SOME of the merchants of Lock Haven are still selling coal oil at forty cents a gallon. But then, there are only two merchants at Lock Haven.

THE post-offices at Whetlain and Trouton, in Clinton county, have been discontinued.

NEARLY every exchange that comes to our notice contains notices regarding revivals of religion in its vicinity. Over fifty notices have been received from the M. E. Church at Flemington, in Clinton Co. Twenty have professed conversion in the English Lutheran Church at Lock Haven; and still others throughout the county.

WE understand that hereafter all the churches in this village will hold their prayer-meetings on Thursday nights.

GEORGE VanWegen lauded five and one-half cords of hard wood, at one load, into town on Tuesday. That's "business."

IF there were more cows and fewer sewing machines in this County, we think the general prosperity would be increased. Perhaps it is a mere prejudice of ours, but we cannot help entertain the opinion that a cow is more useful in ordinary families, than either a lightning rod or a sewing machine.

THE burning of the Two-Mile steam saw mill here, Port Allegany, last week, was a loss to the entire community. It was entirely new and had but only got into full running order. There was no insurance on the property.

IT is reported that Mr. Dennis Hill has succeeded to invest in real estate in our borough. We hope it may be so, and as he has already made several quite extensive purchases, it looks very much like it.

THERE is said to be a good deal of business revivalling at Port Allegany.

THE Harrington Brothers have an older snapper and churr at the Forest side to-night.

MEMORANDUM, no Court next week on Thursday, the 19th.

WHAT does the Wellsville Free Press say of the following sentence clipped from the columns of one of our examinations: "The following account of the suicide of John Johnson, a lad thirteen years of age, near Hillsdale, near Wellsville."

ON Sunday morning the mercury stood at zero for the first time this winter at Coudersport. It was six below at twelve in the morning. We are not so cold here as it is elsewhere, for the benefit of our readers that we had several days of slight frosts.

THE CORRESPONDENT of the Ohio State writes from Hillsdale, N. Y., that J. H. Salisbury, the bitter has fallen ill.

WE have a "pen-dippers'" society at Lock Haven—literary, of course—composed of girls from eight to fourteen years of age.

WE are going to have a hard-time at the Simmons' Opera House in Philadelphia on the 16th inst. As we received no invitation we shall say nothing about it.

fortune to enjoy the hospitality of Mr. Kinney many years ago and feel it a pleasure to heartily endorse all that is said by him in the following extract from the Miner:

From Port Allegany we "intimated" our way in a cutter on bare ground up to the Annin Creek settlement. This community has two strong church organizations, Baptist and Methodist, and two church buildings, and we venture to say there is not a community in the county in which so large a majority of the inhabitants are church-going christian people. At the present time more than usual religious interest is awakened and promising revival meetings are being held every evening by Rev. P. Ck. There was a large attendance at the afternoon services and a deep religious feeling manifested. But at the evening meeting the house was crowded, and as our good Methodist brethren would say, it was a refreshing season. Nine revivals of prayer, and interest continued to increase so that it was difficult to close the services. We understand that these meetings are to be continued until the interest remains unquenched.

When we returned home, fully persuaded in our mind that the life of a Methodist itinerant, though full of hardships and poorly paid, must be full of blessings to those called to the service. Of course we stopped with "Uncle" Niles Kinney while at Annin. He and his family, full of generous christian works, Uncle Niles is a living example of the nobility of a christian character.

A DONATION party will be given for the benefit of Rev. H. W. Congdon at the house of George Nelson Esq., on Wednesday evening the eighteenth instant.
