

HOME MATTERS.

The Coudersport Fremont Club, will meet this (Thursday) evening, at the usual time and place. A general attendance is desired, as this is the last meeting of the Club before the election, and business of importance will be transacted. Glee Clubs will be in attendance.

We hope our friends in this County will send us in the election returns of their districts the night of the election, in order that we may give the general result of the county in the next number. We will be at Glassmire's Hotel all night to receive them. Couriers could be dispatched from each district immediately after the ballots are counted, and the result is known.

Woop WANTED.—We would like to have a few loads of dry Maple or other good hard Store Wood. Will some of our subscribers who are indebted to us please take notice? Our stove is calculated for 22 inch wood. We would inform Mr. Luce, of Hebron, that we are now in great need of the lead he promised us.

The present term of Coudersport Academy will close on Thursday the 13th of Nov. next; and in the evening of that day the annual exhibition of the Academy will take place at the Court House. Exercises to commence at half past 6 o'clock. The public generally are respectfully invited to attend. J. HENDRICK, Principal. Coudersport, Oct. 27, 1856.

The Winter Term of Coudersport Academy will commence on Monday, the 5th of December next. There still remains a few rooms in the Academy for students who wish to board themselves. Board can also be found in good families at reasonable charges. Those who wish for information may inquire of the Trustees or of the Principal.

A QUARTERLY MEETING of the Coudersport Library Association will be held at the house of the Librarian on Saturday next, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

There are a large number of students in attendance for the present term at the Coudersport Academy, who design to teach the coming winter. Those who wish to procure the services of such as are qualified for the duties of a teacher, may apply to the Principal, either personally or by writing. He will take pleasure in answering any questions relative to the interests of our Common Schools.

Rev. J. HENDRICK, Principal of the Coudersport Academy, has been appointed County Superintendent of Common Schools, in this county vice Mr. Pratt, resigned. The appointment could not have been more worthy, or satisfactorily bestowed.

We have received from the publishers Messrs Fowler and Wells, 305 Broadway N. Y. a copy of the "Illustrated Pictorial Almanac" for 1857. It contains much interesting information. Price 6 cents per copy. Twenty-five copies for $1.00.

Three of the released Treason Prisoners, from Kansas, are now surging the States for Fremont.—Gov. Robinson and Geo. W. Smith are in this State, and Gaius Jenkins in Indiana. They are working nobly for the cause of Fremont and Dayton.

We are now having warm pleasant weather, such as is usually termed Indian Summer.—Conneautville Courier.

Well, Mr. Courier, you have the advantage of us, most decidedly, for we have been enjoying all other kinds of weather here for the last two weeks. Please express any surplus of "warm pleasant weather" you may have to us, and we will pay the charges. Saturday it rained some here, and frosty nights are very prevalent in this region. We envy our Crawford County friends their Indian Summer. Perhaps the result of the election has had some effect in producing the weather you talk about. 15,000 Republican majority in a democratic County is enough to make "warm, pleasant weather."

COMMUNICATION.

For the Journal.

When the administration of the government of these United States fails to be the exponent of the intelligence and conscience of the majority, their only remedy is to change it for one which will. To apply this remedy, the intelligent and the conscientious are now marshaling. To prevent its application, the corrupt of all classes in politics, and of all sects in religion, are arraying themselves with all the ingenuity which satanic skill can invent. The issue in many minds, is still doubtful. For one, I still believe that God and the Republicans are in a large majority, and that those in the North who have sold themselves to the yoke and bloody South, will yet have reason to thank God for raising up the Republican party. Never in the history of the American people, have they been called upon to act with greater decision and promptitude than now. Former developments of the slave power have furnished sufficient evidence of its rapaciousness; but its last exhibit furnishes us proof of its capacity to swallow Kansas at once, and yet have room enough for Nebraska, Washington, and Utah. What an opportunity for freemen to prove themselves worthy of the name! And is it possible that there are those who will misimprove it? Small threats or promises, bribes or friendships, be suffered to interpose between an honest conviction of duty and its faithful performance? Ah! can Christian men remember those who are in bonds as bound with them, and still vote for him whom the oppressors unite to support? I know that a few professedly Christian men try to think that the pseudo-Democratic nominee is against slavery-extension; but he who can believe such an inconsistency, must certainly have the capacity to believe the Devil a saint of the purest water. What! James Buchanan in favor of free territory remaining free! Tell it not to the South; for she would laugh at your credulity. Suffer not yourselves to be deceived; for the deception may be fatal. Can you, dare you go from your closets or family altars, and vote with the slaveholders, and for them? Many of you voted for Franklin Pierce, and how often have you regretted it! Your moral sense has been shocked—outraged—and even those making no pretensions to piety, who voted for him, charge themelves with folly and wickedness for so doing. Oh! pause then, long enough to learn a lesson of wisdom from what you have already suffered. Do you say the case is different now? That Buchanan is not Pierce, nor even like him? He is like him, only a great deal more so. If not, why was he preferred, by the South, to Pierce? The fact is, Pierce, in commencing the work given him to do, became so near exhausted, that the South knew he would not survive its completion, and therefore, a hale, old "Back" fattened at the public crib, was harnessed in, and in the South—the whole South—is considered competent to finish the job. You are eloquent in condemning Pierce's administration, though in all respects just what the South wished it to be; and yet will you indulge the purpose of voting for Buchanan who is pledged to go on with it? Where, brother in Christ, is your consistency? And how is it, why is it, that you cannot see the fearful responsibility that is upon you? Should not this government represent the intelligence and the conscience of the people? You answer, yes. Does it now represent these qualities? You answer, no. Have you any good reason to think that it would, under the administration of James Buchanan, controlled by his covenant with the South? If you have, you must vote accordingly. But if you have not, I charge you, as you shall answer to posterity and to God, stay your hand. God speed the right! Yours fraternally, R. L. STRIWELL.

N. B. WILLIS, THE POET, FOR FREMONT.—The Y. Y. Evening Post prints an extract from a private letter written by N. P. Willis, who says he never voted in his life, but who now goes for Fremont. He says: "But with the events of the last year or two, and with all the intellect of the country at work upon the great question at issue it would be hard to remain longer blind or insensible. And yet, so dodgy are political theories, so insecure are party platforms, (and, above all, so often may the changing tide of events require present decision with little or no reference to party theory or party 'platform') that, it seems to me, we should look most if not only to the quality of the man—what our candidate is, by nature and culture, rather than to what his party profess, or his 'platform promises.' You see, in this last remark, the ground upon which I shall give my 'virgin vote' for Fremont. He is one of those rare men, sure to do well in all emergencies—not only with a brain lofty enough at the mainmast, and a heart sound and true enough in the hold, but with that deep keel of common sense which has regulated the perilous navigation by all the pilots of the world, (the most signal quality of Washington, among others,) and which alone can insure true sailing and no capsizing, in these stormy times. Fremont is both jolly-minded and wise—both incorruptible and sagacious—both fearlessly independent and modestly deferential. In fact, it seems to me he was born for the crisis on which the country is now balancing, and that he has had, by the overruling providence of God) precisely the training and discipline to fit him for his work. That he will be our next President I have no doubt; but I mean to do all in my power, heretofore, to add my grain of sand to what I trust will be a mountain of a majority."

The Prospect in Pennsylvania. [Special dispatch to the N. Y. Daily Times.] PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, Oct. 23.—The harmony of feeling between the Fremont and Fillmore wings of the opposition increases, as the evidence of the intended treachery of the Fillmore leaders accumulates. It is announced to-day that Hon. Jacob R. Brown, Hon. Henry D. Moore, Judge Allison and A. Flomerfelt, Esq., electors on the Fillmore ticket, are openly advocating the joint ticket. George Washington Read, has been invited to address the Council of the Twenty-second ward, which is unanimously in favor of a Union electoral ticket.
