

THE JOURNAL.

COUDERSPORT, OCT. 23, 1856.

A VOICE FROM THE WELSH.

The following is a translation of a series of resolutions submitted to Mr. Fremont yesterday by the deputation appointed by the meeting which adjourned this morning.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CONVENTION OF THE WELSH CITIZENS OF PENNA.

We, citizens of Pennsylvania, regardless of past political creeds, assembled by delegates in the Court House, Danville, Montour county, Pa., on Tuesday, Oct. 7, for the purpose of expressing their concurrence in the just sentiments of the Republican platform, and their determination to aid all in their power the election of Col. J. C. Fremont to the Presidential chair. They desire to arrest the further progress of slavery, so that free labor in free territories, as provided for by the constitution, be reserved for themselves and their descendants.

They regard the repeal of the Missouri Compromise as a violation of a sacred compact, and the policy of the present administration as unconstitutional, as it is dangerous to the Union, and destructive to the best interests of the American people.

In view of these considerations, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That, with the illustrious Washington, Thomas Jefferson, we hold it to be a self-evident truth that all men are born free and equal, and endowed with the inalienable rights of liberty and the pursuit of happiness; and that we regard the attempts which are now being made to extend the area of slavery, and oppress a free people, as unconstitutional and directly opposed to those noble principles vouchsafed American citizens in that underlying instrument, the Declaration of Independence.

Resolved, That, whereas the love of liberty has always been a national trait in the character of the Welsh people, we desire to maintain and perpetuate also those principles of liberty bequeathed us by our Republican fathers, and we re-declare our unaltered attachment to the Constitution and the Union.

Resolved, That, as American citizens, we heartily concur in the true and patriotic sentiments of the Republican platform, and solemnly pledge ourselves to support the principles therein laid down, and do all in our power to secure the election of Col. J. C. Fremont, and Wm. Lewis Dayton, to the high and important offices of President and Vice President of these United States, believing that in no other way can the primary object and ulterior design of the Federal Government be secured to the people of this great and growing Republic.

Resolved, That we call upon our fellow-countrymen and fellow-citizens in the name of humanity, in the name of justice, and in the name of Christianity, to come forward as one man to secure the blessings of freedom, free labor, and free territory, to themselves and their posterity. We call upon them to exert themselves to the utmost to bring the present combat to a successful and happy issue.

It was also Resolved, That a deputation be appointed to present the above resolutions to Col. Fremont, and that such deputation consist of:
David Morgan, Esq., of Pittston;
Rev. J. P. Harris, Minersville; Rev. J. B. Cook, Danville; David Levi, Esq., Plymouth; Mr. Richard Edwards of Pottsville.

Signed on behalf of Convention,
D. Morgan, President.

The Mobile (Ala.) Tribune, in speaking of Percy Walker's defense, says:

"It is known to our readers that we have quietly advocated the essential principles of the American party.— To that principle we still hold. Nothing that we have seen shows that that principle is unjust, or improper, or offensive to any man, either of foreign or native birth. Here among us within the South, this is now essentially the division line of parties. No man here professes to desire to proscribe religion. No man here desires to renege the Missouri Compromise, or repeal the Kansas-Nebraska act.— And these are the great elements of both parties. The Fillmore party among us is in favor of the Kansas-Nebraska act, and in opposition to the restoration of the Missouri Compromise; and the Buchanan party is as far as we can see, entirely in harmony with it. What, then, divides the two, and prevents them from standing side by side, and making a united front to meet the emergency which now seems to be impending over us? That is what we cannot see. It is a good thing to prevent an improper foreign influence among us. But the great danger of that is remote—not present, like the danger of Black Republicanism. We may prepare for the one without detrimment to the final success of the other. The one is present, and the only way to meet it is to show the North that all other matters of national policy are deferred by the South.

"Mr. Walker is an honest man—is a thoughtful, observant man—is a man fit for the high place which he occupies. When he tells us and shows us that there is danger—and that he knows it—and he gives proof of it—what reason, on his antecedents, is there for any of us to doubt his word? What motive is there for him to tell us what is not true?"

Resolution

Proposing Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth, That the following amendments are proposed to the constitution of the commonwealth, in accordance with the provisions of the ten-haricle thereof.

FIRST AMENDMENT.
There shall be an additional article to said constitution to be designated as article eleven, as follows:—

ARTICLE XI.

OF PUBLIC DEBTS.

Sec. 1. The state may contract debts, to supply casual deficits or failures in revenues, or to meet expenses not otherwise provided for; but the aggregate amount of such debts direct and contingent, whether contracted by virtue of one or more acts of the general assembly, or at different periods of time, shall never exceed seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars; and the money arising from the creation of such debts, shall be applied to the purpose for which it was obtained, or to repay the debts so contracted, and to no other purpose whatever.

Sec. 2. In addition to the above limited power the state may contract debts by capital investment, to suppress insurrection, defend the state in war, or to redeem the present outstanding indebtedness of the state; but the money arising from the contracting of such debts, shall be applied to the purpose for which it was raised, or to repay such debts, and to no other purpose whatever.

Sec. 3. Except the debts above specified, in sections one and two of this article, no debt shall be contracted, by or on behalf of the state. Sec. 4. To provide for the payment of the present debt, and any additional debt contracted thereafter, the legislature shall, at its first session, after the adoption of this amendment, create a sinking fund, which shall be sufficient to pay the accruing interest on such debt, and annually to reduce the principal thereof by a sum not less than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, which sinking fund shall consist of the net annual income of the public works, from time to time owned by the state, or the proceeds of the sale of the same, or any part thereof, and of the income or proceeds of sales of lands owned by the state, together with other funds, or resources, that may be designated, by law.

The said sinking fund may be increased, from time to time, by a sum not less than the taxes, or other revenues of the state, not required for the ordinary and current expenses of government, and unless in case of war, invasion or insurrection, no part of the said sinking fund shall be used or applied otherwise than in extinguishment of the public debt, until the amount of such debt is reduced below the sum of five millions of dollars.

Sec. 5. The credit of the commonwealth shall not in any manner, or event, be pledged or loaned to, any individual, company, corporation, or association, for the purpose of the commonwealth hereafter become a joint owner, or stockholder, in any company, association, or corporation.

Sec. 6. The commonwealth shall not assume the debt, or any part thereof, of any county, city, borough, or township, or of any corporation or association, unless such debt shall have been contracted to enable the state to repel invasion, suppress domestic insurrection, defend itself in time of war, or to assist the state in the discharge of any portion of its present indebtedness.

Sec. 7. The legislature shall not authorize any county, city, borough, township, or incorporated district, by vote of its citizens, or otherwise, to become a stockholder, in any company, corporation, or association, or to obtain money for loan its credit, or for any other purpose, unless the same be for the incorporation, association, inclusion, or party of the commonwealth.

ARTICLE XII.

OF NEW COUNTIES.

No county shall be divided by a line cutting off over one-tenth of its population, (either to form a new county or otherwise,) without the express assent of such county, by a vote of the electors thereof; nor shall any new county be established, containing less than four hundred square miles.

THIRD AMENDMENT.

From section two of the first article of the constitution, strike out the words, "of the city of Philadelphia, and of each county, respectively;" and insert the words, "of the several counties;" from section seven, same article, strike out the words, "neither the city of Philadelphia nor any," and insert in lieu thereof the words, "and no;" and strike out section four, same article, and in lieu thereof insert the following:

"Sec. 4. In the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and in every seventh year thereafter, representatives to the number of one hundred shall be appointed, and distributed equally, throughout the state, by districts, in proportion to the number of taxable inhabitants in the several parts thereof; except that any county containing at least three thousand five hundred taxable, may be allowed a separate representation; but no more than three counties shall be joined, and no county shall be divided, in the formation of a district. Any city containing a sufficient number of taxable to entitle it to at least two representatives, shall have a separate representation assigned it, and shall be divided into convenient districts of contiguous territory of equal taxable population as near as may be, each of which districts shall elect one representative."

At the end of section seven, same article, insert these words, "the city of Philadelphia shall be divided into single equal districts of contiguous territory as nearly equal in taxable population as possible, but no ward shall be divided in the formation thereof."
The legislature, at its first session, after the adoption of this amendment, shall divide the city of Philadelphia into "single districts" and representative districts, in the manner above provided; such districts to remain unchanged until the appropriation in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four.

TO BE SECTION XVI, ARTICLE 11.
The legislature shall have the power to alter, revoke, or annul any charter of incorporation heretofore conferred by or under any special, or general law, whenever in their opinion it may be injurious to the citizens of the commonwealth; in such manner, however that no injustice shall be done to the corporations.
