From the Pennsylvania Telegraph.

HOW DO YOU SWEAR?

The recent Democratic Convention in Philadelphia opened the ball by administering the following oath to all members before they were permitted to take their seats:

"I do hereby solemnly swear or affirm that I am not, and do not intend to become, a member of any political organization, secret or open, which proscribes any of our fellow-citizens on account of birth place or religion."

Charley Carrigan, where the members lay by platoons, and utter expelling the reporter of the Times lest a truthful report of their proceedings should be printed, the Convention proceeded to the election of delegates to the State Convention. But some half-wit might slip into the State Convention, who did not go the whole figure against the Know-Nothings, and they again exhibited their opposition to all outlandish political action by swearing all the candidates for delegates. Some licked and murdered a little, but Carrigan was at hand again, and with due solemnity administered the same oath to them that was administered to the members As none were allowed to be voted for but such as were sworn, all yielded to the humiliating qualification. The following delegates were then elected all favorable to Mr. Buchanan:

Senatorial Delegates—Jas. D. Campbell, Chas. McGrath, Frederick G. Frazer, Wm. Lamb and George R. Bearell.

Representative Delegates—Thomas Cuthbert, Edward Wilcox, P. McDonough, Charles Brady, A. O'Hara, Thomas Ellis, John M'Coombs, Daniel M. Foy, Geo. W. Wunder, Francis McCormack, Alexander E. Brown, John Crawford, Emanuel Street, James F. Nichols, and J. K. Hassinger.

Well, the 4th of March Convention is drawing near, and we give timely notice to our Justices of the Peace to be prepared for the emergency.—There will be at least 133 sitting members of the Convention, and several contestants, all of whom must of course be sworn that they are opposed to oath-bound political organizations. There will also be some forty candidates for the several State officers to be filled next fall, all of whom must swear that they are opposed to swearing. Then there will be a regiment of candidates for seats in the national Convention, and another regiment aspiring to the position of Electors, and they must all come up to the Philadelphia and Berks platform or drive the Democracy of those counties into a virgin party of anti-oath-bound men. In addition to these, the Sage of Wheatland must attend, with a cross York shilling to pay the Justice, and swear that he never swears in his political movements, and never proscribes men on account of birth or religion. Should Mr. Dallas slip off to England before that time, without leaving his affidavit behind, so much the better, as Mr. Buchanan will then have the field entirely to himself.—Fore-la-line gentlemen—how do you swear?

OUTSPOKEN ILLUSTRATED.—A Tennessean was good-naturedly exhorting us to obedience to the laws, when changing the subject, he expressed his firm conviction that Slavery legally existed in Kansas, and politely asked our candid opinion. "Alas!" we replied, "I dare not. I must either remain dumb upon that subject, tell you a lie, or, by telling the truth, go to the penitentiary two years. What shall I say?" "Speak the truth if it splits you." And we did. He promised not to report us to Sheriff Jones or 'Squire Cameron.—Kansas Tribune.

A PRETTY TRIO.—Two Democratic members of the Legislature are now under arrest, one for attempting to rob the State Arsenal, and one for seduction! And another is mean enough to occupy a seat for which the people have twice repudiated him! We think the people will agree with us that this beats any Legislature that has assembled at Harrisburg for many years, about "a foot, a foot and a half, or two feet."—Muncy Luminary.

Those fathers provide best for their children, who leave them with the highest education, the purest morals, and the least money.
