LEWIS MANN'S COLUMN
Lewis Mann
IS at home again, in the store opposite the North-west corner of the Court House Square, and is receiving from New York and Philadelphia, not a "mammoth stock" of winter dry goods, but sufficient to supply the demands of this community, and of such variety, as to suit all tastes. Having had considerable experience in supplying the people of this section of the county with Prints and Dress Goods, and having selected his assortment from two cities, he flatters himself that his present stock is a little ahead of any ever offered for sale in Coudersport. He would therefore say to his old customers, Step in and examine for yourselves—and to the people generally that his goods are for sale—that he will be happy to make his visitors feel at home. War Declared at Last.
THE long repose of Europe is about to be disturbed by the bugle's note and the rattle of the drum, calling its slumbering millions to arms in the defense of their lives and their country. England and France are calling for men and means, and sending forward their armies to battle against the aggressions of the Russian Bear; but while the Old World is convulsed by revolutionary, unusual peace and plenty reign in the New.

Our stock will consist in part of the following:

Hardware, Crockery, Boots & Shoes, Hats, Caps, Carpets, Oil Cloths, Drugs, Medicines, Dye Stuffs, Glass, Paints & Oils, Sash, Putty, Chairs, Bedsteads, Mattresses, Feathers, Stone and Wooden Ware.

NURSERYMEN, FRUIT GROWERS & FARMERS.
THE NEW YORK HORTICULTURAL REVIEW.
A Journal of Suburban art. SUPERBLY AND PROFUSELY ILLUSTRATED.
Devoted to the Advancement of the Rural Interests in AMERICA.
This one of the largest and most elaborate works of the kind in the world. Rural Architecture forms one of the principal features. Each number contains from two to four engravings of model cottages, from designs by eminent and skilful architects. Space is also assigned to the tasteful art of Landscape Gardening; engraved plans of gardens in every style, and adapted to the peculiarities of different orders of architecture, beautifully worked.
Engravings of new fruits, new flowers, new vegetables, &c., are illustrated and described as soon as their respective qualities can be determined, forming the most complete and elegant Manual of Rural Husbandry ever attempted.
An experienced corps of practical writers seven in number, are engaged to fill its columns. It contains seventy large pages, and is printed on the finest pearl-surfaced paper, manufactured expressly.
The price is $2 per annum, payable invariably in advance. Fifty cents commission on each subscriber allowed to those who act as agents. $1,000 will be distributed at the end of the year among those who send the twenty largest lists of subscribers. These premiums will be paid in cash. The first premium will be $500.
The following are reflected from hundreds of similar notices, voluntarily contributed by contemporaneous publications:—
The Horticultural Review deserves the most liberal patronage. It is not only eminently practical, but is written in a style that equals the best efforts of the late A. J. Downing—Knickerbocker.
The most elegant and useful book of the kind that has ever come under our observation.—Register.
Mr. Reagles, the Editor of the Horticultural Review, is a practical pomologist, and one of the finest scholars our country boasts of. He possesses the glowing descriptive powers of Dickens, the elegant gossip of Walpole, combined with a thorough knowledge of rural art.—State Police Tribune.
Farmers, buy it for your sons—buy it for your daughters. It is a rich and useful treat; a rare combination of the beautiful and the useful.—Argus, N. Y.
We had thought that in Downing's death, the ardent advocate of rural adornment had become only a cherished remembrance; but in Mr. Reagles we do encounter an equally rich mine of mental wealth, that betokens the influence of the spirit that is gone.—Montreal Tribune.
Advertisers will find this an unsurpassed medium of publicity, as the Horticultural Review circulates extensively in every State in the Union. Advertisements inserted at the rate of $10 per page.
WOOD ENGRAVING
Those requiring Wood Engraving, can have their orders executed in an unrivalled manner. Special attention is given to views of ANIMALS; an experienced English Draughtsman is engaged for this express purpose. Persons living at a distance can forward a descriptive of the object (by mail) they wish engraved, which will be a sufficient guide to obtain a perfect fac-simile. Stock Breeds will be dealt with on very liberal terms. Our Exchange List is strictly very large. A further extension is not desired, unless publishers are willing to give the above advertisement several insertions in their respective papers.
Agricultural Books can be furnished on every useful subject, from both English and American publishers, by enclosing to our address the price of the book required. Specimen copies will be forwarded on the receipt of 18 cts. in postage stamp. C. REAGLES, Publisher, 208 Broadway, New York.
