FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the Atlantic.

Another attempt to Assassinate the Queen of Spain.

The steamship Atlantic, from Liverpool, with dates to the 11th inst., both from Liverpool and London, reached her wharf at New York at 6½ o'clock, on the morning of the 26th ult.

She encountered very heavy weather during the greater portion of her passage.

The Asia arrived at Liverpool on Saturday evening, after a passage of ten days and twenty hours.

The political intelligence, though interesting, presents nothing striking or important.

The Bank of England has reduced the rates for gold bot standard.

Among the passengers by the Atlantic, is W. B. Dinsmore, Esq., bearer of despatches from London, and W. H. Babbit, Esq., bearer of despatches from Paris.

ENGLAND.

The most flattering accounts are received from the Austrian gold regions.—Large supplies of gold were soon expected from that quarter.

In the House of Commons, on Monday, the 9th inst., Lord John Russul introduced the new Reform Bill. Its main points are: The borough franchise is to be reduced from ten pounds to five pounds; the county from fifty pounds to ten pounds. In Ireland the county franchise is to be reduced from eight pounds to five pounds.—New class voters are to be created out of those who pay forty shillings per annum direct taxes. Assessed taxes or income tax property qualifications for members is to be abolished, and sixty-seven small boroughs are to be enlarged by drafting from the inhabitants of the neighborhood.

Lord John Russel also proposes to abolish the oaths now taken by the Roman Catholic Dissenters, and the sole obstruction which now prevents the admission of Jews to seats in Parliament.

The Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's treasury, have authorized the admission of Colt's fire arms, intended for the instruction of the workmen in England, and for sale to the officers in Her Majesty's service.

In the House of Lords on the 9th, the Earl of Granville, in answer to Lord Strangford, stated that Lord Palmerston had sent no reply to the remonstrance of certain foreign powers as to the political refugees residing in this country, but believed that had the noble Lord remained in office, he would have given a similar reply to that which the Earl of Granville had forwarded.

In the Reform Bill all mention of the ballot is studiously avoided.

Lord John Russell's speech upon the bill was immediately followed by a very animated debate, in which several leading members of all parties took a prominent part.

Mr. Hume and H. Berkley indignantly complained of the omission of the vote by ballot, and the latter asserted that during the progress of the bill he had moved to insert the clause.

Mr. Bright admitted that though there were some defects in the bill, many of its provisions would be hailed with delight.

FRANCE.

PARIS, Monday, Feb. 9th.—The President yesterday paid a visit to Versailles.—He went in a close chariot, attended by an escort of Cuirassiers. The object of his visit was to address the officers of the garrison, who were reported to be entirely disaffected.

Rumors had been circulated that it was intended to place two hundred officers on half pay in consequence of their Orleanist leaning.

The confiscation decree proved highly offensive to the army in consequence of the coarse manner in which they were invited to participate of the spoils.

Madame Paulina Rowland, the author of the pamphlet on Working Associations, has been arrested.

It is also reported that sixty journeymen printers were arrested at the same time.

A fresh list of Senators is said to be on the eve of appearing. About half of the Senators will receive pensions.

Two hundred and forty thousand pounds per annum is talked of as the civil list which the Senate is asked to vote for the President. This, considering that he has the domain price to keep up, would be but equivalent to four hundred and eighty thousand pounds, which was allowed Louis Philippe.

Another batch of two hundred and eighty Lottery emigrants for California, left Paris on the 7th of February. A third party will soon follow.

The Government has received many more applications than the funds of the country will allow them to attend to.

There are rumors of a secret understanding between the Austrian and French Governments.

The attacks upon Lord Palmerston will be followed in the Paris papers.

It is said that the Legitimists will not run as candidates for the legislative body.

Vignire, an ex-representative, has been set at liberty with orders to proceed to Brussels.

The Brussels journals state that Gen. Changarnier had returned to that city in a critical state of health.

The President has pardoned M. Peytel, condemned to transportation by the Council of war at Bordeaux.

Commercial affairs throughout France are generally quiet. Manufacturers were waiting for orders to be given, and speculators having bought up immense quantities of every kind during the last two months, have now ceased to purchase for the moment, which has led to lower prices for linen, cotton and silk goods.

Important orders for iron have been received at the large foundries of Haute Marne and in the Departments of the North. The trade at Paris continues exceedingly

The Havre cotton market has declined considerably, in consequence of the large arrivals from America.

SWITZERLAND.

The Swiss journals announce that on the proposition of the citizens of Geneva, a subscription is to be got up in all the cantons, to pay the sum of 2,300,000f., still remaining due by the cantons of Sunderlin for military operations in 1846–7.

SPAIN.

There is nothing of importance from Spain. The Queen has become convalescent.

The criminal who made the attack on the life of the Queen, was executed on the afternoon of the 17th.

MADRID, Feb. 4th.—Don Martin Morino Comez has been sentenced to death in the Inferior Court; and the cause was immediately sent to the First Hall of Audience.

THE QUEEN'S LIFE AGAIN ATTEMPTED.—There had been another attempt made upon the life of the Queen. Her Majesty was leaving the church, bearing the royal infant in her arms, when a Jesuit priest, named Morino, kneeling before her made pretence of presenting a petition, and as the Queen paused, struck at her with a poignard, which he suddenly drew from beneath his cloak.

The poignard penetrated the folds of her Majesty's dress, but striking one of the whalebone stays of the dress, the force of the blow was turned aside. The dagger, however, penetrated the flesh just below the last rib, but only caused a slight wound. A second blow was immediately given by the assassin, which only caused a slight wound on her Majesty's arm.—The priest was immediately arrested, and proved to be a wretch of the vilest character, who had been in turn a priest, a soldier, a traitor, but always an assassin.

AUSTRIA.

In Hungary the Government is pushing things so far as to erect monuments in commemoration of the Austro-Russian victory.

The Minister of the Interior has issued very stringent orders providing for the periodical inundation of the Danube, which usually takes place at the melting and descent of the ice which blocks up and turns the suburbs of Vienna into a navigable lake. Last year the descent of the waters was so impetuous as to sweep away everything before it, and the damage to property was immense.

SWEDEN.

A powder magazine at Loudden, near Lidingebro, exploded on the 24th. The shock shattered several thousand panes of glass in the city of Stockholm, particularly in the Palace. The magazine contained 2,800 pounds of powder, and the loss is estimated at 115,000 thalers. Two dead bodies were found among the ruins.

THREE DAYS LATER.

Arrival of the Africa.

The British mail steamship Africa, Capt. Harrison, arrived at New York on Saturday morning. She left Liverpool at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, the 14th inst. She arrived off Sandy Hook at 1½ o'clock, A. M., and remained till daylight.

She brings the following important intelligence from

SWITZERLAND.

The Swiss journals mention that the government of the Republic is in a state of great alarm on account of a new note which has been sent to it by the French Government. The latter not only insists on the expulsion of the French refugees who are suspected of plotting against the government of their country—to which demand the Swiss government at once, and without the slightest hesitation, gave its consent—but it insists on the Swiss government closing all unions, and on its employing energetic measures against any popular manifestations which have been got up in that country for the purpose of forcing the government to have new elections.

It is said that the French Minister of Foreign Affairs has intimated to the Swiss Minister resident in Paris, that great as is the interest which the President feels in the Helvetic republic, he cannot avoid, if his counsels should not be followed, coming to an arrangement with Austria and Prussia with a view to their coming to an understanding with respect to the adoption of joint coercive measures for the purpose of keeping down the democratic spirit in Switzerland.
