THE JURNAL.

COUDERSPORT, JANUARY, 22, 1857.

HOME MATTERS.

WE are under, obligations to Mr. Souther of the Senate, and Mr. Olmsted of the State Department, for Legislative Documents, for which they will please accept our thanks.

Wa would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the "Old Regulator," in an ther column. June. Mesers. Clark and Phillips seem to understand the true secret of business success, and as Mr. Phillips remarked to us when paying us in advance, "it pays to advertise."

Tax weather in this section is what we call pretty fair winter. We have about 14 or 16 inches of hard, dry snow. and an atmosphere that defies anything in the line of common cold weather. By the bye, the Journal came very near being " cut off" this week, for want of wood; but by a systematic huying a little here, and borrowing an I begging adittle there, we are enabled to "come out," though a little behind time. We find that it has no effect upon our subscribers to advertise for wood, even for three weeks in succession. We now ask for money to buy it with.

Literary Greetings.

LOVE AFTER MARRIAGE," and Thirteal other choice Nouveletts of the Heart, by Mrs. Carolina Lea Hantz., author of "Lindu," "Bens," "Planter's Northern Bride," Marcus Wareland." "Robert Graham," ac., &c. T. B. Peerson, No 102 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Publisher.

The mere announcement that the above book is in press, and will be published on Saturday. January 31st. inst, is all that is needed to insure a large number of orders from the reading patrons of the Journal. The weitings of Mrs. Hentz are always popu lar, and we do not wonder at their popularity when we consider that she is true to nature, almost too true, and get she relieves the reader's mind from the monotony of nature by vivid. etcgant and classic conceptions of her powerful inventive genius. A critic anys "Mrs. Hentz seems to have dip ped her pen in the fountains of the human heart; and with a wizard wand laid bare the various and complicating passions of their nature." The back is furnished complete in one large du odecimo volume, neatly bound in cloth. for $1,25; or in two volumes, paper cover, for $1.00. On temitting the price of either edition it will be sent to any part of the United States, free of pustage.

Mosthly, for February is already on our table, and full of choice reading in secondance with the taste of its editress. Mrs. Ann S. Stephens . "Lost Jewels," the production of her own pen, is an exciting and interesting story, full of Common Pleas, in the Borough of Conderaplot and interest, yet not very strange next, and to continue one week.

Notice is therefore hereby given to the well-commenced novellette of military and social life. The Ma :azine is only. $1,50 per annum; published at 126 Nassau St., N. Y.

the Journal, just commencing its career at Wellsville, N. Y. Mr. R. O. Shaut, formerly of the Free Press, is its editor and Proprietor, 'From the large quantity of advertisements it sports, we can safely predict for it a long and profitable career. We owe you a "reciprocity!" friend Shaut, and shall avail ourselves of the first opportunity to "resent."

TO FANNY PERN'S ONE MILLION The MUSICAGE Edition of String's THE BOSTON TELEGRAPH A FOR 1857.

E take great pleasure in announcing to our friends, that we have uon completed such arrangements as will greatly add to the in crest of our daily and waskly paper, and make our journal not only the tormost, but also the most widely circulated Reublican journal in New England

The Telegraph Newspaper Company have purchased the Beston Daity and Weekly Chonicle. The two weeklies have stready been united; and the two dailies will be united and published as one paper after this date—January 1, 1857)—every morning as the Daity Chronicle, and twic every evening as the Evening Telegraph. C. C. Hazewell, Esq., who has been the principal writer for the Chrenicle. will be connected with the larges, best and most extensive emertations and others who have been emunited papers, and others who have been em-ployed on that paper will be retained. This arrangement, with the writers and rejecters heretofore employed on the Telegraph, will give the paper an editorial force alto ether superior to that of any other journal in New England, and equalted only by two or three in New York.

The a er will continue to be what it has been, he unswerving advocate of Republican principles, the constant opponent of every scheme to extend or natio alize the institution of Slavery, and the e mest supporter of every me sure or influence calculated to promote the well being of society, and remove the cause by which me and in inners are demor-sized. What the paper his been in these respects it will continue to be.

At the same time we shall give less impor tance to p ries and cliques, then to principles, and be much less cereful to serve politicians, than to sup ort those ideas and influences, which, in our judgement the times demand, and without which, neither parti s nor politi-cia s deserve support. We in end to pre-serve our independence and be entirely free in our work, doing what seems to us right, and supporting such men and measures as are best calculated to carry out our principles. It is unnecessary for our readers, to add that we now belong to the Republican party, and that we shall a hero to it whi e it adheres to the principles which it proclaimed when it was organized at thiude, his.
