HOME MATTERS.

We are greatly in need of money at present, and would be glad to have our patrons send us a little of the "material." Our town subscribers will do well to call in and see that their names are transferred from our private "black list" to our "white list."

We this week publish the Sheriff's Sales, Court Proclamation and Trial List, for the December Term. It will be seen that Sheriff Stebbins has not been very severe on delinquents in his last days of office. Mr. Taggart will be sworn into office this session of Court.

The elections in this place on Tuesday passed off very quietly. In the evening a leading Democrat and a sanguine Fremonter, got up a bet of $50 on each of the following States: Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan—making in all $400. Who'll win?

Our merchants are all purchasing Fall and Winter stocks of Goods. Our friends Charley Jones, (Jones, Mann and Jones.) Ed. Jones, (Jones and Smith,) and D. E. Olmsted have just returned, and all report fine lots coming from New York. Our friend Nich. Schoomaker, started after his share Tuesday, after he voted.

The present term of Coudersport Academy will close on Thursday the 27th of Nov. next; and in the evening of that day the annual exhibition of the Academy will take place at the Court House. Exercises to commence at half past 6 o'clock. The public generally are respectfully invited to attend. J. Hendrick, Principal.

Coudersport, Oct. 27, 1856.

☞ A serious and painful accident occurred in Harrison Township, on the 14th inst. A company of men were engaged in threshing for Squire Warner when Wm. J. Latta slipped on the platform, his right hand was caught in the cylinder, and his arm instantly torn from his body. Dr. Masten was immediately called in who found it necessary to amputate the remainder of the mangled limb about two inches from the shoulder joint, which he skillfully did, and the Major is fast recovering. Major Latta is about 65 years of age and one of the early settlers of Harrison Township. He gladly bore the operation without a murmur, and with a fortitude seldom witnessed.—Patriot.

LITERARY GREETINGS

Harper for November, is a splendid number, and as it is the last one of the Semi-annual Volume for 1856, we have a word to say to the readers of the Journal about it. It is needless for us to assert that it is one of the oldest and best conducted Periodicals extant for family reading, for that is a fact already too well known to need corroboration; but it has many readers who could not be prevailed upon to do without it, and therefore they should see that their subscriptions are renewed at least one month before they are to run out, in order that they may not be left in the offing, when they do run out. They will thus save themselves and the publishers much inconvenience. But in order that new subscribers may know the terms &c., we have transferred their Prospectus to our columns, to which we invite the attention of "Harpers" friends in this section. It will be found, (and we hope read,) on the 4th page of this number of our paper. The Magazines may be found at Mrs. M. W. Mann's Book Store, in this place, together with all the choice periodicals of the day. Give us your ☞ Brothers Harper.

"The Nation" is the title of a fine new, quarto literary weekly paper, the first number of which came to hand this week. It bears the stamp of ability and neatness, and the fact that the celebrated authoress, Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth, is one of the editors, is alone ample guaranty of its success. It is printed on fine book-paper, with new type, and proposes to furnish at least two original engravings in each number. But in order that our readers may see what its aims and objects are for themselves, we refer them to its Prospectus on our 4th page. We bespeak for it a handsome subscription list in this section. Crofut and Bigelow of Philadelphia are the Publishers. We shall look with friendly longing for your weekly visits, friend Bigelow.

Messrs. Crafut and Bigelow are also publishing a monthly newspapet, entitled "The Printers Register," devoted chiefly to the welfare of the Craft; but containing also much interesting miscellaneous matter. Price 50 cents a year. Those who would know something of the importance of the craft should patronize that sheet.

Messrs. Lay and Brother, of Philadelphia, have just published "The Newspaper Record," a book containing 200 large 8vo pages of the most reliable Newspaper and Periodical statistics, including a history of the art from its introduction, and also a complete list of Newspapers in the United States, Canadas and Great Britain. See advertisement in another Column.

"Life Illustrated," No. 1, Vol. 3, new series, comes to us this week looking better than ever—it always looks well, and reads well—we always look for its weekly visits with high expectations of meeting with a good treat, and we are never disappointed. It is truly what it claims to be, "a first class weekly newspaper, devoted to News, Literature' Science, and the Arts; to entertainment, improvement and progress, and designed to encourage a spirit of hope, manliness, self-reliance and activity among the people." Price $2.00 per year for single copies; $8 00 for five, $10 for seven; $15 for twelve; $17 for fifteen; and $20 for twenty copies. Now is the time to subscribe. Address Fowler and Wells, 308 Broadway, N. Y.

We are well off for Almanacs for the coming year already, Messrs. Fowler and Wells, of New York, have forwarded us a copy of their Water Cure Illustrated) Almanac for 1857, which contains many interesting hydropathic articles, together with a large amount of miscellaneous matter. Price 6 cents—twenty-five copies for $1.00.

Rain.—We are having the usual amount of rain, wind and mud, at this season. Tuesday it rained, of course, in order to give the defeated party a reasonable excuse for their failure. In this section the Democrats have the benefit of the excuse. Snooks says that heretofore election day has generally rained Democrats, but this time the Republicans rained during the reigning.

P. S.—Wednesday, morning, we got up and found the ground covered with snow—the second of the season.

Separating the Sexes in Schools.

On this point, Mr. Stow, a celebrated Glasgow teacher, uses the following language:—

"The youth of both sexes of our Scottish peasantry have been educated together, and as a whole, the Scots are the most moral people on the face of the globe. Elsewhere in England is given separately, and we have never heard from practical men that any benefit has arisen from this arrangement. Some influential men there mourn over the popular prejudice on this point. In Dublin a larger number of girls turn out badly, who have been educated alone till they arrive at the age of maturity, than of those who have been otherwise brought up; the separation of the sexes in youth is productive of fearful evils. It is stated on good authority, that of those educated in the schools of convents, apart from boys, the great majority go wrong within a month after being let louse into society and meeting the other sex. They cannot it is said, resist the slightest compliment of flattery. The separation is intended to keep them strictly moral, but this unnatural seclusion actually generates the very principles desired to be avoided.

We may repeat that it is impossible to raise girls intellectually as high without boys as with them; and it is impossible to raise boys morally as high without the presence of girls. The girls morally elevate the boys, and the boys intellectually elevate the girls. But more than this, girls themselves are morally elevated by the presence of boys, and boys are intellectually elevated by the presence of girls. Girls brought up with boys are more positively moral, and boys brought up in school with girls are more positively intellectual by the softening influence of the female character.

In the Normal Seminary at Glasgow, the most beneficial effects have resulted from the moral natural course. Boys and girls from the age of two and three years to fourteen and fifteen, have been trained in the same class-room, galleries, and play-grounds, without impropriety, and they are never separated except at needle-work."

Man Lost Upon the White Mountains.—Mr. Benjamin Chandler, of Wilmington, Del., an old man seventy-five years of age, left his home the fourth of August last for the White Mountains. He was traced to the Glen House and from that place up to Mount Washington, since when he has not been heard from. About the time when he might have been upon the mountains, a voice was heard, at 11 o'clock at night at the Crawford House, and the sound apparently coming from Mount Webster, some of the guides proceeded with lanterns in search of it, but upon arriving up on the mountain it was lost. It is supposed that he may have fallen over a precipice or have lost the path. His son and a friend have been in search of him the past week, but have given him up as lost. He was subject to mental aberration, but at the time he left home was supposed to be well in this respect.
