THE BEPUELECAN . by D. W. MOUL

ADVANCE. P NOT PAID WITHIN SIX MONTHS. NITHIN NINE MONTHS. F NOT PAID WITHIN TWELVE MONTHS. auance will boallowed until all arrearages have

DUTY AND LIABILITY OF POSTMASTERS. neglecting to notify the publisher, as directed foot that papers are not lifted by those to who

THE OTHER GABRET.

approximent, r nappened to near that there is continuou to book employment and to it grew not only in the cast, but in the west, grown as a demand in Paris for workmen in live with the most rigid economy; but at and in overy direction, I saw the edges of for it." as a demand in Paris for workmen in five with the most right economy; but at and in overy direction, I saw the edges of business. I understood the French length I found myself without a sou. I hills, and the spires of fir plantations and had no family ties to keep frames at one of these innumerable book break that the sky---I said, "It is not the dayn London; so I packed up all my orldly goods, and with a few pounds in pocket, proceeded to the gay capital. ussonniere; and the next day went out The day passed away, and I tasted no 1000. and would have held her by the garment, ed me to come and watch you while she isster, resolve to help and cherish one an-bister, resolve to help and cherish one an-the next day I fasted also. I was deter-but she was gone. Meanwile, I prayed fetched a doctor. I came in and sat by other while we live." aid he had no need of workmen. The econd gave mo the same answer, but dded that if in six weeks' time I were not ngaged, he should certainly be in a conlition to employ me. A month passed and left me still idle. I found that I had been nisinformed as to the demand for worknen; or else, that the state of things had changed since the date of my information. began to think of returning to London, before my stock of money became too low o enable me to do so; but, by a strange in another fortnight. I resolved to stay. saw my money dwindle down to the exact sum which would take me back to London. hesitated-but at last spent a portion, with the resolution of a man who burns his boat upon the shore to give himself the courage of desperation. Meanwhile I relewed my search, but still without success; ill, at last, the day came when I was to without friends—almost without moins without friends—almost without mo-field, as they passed to and fro under the ful, as they passed to and fro under the Boulevards. I field as they passed to and fro under the Boulevards. I field as the passed to and fro under the Boulevards. I field as the boulevards. I field as the boulevards. I field as the passed to and fro under the Boulevards. I and then held out the cap at arm's length, ind eved it like a connosseur. Then she field been in the heart of Siberia. I and the man eved me attentively for a she held it out, when, suddenly holding it and eved it iout, when, suddenly holding it and the held it out, when, suddenly holding it and the held it out, when, suddenly holding it and the held it out, when, suddenly holding it and the held it out, when, suddenly holding it and the held it out, when, suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out, when suddenly holding it and the held it out when suddenly holding it and the held it out when suddenly holding it and the held it out when suddenly holding it and the held it out a sub held s if I had been in the heart of Siberia. I ring. The man cyed me attentively for a she held it out, when, suddenly holding it ad no spirit to renew the search that day. moment for there was comothing such in a she held it out, when, suddenly holding it ad no spirit to renew the search that day. moment, for there was something suspi-sideways, she saw me looking at her.

Volume 3,

Clearfield, Pa., July 30, 1852.

flush of light around the horizon; and as could he tell mo to employ it? I am not of the days we spent in our childhood.— us to come home and dine with him with so mother had given me, and which I had re- darkness, I looked up, and saw a faint solved never to part with. I continued to seek employment and to it grew not only in the east, but in the west, grown old yet. I am not ill--I had no use But I was afraid of being driven from the much carnestness that we complied. I solved never to part with.

soon to repay you the money; though the tory, Monsieur."

despair, with my face between my hands. gave you, and your love for me will wipe I had no further resourcebut my mother's out many sins." Then a great fear seiz-brightly that day, and I heard my neigh- I lay ill. Throughout the next day I was can work here as well as in myown room; cd. A new source of life had sprung up ed us back to the church, where we left bor singing with her window open, where half awake, with a consciousness of some for I lose no time. Madame Mallet offer- in my heart. I forgot how little I was in him, and took our way homewards. We I had often seen her, above the trees. I one moving in the room; and in the even- ed also; and we agreed to attend upon a condition to help her-poor and wretch. looked back again from the hill top, and went to bed early to forget the panges of ing a doctor came to me, perhaps he had you by turns. And when I was left alone, cd as I was. The sight of such a noble saw the sun about to sink into the forest, hunger, but I could not sleep. A gnawing been before, but I had no memory of it. and you were asleep and dreaming, I heard world, preserving all hope and cheerful-thirst, kept me awake till the light streame out incomer and methor with memory in the store it for you till were assessed in the store it for you fill were assessed and entreating some world, preserving all hope and cheerful when we returned. A four days offer thirst, kept me awake till the light stream-out inquiry, and another night passed in-u one to keep it for you till you came again, ness, and seeking only to do good to oth-when we returned. A few days afterthirds, kept no awake the the negative out inquiry, and another night passed in-u one to keep it for you the you came again, ness, and seeking only to do good to othe, when we returned. A few days allow ed in through the long narrow windows, calmer sleep. When I awoke again I felt and bought with a hundred times its val-bring the new man. All life wards she received a letter from the old the new man is a new man, as he was accustomed to do at cer-bring the next anartment. Presently I stretched for hand out to draw aside the in a hundred time to draw aside the long her understand. Such I felt a stretched for hand but to draw aside the long her understand. Such I felt a stretched for hand but to draw aside the long her understand. Such I felt a stretched for hand but to draw aside the long her understand. Such I felt a stretched for hand but to draw aside the long her understand. Such I felt a stretched for hand but to draw aside the long her understand. Frien I near uny neignoor again moving better. Incre was dayight in the room, u.e. Then you source and spoke rapidly stood out before me with another aspect. That, as he was accustomed to do a cors briskly in the next apartment. Presently I stretched my hand out to draw aside the in a language I did not understand. Sud-I felt a stronger faith than ever I had be-tain intervals. He spoke favorably of me, in a language I did not understand. Sud-I felt a stronger faith than ever I had be-tain intervals. He spoke favorably of me, in a language I did not understand. Sud-I felt a stronger faith than ever I had be-tain intervals. He spoke favorably of me, amongst other things, but cautioned her to worden screenes or information which close most I could not only evil but the appearance of worden screenes or information which close most I could not only evil but the appearance of wooden screens or jalousies, which close ment, I saw upon my finger the ring which jeweller's door the day before; and I said thought of which had long haunted and avoid, not only evil, but the appearance of from the outside of all the windows in Par- I had sold to the jeweler. There was no to myself, he has been compelled to sell a perplexed me, will one day vanish like the cit, so that she might escape the scandal is. Then, like a bird at the sight of a fine doubt of its identity. I tried to recall the keepsake, and this it is that preys upon mist, and show the beauty of God's pur- of the last two down to sing name of the last two down. We this it is that preys upon mist, and show the beauty of God's pur- of the last two down to sing name of the last two down. We this it is that preys upon mist, and show the beauty of God's pur- of the courts of the last two down.

my prospects. On the other hand, the house in the Faubourg St. Antoine, had any grew more advanced, and I heard the noise of people in the street. She descen-house for mather fortnight. I resclued to stars. and I saw her cross the loc will the descent to a stars. and I saw her cross the loc will the descent to a stars. day grew more advanced, and I neard the then, only part of the terrible dream which of my money, and blessed the good old filled with hope, that I thought I felt the regularity. But alter sno had been to mass, we went together every Sunday to St. Cheve the stairs, and I saw her cross the had oppressed me? No. I remembered cure, whose advice had enabled mo to help from that time the current of my fortune too well the days of my poverty and hunger; the long struggle with myself, with my basket and found again the shop of the cord of three works I was so for cred still. The trees under our window took my small loaf and cheese, and with book in my hand and sat in the garded book in my hand and sat in the garded ftho Luxembourgh till the light failed. I tho Luxembourgh till the light failed. I sked to speak with the portor's wife, of house came in and asked if there was a house what hen grantmar. The occupant of the "other garret" house what hend here grantmar open before her, house what hend here grantmar here here was a house came in and asked if there was a house what hend here grantmar here here was a house what hend my here was a house what hend h

The occupant of the "other garret" sell it for bread, two days ago. I cannot ket."

F EVERY DESCRIPTION, PRINTED, IN THE VERY BEST STYLE, AND ON THE SHORTEST NOTICE. AT THE OFFICE OF THE "CLEARFIELD REPUBLICAN."

"Nay Monsieur-to what better use more if only for a moment, to remind her the forchead once again. And he begged "God bless you," I exclaimed, "I hope never went that way again, that is my his- me at first with the anxiety with which a

"It is very sad," I said. "I will not tell and he wished to have me longer with hear. Madame Mallet came to my room has made me sad, and I did not like to discourse of the old man was full of deep door, and said you were very ill, and ask- dwell upon the past. Let us rather look and practical philosophy. It was the lan-The day passed away, and I tasted no food. and would have held her by the garment, ed me to come and watch you while she forward to the future and like brother and guage of a man grown weary in seek-ntroduction to masters—one directed to the mined, if at length 1 gave away to hunger, upon my knees, and 1 heard the stir of the bedside till the doctor came and saw other while we live." [the tendency of life, and had fallen back upon the present, and a good and holy upon the present, and a good and holy upon the present, and a strug-voiceless multitude around me, and I fell you were in a high fever, and in great I took her hand and pressed it in my upon the present, and a good and holy ou were in a high fever, and in great I took her hand and pressed it in my upon the only contain things which were the left along the back here in the dot of the only contain things which were the left along the back here in the back here in the back here in the only contain things which were in a high fever, and in great I took her hand and pressed it in my upon the only contain things which were the back here in the back here in the only contain things which were in a high fever, and in great I took her hand and pressed it in my upon the only contain things which were the back here in the back here in the only contain things which were in a high fever, and in great I took her hand and pressed it in my upon the only contain things which were in a high fever, and up on the back here in the only contain things which were in a high fever and you could be back here in the back here in the only contain the only on the only contain the only on tue St. Martin, where I proceeded first. at least not to do so without such a strug-voiceless multitude around me, and i for you were in a night level, and in great own. I spoke hurriedly and carnestly, life, as the only certain things which man danger, and you ought not to be left alone. own. I spoke hurriedly and carnestly, life, as the only certain things which man danger, and you ought not to be left alone. own. I spoke hurriedly and carnestly, life, as the only certain things which man danger, and you ought not to be left alone. own. I spoke hurriedly and carnestly, life, as the only certain things which man danger, and you ought not to be left alone. own. I spoke hurriedly and carnestly, life, as the only certain things which man danger, and you ought not to be left alone. own. I spoke hurriedly and carnestly, life, as the only certain things which man danger, and you ought not to be left alone. own. I spoke hurriedly and carnestly, life, as the only certain things which man danger, and you ought not to be left alone. own. I spoke hurriedly and carnestly, life, as the only certain things which man be accompani-tion a night to be left alone. own. I spoke hurriedly and carnestly, life, as the only certain things which man is a be had no need of workmen. The breaking my resolution. The sun shone I do not know who found out first that So I offered to sit by you, for, you see, I do not know to be left alone. A new course of bloc had sprung up left us back to the church, where we left yard, with her graceius little cup, which nunger; the long struggio with mysel, with my basket and found again the shop ebbed and three weeks I was so far ered still. The trees under our window against the upon the Boulevard Montmartre. Iaskel At the end of three weeks I was so far ered still. The trees under our window were nearly bare, and the final yielding; the shop on the upon the Boulevard Montmartre. Iaskel At the end of three weeks I was so far ered still. The trees under our window were nearly bare, and the vine against the house and renew bound and carrying in her hand a basket of wov- Boulevard where I had sold my ring, and if some one had not sold a ring there the my search for employment. I found a house had begun to shed its stalks, but in the straw, such as the French prisoners the Restaurant where I had broke my fast. day before. The man answered yes. I and and sold in England at the time of I thrust my hand under my pillow and toly him that you wished to buy it again, great change had taken place since I had the country the trees were still thick with The drew forth my money, the surest proof and he said that you could have it for eigh- kept my room. In every trade there leaves, for there had been no wind. The I could hardly stand for faintness; I that I was not deceived. However I push-waited till I thought it late enough to find ed aside my curtains, to assure myself that brough the ring away. And then I thought it late enough to find ed aside my curtains, to assure myself that brough the ring away. And then I thought it late enough to find ed aside my curtains, to assure myself that brough the ring away. And then I thought it late enough to find then taking I was at home in my cure had room when the ring away. And then I thought it late enough to find then taking I was at home in my cure had room when the ring away. And then I thought it late enough to find then taking I was at home in my cure had room when the ring away. And then I thought it late enough to find then taking I was at home in my cure had room when the ring away. And then I thought it late enough to find then taking I was at home in my cure had room when the ring away. And then I thought is the room would have at the room would be the ring away. And then I thought it late enough to find the room would never come such a golden with the room when the room wh some jeweler's shop open, and then, taking I was at home, in my own bedroom, when, how surprised and delighted you would be Rue St. Denis. My employer was please winter would never come—such a golden some jeweler's shop open, and men, and get was at nome, in my own searcom, when, how surprised and delighted you would be Rue St. Denis. My employer was pleas- while would never come—such a golden my ring, I crept down stairs noiselessly us to my surprise, there was my next room to find it on your finger on awakening; so cd with my work, and paid me well. My calm had fallen on the earth; till one if I were about to do some shameful dood projection states post my window busily. I was a none, to find it on your finger on awakening; so cd with my work, and paid me well. My compare while we talked of country remained where about to do some shameful dood projection states post my window busily. if I were about to do some shameful deed. neighbor sitting near my window, busily I contrived when your hand was stretched first care was to repay my friend the mo-Rue St. Antoine. The aspect of the work-hop, and the countenance of the master, hop, and the street compared with me! The thing in the street compared with me! The the are and ribbon. She plied her needle un shore, and the air was so calm and the countenance of the master. I left the house the shore was gone in an instant ! I

Number 33.

"Does Monsieur want anything?" she She saw mestriving to speak and stopped times we come to a day which never pass- day I asked her if she would like to learn ne. "You must not talk," she said. The thing we thought and did upon that day ised to take pains to learn. I bought a bsorbed in reading her letter, and showed no signs of departing. "I wish, Madame Mallet, to ask if you change for my own."

"Oh, yes-Monsieur would like one bethaps. Well, I must say Monsieur is not would not find a nicer loding in all with fever, and haunted by wild dreams. Paris."

"No, Madame Mallet, it is not that which had another room unoccupied, at a lower my pace to escape them, but their length rent than my own."

"Why yes," replied she, in a less respec-table tone—"if you wish for one cheaper at four francs per week. This young person occupies the other garret, which she will tell you is pretty comfortable." The young lady raised her eyes from the letter, and murmured timidly, 'that she was quite satisfied with it."

The room was small, and paved with red, upon a wine road, and as i guessed, upon the toot-path through the fields, till we latther died; but he came to mo as soon as tiles. It contained simply a bed, two chairs, the outskirts of a great city, for I heard a came to the road at Neuilly; and then he he received the news, and arranged my and a table, and on the wall a few Catho- noise of a multitude far off; presently we blessed mo, and bade me good by and re- father's funeral. Afterwards, as I had no lie pictures. The house, like most of the entered the city by a gate; and we looked turned across the fields. And all the way relatives in the the village, M. Gallart took er, that I have found a new triend; for to to depart, I felt more deeply still how all the way relatives in the the village, M. Gallart took er, that I have found a new triend; for to to depart, I felt more deeply still how all the way relatives in the the village, M. Gallart took er, that I have found a new triend; for to to depart, I felt more deeply still how all the way relatives in the the village, M. Gallart took er, that I have found a new triend; for to to depart, I felt more deeply still how all the way relatives in the the village, M. Gallart took er, that I have found a new triend; for to to depart, I felt more deeply still how all more deeply still how all the way relatives in the the village, M. Gallart took er, the I have not found a new triend; for to to depart, I felt more deeply still how all more deeply still how all her I over my life and peace of mind; and my soul was bound to her. I could not the top and peace of mind; and to her the village, and resol- me to Paris, down on a broad street lined on each side home I thought upon his words, and resol- me to Paris, down on a broad street lined on each side home I though tupon his words, and resol. The subtrian the way be the vert I have not found extension to make low her till took for all the vert I have not found extension to make low her till took and to her the village. "thotels garnis" in the suburbs of Paris; down on a broad street lined on each side home I thought upon his words, and resol- me to Paris with him and placed me with as yet I have not found occasion to make leave her till I told her all. Was a great building, forming three sides with temples, and great houses and to transport of a word between a result. - Was a great building, forming three sides with temples, and great houses an endices yea to buy lewer caps and dresses, and Madame Armonville, a milliner in the Rue of a square, the yard planted with trees. My line of pillars, for the street seemed to tra-now that is a year ago, and I have saved Richelieu; where I learnt how to earn my a faw book I had brought with me—the the field again. It suddenly grew dark; my money." only consolation to which I could turn in but the crowd continued to pour outward "And you give all this pleasure for my dil that I possessed to see my sister once the old man raised it up and kissed her on for "you alone" she said, "could unsea"

had another room to let, which I might ex- ful not to eat too much after my long fast. parched, and I trembled from head to foot. | self for a poor stanger and a foreignor." lodged very comfortably; but however, for 1 do not remember now 1 spent mat day, "But would not Monsieur have done an working, as it in her own room, and then skirts sprinkled, for and wide, among the would check harself, and say that it trees. But below it was quite a landscape. Would check harself, and say that it trees. But below it was quite a landscape.

Sometimes I seemed to walk between high leaning walls, that threatened to top- Mons. Gallart, the cure, always said I was ple down and crush me; and I quickened a silly thing."

"But why wish to conceal so good an was interminable. At others, I climbed in action?" darkness up a spiral staircase to the roof "I do not know, except that I should of some great cathedral; I heard the roll- have liked to wait till you were rich enough ing of organs like low thunder; I climbed, to repay me. Now you will tease youryou must no content to chine up to the wey and climbed, fearing to be stifled, till, at solf about the money, though I am sure I when makes you arway floor, where I have a little room, not very length I issued on the roof; and looking do not want it. I never should have had length I issued on the dreadful height, I saw a it, but for Mons. Gallart, the cure; for, how a single being when a four frances per week. This young perand climbed, fearing to be stiffed, till, at solf about the money, though I am sure I great city spread below, and far away you see, I never thought of saving morrey. broad fields, and bill tops crowned with I used to buy every week a new cap, and friend." windmills. A fear of falling took hold of now and then a new dress till, one day, me, but I could not recede; and I called Mons. Gallart overtook me in the meadow aloud for some one to come and drag me coming from mass, spoke to me about

I observed her as she spoke. She was with the sudden change, and asking my asked me it I had ever considered that one winge in Loriano, and in Canter was certainly far from being handsome, but her self whether I dreamed or not. I stood in day I should be no longer young and the cure there at that time. I had a sister certainly tar from being handsome, but not self whether I dreamed or not. I stood in day I should be no longer young and the cure there at that third, I had a stort dress though plain was neat and graceful. a level country, where there were long stong. And I said I had; but it seemed who was very beautiful; and M. Gallart dress inough plain was near this graceful, a level country, where there were long stong. And I said I had, but it scenned who was very beautiful, and in Ganari There was, however, an expression inher broad ditches, filled with flags and bul- that so many long years must yass away taught us both to read and write, and to Anere was, nowever, an expression many broad ancnes, mod with hags and out that so many long years must yass away taught as both to read and write, and to face of meek humility, the result, perhaps rushes bordered by stunted willows. Here before that time come. He told me that understand the best writers, whose works tace of mean number, the result, perhaps rushes bordered by stunded willows. Freis before that time come. The told the that understand the best writers, whose works of a consciousness of a want of beauty. I there was a stagnant pond, its scummy he himself thought like me once, but now he lent us from his library. But my sisof a consciousness of a wait of octative there was a singnant pond, its scatting ne minscit mought into inco, out now no tent as notified in a notary. Dut my out of a consciousness of a wait of octative line was a singnant pond, its scatting ne minscit mought into inco, out now no tent as notary. Dut my out of a consciousness of a wait of octative line was a singnant pond, its scatting ne minscit mought into inco, out now no tent as notary. Dut my out of a consciousness of a wait of octative line was a singnant pond, its scatting ne minscit mought into inco, out now no tent as notary. Dut my out of a consciousness of a wait of octative line was a singnant pond, its scatting ne minscit mought into income in the notary. Dut my out of a constant of the normal scatter was proud and never loved me much: On that account she had, I thought experiments with purple and green, its his hair had grown gray ; he looked back ter was proud and never loved me much: Un that account she had, I thought expension surface shot with purple and green, its his hair had grown gray; he tooked back ter was proud and never loved the indentified and saw how quickly a man glides from and when she married a rich man, and and had become timid and retiring, never dragon-flies; for it was a deep still moon- youth to age. "Besides," he said "you went to Paris to live, she thought of us no forgetting her defects.

"But would not Monsieur have done an working, as if in her own room, and then skirts sprinkled, far and wide, among the speak better by-and-by.

"the secret which I meant to keep is told. go on.

told me your name."

"Aimce : and yours?"

"Nay, excepting M. Gallart, I do not know a single being whom I can call my

"And how is this?" I asked-your are so kind and good ?"

"I never knew my mother," she replied. back to the little door. Then, perplexed youth, and how soon it was flown, and "My father was a vinegrower in a little with the sudden change, and asking my-asked me if I had ever considered that one village in Lorraine; and M. Gallart was "Monsieur can walk up and see his new all that broad landscape. And, although friend in the world, excepting me; and I father lay ill, and his farm had gone to ruroom if he pleases," added Madame Mallet I had thought myself the only living being am poor. Would it not be well to try and in, we wrote to her in vain. When he room is no pleases, added induction in and in organ myself moving inving being am poor. would it not be wen to try and in, we wrote to ner in vain. When he would it no be went to try and in, we wrote to ner in vain. When he would it not be went to try and in, we wrote to ner in vain. When he would not be went to try and in, we wrote to ner in vain. When he would not be went to try and in, we wrote to ner in vain. When he would not be went to try and in, we wrote to ner in vain. When he would not be went to try and in, we wrote to ner in vain. When he would not be went to try and in, we wrote to ner in vain. When he would not be went to try and in, we wrote to ner in vain. When he would not be went to try and in, we wrote to ner in vain.

near neighbor wished me good night upon prise. She bade me go will her, and see lature pain." And so he taiked to me in moved to the parish of St. Etienne, where the landing and I entered my new abode. What she would show me. Soon we stood this way as we walked arm-in-arm, along he preaches now, sometime before my the landing and 1 entered my new, abode. what she would show me. buon we show this way as we warked arm-in-arm, along he preaches now, sometime before my me, sait friend." The room was small, and paved with red upon a wide road, and as I guessed, upon the foot-path through the fields, till we father died; but he came to me as soon as friend."

this. I have this. I have to not spoken ing her basket, went out and shut the door ntreat you, if noiselessly behind her. the total induction of total induction of the total induction of total induction of the total induction of tota have to speak of my business in presence of a stranger; but the young lodger was f a stranger a "By-and-by, Monsieur you shall know stant attendance was no longer necessary, and laid the dust upon the roads. We pretty well, and began to try to speak.---the restaurant and asked for breakfast, of "By-and-by, Monsieur you snall know stant attendance was no longer necessary, and laid the dust upon the roads. we preuvy wen, and begin to try to speak.— which I eat heartily, though I was care-ful not to eat too much after my long fast. "By-and-by, Monsieur you snall know stant attendance was no longer necessary, and laid the dust upon the roads. we preuvy wen, and begin to try to speak.— but I begged her to stay with me by day. ful not to eat too much after my long fast. tell me; but why should I doubt? It can and all her natural cheerfulness began to till we came to a deep valley, and stood the idiom of her own language, that I but in spite of my precautions 1 left ex- ten me; but why should 1 doubt 1 it can and all her natural cheeriuiness began to till we came to a deep valley, and stood ine iuiom of her own language, that i tremely ill. My eyes were glazed; my be no other than yourself; and yet, I can show itself. Her little rounded figure gli- still to look around for a time. Bohind discoursed but would bust to bus lips (as I saw in the glass) were black and not tell why you should thus interest your-ded about the room with all the lightness us we saw the towers and triumphal arch-ded about the room with all the lightness us we saw the towers and triumphal arch-mentation and a foreigner ??

equal kindness for a stranger (Inere, would check harsen, and say that it trees. But below it was quite a landscape. I ne summer came again, and I worked she exclaimed, suddenly checking herself, made my head acho; till I begged her to One side of the valley was plughed up to early and late, for we were very busy. It One day I said to her, "You have never the old church where we were going, ivy- to execute near Orleans; and a little troop squared, with a square tower. Behind of workmen were to be sent there to stay flowed the Seine, and, farther still, the for a couple of months. The master seforest, called the Bois de Boulogne, piled lected mo to superintend them. The choice self of the final consonant to suit her up into the sky its masses of innumerable was a confidence, and I could not refuse to French car—"in French, Guillaumea Ar-not. It is not so pretty a one as yours, church. We were late, for we had ling- I was to leave Paris on the evening followwhich makes you always beloved," said I, ered long to look upon that scene. My ing, and the day previously, we arranged friend touched the incense brush, which to visit the old cure once again.

was presented to her at the door, but I did Yet another day, which will linger in not. There was chaunting as we entered; my memory till I die !-- the brightest of but presently the cure mounted the pulpit those happy days! We went out early and began to preach. He was a fine old this time. It was the first day of Juneman. His hair was grey, but he was not a fine clear morning. A gentle rain had bald. His face was benign and placid, fallen in the night, and every thing looked though at times, it wore a somewhat care- fresh and green. We walked along the worn expression, and his forchcad was borders of the wood and heard the blackplanted deep with wrinkles. I listoned bird, hidden in the leaves, sing out and with delight to his discourse which seemed stop; and then there was a dead silence; to harmonize with the mood wrought in my till another answered, deeper in the woods. mind by the calm autumnal day, and the I had nover seen her dressed so prettily sight of that still country; for he preached before. She wore a dress of grey merino, not of dogmas, or of articles of faith, but of and a cupe of the same stuff. Her cap was of luce, and pale blue ribbon. We did not charity and love to all mankind.

We waited for him in the churchyard, speak often. I thought of the separation and when the whole of the congregation on the morrow, and at every step I seemhad left the church, and the footpaths were eil to shrink from it more. Afterwards we dotted with them in their neat attire, the went to St. Cloud, which was not far off. cure issued from the door, and the sexton And all this time I had never spoken to mere-and autougn my mother had been save a hule money 1 indeed, "he said, "I died, we wrote again, and had no answer, dead for many years - I turned around would not ask you to forego one pleasure, I thought I never could forgive her while o do but to carry up ms box." She took the light, and I followed. My und found her standing by me with her and see former with and former with her and see former with with her and see former with her and see former with a see former with a see former with a sec former with her and see former with her and see former with her and see former with a sec former with a She took the light, and I followed. My and found her standing by me without sur-near neighbor wished me good night upon prise. She bade me go with her, and see future pain," And so he talked to me in moved to the parish of St. Etienne, where the leading and I control me said "So you have found a new wandered in the park till it was time to be here and I control me said what she would show me. Soon we stood this way as we walked armin. The leading and I control me said "So you have found a new wandered in the park till it was time to be here and I control me said what she would show me. Soon we stood this way as we walked armin. The leading and I control me said what she would show me. Soon we stood this way as we walked armin. The leading and I control me said what she would show me. Soon we stood this way as we walked armin. The leading and I control me said what she would show me. Soon we stood this way as we walked armin. The leading and I control me said what she would show me. Soon we stood this way as we walked armin. The leading and I control me said what she would show me. Soon we stood the way as we walked armin. The leading and I control me said what she would show me. Soon we stood this way as we walked armin. The source have a me said what she would show me show the source have been to be a walked armin. The source have a me said to be a source have been to be hat with a feeling of reverence, "say, rath- when the hour grew nearer, when we were window looked out upon this yard. I sat verse the whole city; and at the bottom, a hundred france, and next Sunday I would living. I have never seen my sister since She looked confused; but the cure pat- city of Orleans; but every day I wrote to solar of our ted her on the head and begged me to her, and she replied—the solare of our ted her on the head and begged me to her, and she replied—the solare of our ted her on the head and begged me to her, and she replied—the solare of our ted her on the head and begged me to her, and she replied—the solare of our ted her on the head and begged me to her, and she replied—the solare of our ted her on the head and begged me to her out tell time to be any tell time to be the ted her on the head and begged me to her out tell time to be the ted her on the head and begged me to her out tell time to be the ted her on the head and begged me to her out tell time to be the ted her on the head and begged me to her out tell time to be the ted her on the head and begged me to her out tell time to be the ted her on the head term terms of tell ted her on the head and begged me to her out tell time to be the terms of tell terms to be the terms of tell terms of term myself down and began to reflect upon my far away, we saw blue mountains stretch- have taken them to mass with me, and I have been here; but once; soon after I ted her on the head and begged me to her, and she replied—the solace of our walk besidehim, and tell him how this was. solitary nights. She told me, in her inno-position. My money, if I lived the life of ing out into the sky. We walked towards waited for him again in the church yard, came to Paris I passed by her house. I the walked between us in big with the sky. We walked towards waited for him again in the church yard, came to Paris I passed by her house. I the walked between us in big with the sky. We walked towards waited for him again in the church yard, came to Paris I passed by her house. I the walked between us in big with the sky. We walked towards waited for him again in the church yard, came to Paris I passed by her house. I the walked between us in big with the sky. We walked towards waited for him again in the church yard, came to Paris I passed by her house. I the walked between us in big with the sky. We walked towards waited for him again in the church yard, came to Paris I passed by her house. I have been used and the sky. position. My money, if I lived the life of ing out into the sky. We walked towards waited for him again in the church yard, came to Paris I passed by her house. I would be be been us in his silked gown, cence of heart, how she had loved me or in the saw the windows brilliantly lighted, and I He walked between us in his silked gown, cence of heart, how she had loved me or in the saw the windows brilliantly lighted, and I He walked between us in his silked gown, cence of heart, how she had loved me or in the saw the windows brilliantly lighted, and I He walked between us in his silked gown, cence of heart, how she had loved me or in the saw the windows brilliantly lighted, and I He walked between us in his silked gown, is er since the day we went to the cure in the heard music. They had a party there that head incovered, while I related to him all valley; and how she had fored that I heard music. I would have asked what to do with all heard music. I would have given my story. She hurr down her tood hur should never love her ne she loved mer and erving hitterive. I would have given my story. She hurr down her tood hur should never love her ne she loved mer and erving hitterive. I would have given my story. She hurr down her tood hur should never love her ne she loved mer and erving hitterive. I would have given my story. She hurr down her tood hur should never love her ne she loved mer and erving hitterive. I would have given my story. She hurr down her tood hur should never love her ne she loved mer and erving hitterive. I would have given my story. She hurr down her tood hur should never love her ne she loved mer and erving hitterive. I would have given my story. She hurr down her tood hur should never love her ne she loved mer and erving hitterive. I would have given my story. She hurr down her tood hur should never love her never lov