention at Lexington.

There would have been no harmony in this affair, if some Colonel, after a hurricane of Missouri eloquence, had not passed through the Convention a resolution to suppress Free-Soil opinions and publications in the Central Slave States. My percussion-cap friend, you might as well bag the winds that sweep your State's prairies—as well chain and huddle the laws of gravitation, as the great law of freedom of thought, and in a Republic the consequent freedom of expressed opinion. Know, too, military Sir, (lucus a non lucendo) that that resolution sows civil war in the South. You are not all of you fools, nor all wedded by actual or imaginary interests, to the system of slavery. There are Colonels and Generals who will think and speak their conviction that unpaid negro labor is the bane of the prosperity of the South, and who will avow their unwillingness to transmit it as the basis of a social economy, to their children and their children's children. You Colonels and Generals will come by the ears. You had better be careful how you pass such resolutions. They are wholly useless, utterly impracticable—but they are dangerous, too. They lay the foundations of an inquisitorial violence in your own society, which will go far toward a bloody issue of this Slavery question.

The fully of these epaulettes, is a harmonious one. It runs through their ideas of Trade, Commerce, Society, Politics, Finance, and Law. Slavery is a blessing, not a curse. Yet it is a curse, too—to be ameliorated by expansion. A natural settlement of a Territory is by allowing the citizens of a neighboring State to legislate for it. A refusal to allow State officers and State property to be used in its new business of negro-catching is a declaration of hostility against the Constitution. (How magnificently Gen. Phoebe of Missouri must have piled up the vocal on that word when speaking to the resolution!) And then that thready threat of a dissolution of the Union—the crowning lie and impudent cap-sheaf of all slave-driving convocations. We wish from the bottom of our heart that Disunion could be slapped to these people for just two years. Oh, how they would sicken of it! Within the first week of its operation, from every slave State would be seen men hurrying North with portable property. An unceasing tide of emigration would set in, of all people who could clear out with what they had in hand or could soon reduce to possession. The apprehension of future trouble with the slaves, would spread such sense of insecurity as to depopulate the South of her white mechanics, her lenders of money, her merchants, teachers, small farmers, and all, indeed, who had not a taste for sleeping in the midst of armed parols, and with pistols under their pillows, and who were not tied down by the ownership of slaves and of agricultural land. Credit would unwillingly and timidly be given to the South at the North, in London and in Havre. In a word, Disunion would bankrupt and destroy her. We think it would do so in a perfect finish within five years after it commenced making a trial of it. But there is not a man in Missouri who has the least idea of trying it. "Disunion" is kept to scare Northern Booboes, and arm and equip Northern Dough-faces.

SUMMER BEVERAGE.

As the warm season is near at hand, when our appetites will naturally require some beverage that is satisfying and agreeable when a thirst, I wish to give to the readers of the Cultivator a few recipes for making healthful, cheap and agreeable drinks for the summer season, which I know from experience to be excellent for the purpose. The first is known by the name of Seiditz powders; they are absolutely invaluable. They are sold at a very high price at the drug shops, and are frequently so old as to be nearly worthless; therefore, it is essential that we should all know how to make them at first cost, which is trifling. The following is a recipe for making one powder, and any number can be made by the same rule: Rochelle salts, 2 drachms; carb. soda, 2 scruples; tartaric acid, 35 grains. Dissolve the salts and soda together in one glass, then dissolve the acid in another, pour them together and drink during the effervescence. To those who have no scales for weighing such small quantities, I will say, that one teaspoonful of the salts will answer for two drachms and a half, a teaspoonful for two scruples of soda; and about a quarter of a teaspoonful for thirty-five grains of acid.

The next in order is what I shall call a medicated lemonade, which is certainly a very agreeable and healthy beverage for the summer season; it is made as follows: White sugar, one pound; tartaric acid, a quarter of an ounce; essence of lemon, thirty drops; water three quarts. Mix any quantity, for more or less, can be made by the same rule. There are some who prefer white sugar, but I like brown nearly as well. Thus can a lemonade be manufactured without the use of lemons, which in my estimation is far superior to that made from fruit, without much trouble or expense.

I will close this communication by giving a few recipes for making beer. First white spruce beer, which is made as follows: Three pounds of loaf-sugar, four gallons of water, one ounce of ground-ginger, a little lemon-peel and enough of essence of spruce to give it a flavor; add a cup of good yeast, and when fermented, bottle it close. This is a delightful beverage. Second, imperial ginger beer, which is made as follows: cream of tartar one pound; ginger, two ounces; white sugar seven pounds; essence of lemon, one drachm, water, six gallons; yeast, half a pint; bottle and tie the corks down.

I forgot to say in its proper place, that in drinking Seiditz powders they would be made more palatable by putting a spoonful of brown sugar into the glass with the salts and soda, before pouring the acid in.—Boston Cultivator.

The Boy Farmers.—A Paris (Me.) paper tells a good story of two boys, one thirteen and the other eleven, who, on account of the sickness of their father, were left to work the farm. They thoroughly ploughed and cross-ploughed three acres of rather rough ground, which they then sowed, and then harrowed it three times over. They also assisted in clearing one acre of new land, which was sown with wheat. It grew well, especially that first sown; but at harvest, the father being still sick, there was none to gather the grain but these two little lads. Having neither strength or skill to use the cradles, they grasped the sickle with a resolute hand, and reaping what they could each day, persevered until the whole four acres was thus harvested by them alone. The produce of this crop would command in market $135, and they did a good deal of work on the farm besides. This shows what boys can do if they really set about it, and make work of it, and play of play—not trying to do both at once.

PRENTICE ON STRINGFELLOW.—The Louisville Journal says: A correspondent wishes us to publish a defense of General Stringfellow, the border ruffian who headed the Missouri invasion of Kansas. Our opinion of Stringfellow is that if he had his deserts, he would be a strung-fellow.

SIMPLICITY.—The other day a school girl was married in the city. A little girl about eleven years of age, of the same school, said to her parents—"Why, don't you think—is married, and she has n't gone through fractions yet!"

Silence is a cheap virtue.

War Declared at Last.

THE long repose of Europe is about to be disturbed by the bugle's note and the revolve of the drum, calling its slumbering millions to arms in the defense of their seditious and their country. England and France are calling for men and means, and sending forward their armies to battle against the aggressions of the Russian Bear; but while the Old World is convulsed by revolution, annual peace and plenty reign in the New.

In the peaceful and quiet pursuit of our business we have formed a copartnership under the name and style of N. S. BUTLER & CO., and have taken the store in Empire Block, in the village of Olean, formerly occupied by Thine & Brother, and are now receiving a splendid new stock of goods adapted to the season and wants of the community, which we intend to sell exclusively for cash down, at prices that will cause consternation and dismay in the ranks of old fogies who have been so long established in this section.

Our stock will consist in part of the following Goods:
Hardware, Crockery, Boots & Shoes, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Oil Cloths, Drugs, Medicines, Dye Stuffs, Glass, Paints & Oils, Sash, Patties, Chairs, Bedsteads, Mattresses, Feathers, Stone and Wooden Ware, And we mean to keep such an assortment of the above goods that persons from a distance can be assured of finding everything they usually want at prices that will do them good and see for themselves.

N. S. BUTLER & CO.
Olean, May 5, 1854. 6-51

The subscriber takes this occasion to express his thanks to the people of Potter and of other sections for their liberal support during the past year, and to assure them that no pains will be spared in the future that may be required to make this school an institution worthy of the entire confidence and support of all who desire a sound rudimental as well as a thorough mathematical and classical education.

J. BLOOMINGDALE, Principal.
The undersigned Officers and Trustees of the Coudersport Academy are moved by a sense of official and personal duty, to call the attention of the public, and of the people of our county in particular, to the rising and useful character of this institution of learning. When we invited the present worthy Principal to the post he occupies, we found the Academy depressed and declining. We submitted our organization and other most important matters to his discretion and management; and our experience enables us with increased confidence to assure parents and guardians that he has proved faithful, efficient, and practical—just such an instructor as this community needs.

5,000 " Ornaments in great variety,
5,000 " Borders,
30,000 feet Brass and Type Metal Rules, and all the novelties in the business.
All the above Types are cast by steam power, of the new metal peculiar to this foundry, and which is certainly superior to any ever used before in any part of the world. The unequalled rapidity in the process of casting, enables me to sell these more durable types at the prices of ordinary types, either on credit or for cash.

Presses, Wood Type, and all other Printing Materials, except paper and Cards, (which have no fixed quality or price), furnished at manufacturers' prices.
The latest Specimen Book of the Foundry is sent gratis to all printing offices, on the receipt of fifty cents in prepay postage.
Printers of newspapers who choose to publish this advertisement, including this note, three times before the first day of July, 1855, and forward me one of the papers, will be allowed their bills at the time of purchasing five times the amount of my manufactures. New-York, Feb. 12, 1855.

Address, GEO. BRUCE, 13 Chambers-st., New-York. 45-3t

Putnam's Monthly.

In assuming the publication of PUTNAM'S MONTHLY, it is only necessary for us to refer to the special notice issued, with our hearty approval, upon the first of April, by the late publishers. The Magazine will aim at greater excellence in the direction hitherto pursued; and, without being a partisan, will hold decided opinions, and will treat all public questions from a humane and truly national point of view.

In all the other varied departments of a Monthly Magazine, it will hope to amuse, instruct, and benefit; to criticize generously but justly; and to attract to its pages, as it has already done, the contributions of able men in every walk of Literature, Science, and Art. The past volumes use the best assurance that nothing offensive to the purest morality, and no wanton attack upon honest conviction, will ever find a place in the Magazine.
All communications should be addressed to Dix & Edwards, Publishers of Putnam's Monthly, 10 Park Place, New-York.

HYGEANA.

Brought Home to the Door of the Million.
A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY has recently been made by Dr. Curtis, of this city, in the treatment of Consumption, Asthma, and all diseases of the Lung. We refer to "Dr. Curtis' Hygeana, or Inhaling Hygean-Vapor and Cherry Syrup." With this new method Dr. C. has restored many afflicted ones to perfect health; as an evidence of which he has innumerable certificates. Speaking of the treatment a physician says: "It is evident that inhaling—constantly breathing an agreeable, healing vapor, the medicinal properties must come in direct contact with the whole of the arial cavity of the lungs, and thus escape the usual and varied changes produced upon them when introduced into the stomach, and subjected to the process of digestion. The Hygeana is for sale at the druggists' through out the country."

N. Y. Dutchman, Jan. 14.
The Inhaler is worn on the breast under the linen without the least inconvenience—the heat of the body being sufficient to evaporate the fluid.
Hundreds of cases of cures like the following might be named. One package of the Hygeana has cured me of the Asthma of six years standing.
Jas. F. Keebly, P. M., Duncan, Pa.
I am cured of the Asthma of 10 years standing by Dr. Curtis' Hygeana.
Margaret Eastman, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Mrs. Paul of No. 5 Mammoud-st., N. Y., was cured of a severe case of Bronchitis by the Hygeana.
My sister had been cured of a distressing cough of several years standing, and decided to be incurable by her physicians. She was cured in one month by the Hygeana.
J. H. Gaubert, P. M., Richmond, Me.
Price Three Dollars a Package.—Sold by CURTIS & PERKINS & BOYD & PAUL, No. 149 Chambers-st., N. Y.—4 Packages sent free by express to any part of the United States for Ten Dollars.

K. B.—Dr. Curtis' Hygeana is the original and only genuine article, and all others are base imitations or vile and injurious counterfeits. Shun them as you would poison.

TO OFFICERS, SOLDIERS, SEAMEN, &c., OF ALL WARS: THEIR WIDOWS, AND MINOR CHILDREN.

S. M. KNIGHT, Attorney for Government Claimants, Washington, D. C.
CONTINUES to give prompt and personal attention to the prosecution of Claims of every description against the Government, and particularly to those before the Treasury Department, Pension and Bounty-Land Bureaus, Patent and General Land Offices, and Board of Claims.

An experience of years, and a familiarity with the means of obtaining the earliest and most favorable action on Claims, with his facilities for the dispatch of business, justify him in assuring his Correspondents, Claimants, and the Public generally, that interests intrusted to his keeping will not be neglected.

PENSION, BOUNTY LAND, PATENT, AND PUBLIC LAND LAWS.
He has nearly ready, for gratuitous distribution among his business Correspondents (and those who may become such,) a neat pamphlet containing a synopsis of the existing Pension, Bounty Land, Patent, and Public Land Laws, down to the end of the late Congress—including the BOUNTY-LAND ACT OF MARCH 3, 1855, under which all who have heretofore received less than 100 acres are now entitled to additional lands; said Act grants also 100 acres to all Officers, Non-commissioned Officers, Chaplains, Soldiers, Wagon Masters, Teamsters, and friendly Indians, of the Army, including State Troops, Volunteers, and Militia—and all Officers, Seamen, Ordinary Seamen, Marines, Clerks, and Landmen, of the Navy, not heretofore provided for, who have served not less than fourteen months (in battle) at any period since 1776; and to the widows and minor children of all such persons entitled, and deceased.

This pamphlet contains "Forms of Application" more full and complete than any elsewhere to be found; adapted to the wants of every class of Claimants under the Act, with copious decisions and instructions as to the course to be pursued in suspended or rejected cases.

Parties not wishing to avail themselves of the facilities afforded by this Office in securing prompt and personal superintendence of their claims at the Department, can obtain copies of the above pamphlet by remitting thirty cents in postage stamps.

INDUCEMENTS TO CORRESPONDENTS.
Correspondents who prepare and forward cases for management by this Agency will be dealt with liberally; supplied with all necessary blanks gratis; and kept constantly advised of the changes that from time to time occur in the execution of the laws.

It is within the subscriber's power to direct his Correspondents to the locality of every many persons entitled under the Act; and having conducted several thousand Land Warrants under former laws, he is in possession of data that will materially assist in securing additional bounty.

Fees, be on the usual rates—and contingent upon the admission of Claims.
The highest cash prices given for Land Warrants, Revolutionary Script, and Illinois Land Patents.
S. M. KNIGHT,
Washington, D. C.

Tin and Hardware.

THE undersigned has connected with his Tin, Sheet Iron, Copper, and Stove business, that of HARDWARE and CUTLERY—so that in addition to the business heretofore conducted by him, he is now ready to supply the public with almost every variety of Hardware, Mill and Cross-cut Saws, Hoop Iron, Nails, Chains, Chains, Carpenters' Axes and Broadaxes, Manila Rope for Cables. A general assortment of Clocks, Jeweled Ware, Toys of every description; and in short, he designs to keep all such things as the public wants in his line, which he will sell, not for less than cost, but for a vast small profit indeed, and hopes by a strict attention to his business to receive a liberal share of public patronage.

Premium Fanning Mills.

Important to Farmers and Mechanics.
THE subscriber has purchased of J. Lamborough the right to use in Potter and McKean counties his patent in the construction of Fanning Mills. He has also, at great expense, commenced the manufacture of a PREMIUM MILL which will clean from 100 to 200 bushels per hour. This mill was patented March 20, 1847, since which time it has stood at the head of the list at all the State and county agricultural societies where it has exhibited, and is a universal favorite with all farmers who have tried it. It took the premium at the first Agricultural Fair held at Harrisburg, Oct. 31st, 1851, when there were 30,000 people present; and at the great State Agricultural Fair at New-York, held at Rochester Sept. 16-19, 1851, this Fanning Mill received the highest honors.

Having met with uniform success wherever tried, I confidently invite the farmers of Potter and McKean counties to call at my shop in Coudersport and examine for themselves. A supply always on hand, to be sold on reasonable terms.
JOHN RECKHOW,
6-37f

THE subscriber heretofore gives notice to the public that having given PETER SUTTER his note for eighty dollars, bearing date near the last of March, 1854, payable September, 1856, and having never received any value therefor, he will refuse to pay the same; therefore he warns any person from laying the said note with and expecting of his paying it. [651] CONSIDER STEARNS.

Machine Oil.

Mill Owners will always find a supply of Oil for machinery at satisfactory prices, and in any quantity, at TYLER'S Drug Store.

LIFE OF HORACE GREELEY.

Fraser Gray.
The Oracle of Flowers, and a new supply of Scrool Books.

The People's Cash Store.

AT COUDERSPORT.
Something New, and Something Wanted.
THE subscribers, having entered into partnership arrangements under the firm of "MAYNARD & WILCOX," will be happy to call on all old friends, and all new friends, at all old days, and continually, at "The People's Cash Store" in Coudersport, inquiring for DRY GOODS, HARDWARE, CROCKERY, READY-MADE CLOTHING, and all the endless variety of articles which the People want, and must have. And the subscribers will sell to their customers, at the very best bargains to be had in Northern Pennsylvania.
MAYNARD & WILCOX,
