

LATER FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the America. By the America, which arrived at Halifax on Thursday the 4th inst., we have the following additional items:

AFFAIRS IN ENGLAND. A despatch, dated "House of Commons, Friday night, Feb. 20," to the Liverpool Journal, says: "When the Premier announced his resignation, the greatest astonishment was felt; the members appeared to have been entirely in the dark, and no one was prepared for what had suddenly taken place. All is bustle and confusion here. The talk in the House is, that the Queen will not have anything to do with Palmerston, and that the Earl of Derby will at once accept the office."

The same journal states that Lord Palmerston, in moving his amendment, said that "the country was in a situation liable to war, and our armament, in time of peace, was not sufficient, nor did it suit the feeling of the country. But it should be adequate to meet such an unfortunate emergency. What he wanted was a ready trained force, prepared for action at the shortest notice. All the objections to the proposal of a regular militia were founded in a distrust of the people, and implied that Englishmen were cheats, Scotchmen cowards, and Irishmen traitors. If we could not trust the nation to defend itself, we had better give up the idea of defence, (tremendous cheers) and send for Russian and Austrian soldiers. He was confident that the people would answer a proper appeal on the part of the Government, by proving to the world that we are prepared for defence, and would thereby preserve ourselves the blessings of peace."

The London Times says, "Possibly the minister stopped to evade a fatal blow on the Cape question, and has made his fall with considerable judgment. If saved on the Caffre question, he would have been wrecked on the reform bill. Lord Palmerston will most likely, resign the task of forming a government to the protectionist chief, who has long since proclaimed that his arrangements are made, and that he has only to walk in and take possession; and that he had really no choice but to do what he could—whether for six weeks or six months. Lord Derby will most likely, be our minister next week. He has something in his favor. The new reform bill will not stand much in his way."

The Morning Herald declares that "Lord Derby will be prepared to take office. Though sudden the event was not unexpected." The Morning Post says, "The victory was worthy of Palmerston. It was not a party, but a national question."

The opposition peers had met at the Earl of Derby's, and had agreed to offer the most determined resistance to the new reform bill, on its second reading in the House of Lords.

THE CATHOLICS AND THE PRESBYTERIANS.—The Dublin Evening Post mentions, on what it considers unquestionable authority, that some of the Roman Catholic clergy, who had become unpopular on account of their opposition to secret societies, have been served with notices to desist. Whilst the Catholic priests are preaching against their combinations, some of the ablest and most independent of the Presbyterian ministers have been distinguished by their loud and vehement denunciations against the landed proprietors. In the north of Ireland a formidable combination exists against the payment of rents; and such is the state of excitement against the landlords, that several of them have given up all notion of enforcing payment under present circumstances. It was stated that the Presbyterian tenantry, in some localities, were offering a passive resistance to the payment of rents.

DEATH OF THE BISHOP OF ACHONRY, &c.—The Tuam Herald announces the death of the Right Rev. Dr. McNicholas, Bishop of Achonry.

Mr. John Isaac Herd had been elected for Kinsale, in place of Mr. Benjamin Hawes, without opposition.

The stock of bullion in the Bank of England shows an increase of £314,524, as compared with the preceding returns.

A fire broke out, on the morning of the 20th ult., at Trinity Hall, Cambridge, on the side of the theatre facing Trinity Lane. It was subdued before extending further.

FRANCE.—The new British ambassador, Lord Cowley, arrived in Paris on Wednesday, the 11th.

The government, it is said, manifested great fear that General Cavaignac will be elected in several districts.

A decree has been published abolishing the fates of Feb. 24 and May 4, and substituting, as the only anniversary worthy of commemoration, the birthday of Napoleon.

Various rumors prevailed of a new ministerial crisis.

General St. Arnaud is said to be in disgrace, because he will not sign a decree for the dismissal of a number of officers of known Orleans tendencies. The War Department is to be conducted by Admiral Latard, during General Arnaud's absence in Algeria.

The Gazette de France states that the President of the republic is about to form a body guard from the Gendarmes Mobiles.

PARIS BOURSES, Feb. 21.—Fives, 108, 70; Three, 67, 75.

INTERESTING FROM BELGIUM.—The Paris correspondent of the London Morning Chronicle says: It will be remembered that French agents had been sent into Belgium, for the purpose, if possible, of seducing the army from its allegiance, and sowing the seeds of discord and disaffection amongst the people. If I am well informed, reports are daily submitted to Louis Napoleon of the proceedings of these agents. It will be remembered that it was the Catholic party that in 1831 was the principal means of separating Belgium from Holland. It is that same party which is now the most active in getting up a feeling in favor of the French alliance, and the clergy are almost all indefatigable agents of the Elysee. Belgium is adding 4000 men to her army, and strengthening her defenses.

SPAIN AND PORTUGAL.—The health of the Queen of Spain had been completely restored. The happy event had been celebrated by public thanksgiving at Madrid, and in all the Catholic capitals in Europe, with great pomp and ceremony.

The body of the regicide had been burned, and the Gazette contains the royal orders for the destruction of his poignard, pistols, &c., also, for the burning of his manuscripts in the presence of his judges.

There is nothing of political importance from Portugal. The shipments of wine from Oporto were improving.

ITALY.—It is said that some new clue to the murder of Rossi had been found, whereby some new light would be thrown upon the horrid tragedy.

The celebration of a republic in Rome came off the 9th ult., notwithstanding the efforts of the government to suppress it.

DREADFUL AFFAIR IN TEXAS.—The Red Land Herald contains an account of a bloody occurrence which recently took place in Shelby county, Texas. John and Henry Wadkins met Capt. Marvel H. Mosely in the road, near the residence of Col. E. Myrick, and informed him that they designed killing him. Suing the action to the word, one of the Wadkins fired a ball into Mosely's right cheek, which caused him to fall from his horse. Mosely then attempted to escape by running, but was again brought to a halt by the discharge of a rifle from the other Wadkins. Mosely was now upon the ground and apparently in the last agonies of death, but still the assailants continued to fire at him. As many as ten or a dozen different reports were heard by persons living near the scene. Believing Mosely to be dead, Wadkins mounted their horses and left, since which time they have not been heard of.
