THE REPUBLICAN. CLEARFIELD Pa., May 8, 1852.

FOR PRESIDENT,

JAMES BUCHANAN. OF PENNSYLVANIA. (Subject to the decision of the Democratic National Convention.)

POR CANAL COMMISSIONER. WILLIAM SEARIGHT,

The chief object of its authors seems to From Eric to Warren, have been to separate the two political par- From Warren to Ridgeway, ties as much as possible, by forming districts of counties exclusively of the same political preserences. We go in for a fair fight in such matters. We believe that much useful information to the people Rail road to make has been, and that much can be, learned in our political contests; and if we had the apportionment of the State to make out we would form districts by balancing the political preferences of the people down to the last hundred, in each of them, from one end of the State to the other .-A State thus apportioned would never fail to be well represented, as in that case the success and salvation of each party would compel them to offer none but their very best men. On the other hand, where districts have a largo preponderating majority, the real principles of the two political parties are scarcely ever heard of, and he who is most reckless and cunning in the arts of intrigue will be most apt to suc-
