HOME MATTERS.

T. H. JOHNSON, the Artist is in town again. See his card in our advertising colums.

☞ Take good care of your cows this winter, and they will pay you back with interest next Summer.

REMEMBER Johnson's varieties at the Old Court house on Thursday evening, Dec. 18th; mirth, music and instruction. See large bills, doors open at half past 6; admission 25 cts.

☞ Good fresh butter sells in this village quick for twenty-five cents per pound. This ought to induce every farmer to give his cows a warm stable, and plenty of good feed. It will pay now, and will doubly pay next Summer.

☞ The blessings of Temperance have been manifest in this county for several years. For the last six months there has been a tendency in the wrong direction. Blackberry wine having the qualities of whisky, has been sold more freely in this village than is to our credit. We think a few convictions for violating the laws in this respect, would have a salutary effect.

For Christmas and New Years.

The Mammoth Pictorial Double BROTHER JONATHAN is already in the field, and is filled, as usual, with large and spirited Pictures for the Christmas Holidays. Published by B. H. DAY, 48 Beekman street, New York. Send 12 cents (postage stamps or money) and you will get this elegant picture sheet free of postage. Nine are sent post paid for One Dollar; or Eleven, if not post paid.

☞ The New York Ledger, the great family weekly paper, for which the most popular writers in the country contribute, has now attained the extraordinary circulation of One Hundred and Ninety Thousand copies, and subscriptions are continually pouring in. See the Ledger's advertisement in another column.

THIEVES AT IT.—On Saturday night last, some thief or thieves nearly a barrel of fine pork, steaks and hams from H. F. Gassmire. We tracked them as far as his large gate, when the direction of the foot marks were no longer visible. Meat seems to be the most popular article of trade among the thieves of this neighborhood, and we would advise our merchants to have an eye on those barrels of Pork lying on the side-walks—some of them might "come out missing," some morning. Charley, take heed.

Literary Greetings.

THE Springville, Erie Co., N. Y. Herald, has been sold to Rev. J. B. Saxe by its former proprietor, Mr. E. D. Webster. The Herald is a neat little country paper, six years old, and is the first successful paper published in that village. Mr. Webster has some friends in this section who will be sorry to hear of his retirement from the Herald. We wish both men and the new proprietor unlimited success.

THE McKean Citizen is for sale. F. A. Allen, has seen enough of the "elephant," ycleped "newspaper publishing," and desires to free himself of its responsibilities, troubles and trials, for the purpose of turning his talents to the more congenial pursuit of teaching the "young ideas how to shoot." We hope some good Republican printer will take the Citizen and aid the cause in that county. It is the only paper published in McKean County.

WE call the attention of our readers to the Prospectus of the Missouri Democrat, in another part of our paper. That paper is the only one in St. Louis that has dared to use its influence in favor of the Free State settlers of Kansas. It is, in fact, a pioneer in the cause of driving the "curse" of Slavery out of Missouri. The friends of Freedom in the East should encourage it in its noble purpose.

THOSE desiring to have a file of the proceedings of the present Congress and the next Session, will find it to their advantage to read the Prospectus of The Globe, on the fourth page of this paper.

WE this week publish the Prospectus of the Home Journal, edited by N. P. Willis and Geo. P. Morris, both of them first class literary men. The Journal is one of the most popular literary and family newspapers now published in the United States, and we recommend it to our readers cheerfully. The terms will be found in another column.

WILL the publishers of the Nation accomodate us with No. 4 of their paper to complete our file.

HOW does it come that we have not received the December number of Harpers' Magazine? We do not like the idea of going without its monthly visit, so send it along, Brothers' Harper.

Sister Ann also should send along her Illustrated New Monthly. Did you not see our former reminder?

RETURNED.—Mr. George Buffum, a brother of David, who was murdered in Kansas, has returned to his father's in Salem. His mind is still filled with the horrors he endured in consequence of his brother's death by the hand of a border ruffian, and can scarcely fix itself on any other subject.—Salem Register.

☞ W. Gilmore Simms, of South Carolina, and the most accomplished scholar in all the Slave States, was invited to lecture before several literary societies in the North. He accepted the invitation, and chose for his subject, the Vindication of the History of South Carolina. He commenced his course in New York to a full house; but his lecture was so full of insulting attacks on Northern men, and especially abusive of Charles Sumner and Massachusetts, that at his second lecture only eight persons attended. The rebuke was so severe that he abandoned all his other appointments. This is an encouraging sign. When even New York fogies will not countenance attacks on the North from a rich slave holder, we may be sure of a good time coming.

☞ We learn from various sources, that sufficient food and clothing has been received by the relief committee in Kansas, to prevent destitution among the sufferers there; and that every free State men will leave. This will be good news to all human persons.

☞ SPECIAL NOTICE.—The subscribers respectfully inform their old customers, and the public generally, that they have abandoned the credit system. After a thorough trial, they are fully satisfied with a non-paying system. Hereafter our business will be conducted strictly upon the ready pay system. All who wish to trade cheaper than ever before in Coudersport, will please give us a call.

The highest market price will be paid for all kinds of produce in exchange for goods.

New Series for 1857.

THE HOME JOURNAL.

EDITED BY MORRIS & WILLIS.

We have the pleasure to return our most grateful thanks to the readers of the HOME JOURNAL, for the greatly enlarged audience with which we have been honored in 1856, and to offer our respects, and the promise of our continued services for the year before us. With the privileged hearing that we have now secured, at THE FIRESIDE of our whole vast country, it is only natural that we should feel additional responsibility, while, at the same time, we gird up our energies for new varieties of industry and enterprise.

The paper for the coming year is to be printed on NEW TYPE, and its pre-eminence of clearness and legibility, so valuable to the eye and so needful for a family paper, is to be still more marked.

Our contents for 1857, we need scarcely say, will be as varied as the life with which we keep pace. Time and the ever-changing World are the great baskets out of which we pick Wisdom and Amusement as we go—the exhaustless variety of event and novelty assuring, to us and to our readers, exhaustless themes and subjects of interest.

The Editors will still continue to devote their time and abilities exclusively to the Home Journal.

N. P. WILLIS proposes in addition to his usual pictures of home life and rural family sympathies and interests, out-doors and in, to give more of the

which his experience has enabled him to write, and which have been so widely quoted; and, also, a series of

PORTRAITS OF LIVING CHARACTERS.

GEORGE P. MORRIS, besides his usual constant labors upon the several departments of the paper, will make it the wood on which to pruhider the first new suggested by the history and events of the passing time.

T. B. ALDRICH has in preparation a PROSE TALE, to be entitled and this will be published in numbers, from week to week.

Besides the labors of the Editors, the Home Journal will contain:

—The communications of a brilliant list of original contributors; the core and history of new publications; the floating stories, brief romances, sparkling wit, fun and anecdote, of the day; poetry, pathos and romance; the gossip and news of Parisian journals; personal sketches of the conspicuous characters of the time; the stirring scenes of daily life; the chronicle of news for the Ladies; the Fashions; the valuable information, as to statistics, discoveries and great events; criticisms of current literature; a daguerreotype gathered, to in ures, the reader, from the World's constant overflow of action and intellect.

We need not remind our readers, perhaps, that we have correspondents wholly unsurpassed in the society of New York, and that, through these genial and refined mediums, we keep them apprised of all that occurs, new, charming or instructive, in the best circles of gay time.

For the health, the moral improvement and the religious culture of families, we watchfully gather every new suggestion and carefully chronicle all signs of Progress and Unity.

By unceasing vigilance and industry, and by skill acquired in long and successful practice, we hope still to keep the HOME JOURNAL unsurpassed as the best family Newspaper in the world.

TERMS.—For one copy, $2; for three copies, $5—or one copy for three years, $5—always in advance. Address

An old, retired Indian Doctor, while among the different tribes of Indians, found out their great Secret in curing all the above diseases, in a very short time, with a few simple roots; and as he wants to do as much good as possible, he will send to any one who wishes to have them, all the above receipts, with full particulars how to make and use the medicine, in all the above diseases, for 12½ cents—stamps or paying for the advertisement. Every family should know these secrets while they have the chance. Address DOCTOR MORGAN, Lancaster, Pa. 9:31-1t
