PREMATURE INTERMENTS.

The late Rev. Dr. Alexander, in a work published a few years since, gives the following account of a remarkable incident in the life of Rev. Wm. Tennent:

"After a regular course of study in theology, Mr. Tennent was preparing for his examination by the presbytery, as a candidata for the Gospel Ministry. His in- for Savannah, looking alternately over tense application affected his health, and each shoulder as long as the wagon rebrought on a pain in his breast and a slight heetic. He soon became emaciated, and at length was like a living skeleton. His life was now threatened. He grew worse and worse. He was conversing one morning with his brother in Latin on the state of his soul, when he fainted and died away, After the usual time, he was laid out on a board, according to the practice of the country, and the neighborhood were invited to attend his funeral on the next day. In the evening, his physician returned from a ride in the country, and was afflicted beyond measure at the news of his death. He could not be persuaded had not been afraid of meeting his God .that it was certain, and on being told that one of the persons who had laid out the body thought he had perceived a little tremor of the flesh under the arm, although the body was cold and stiff, he endeavored be, never loses anything by advertising. to ascertain the fact. One of them Jako, was so "unspeakably" bad favored, that it made one feel as if he had bitten into a green persimmon to look at him, and whenever he walked through the streets, the dogs slung their tails and sneaked off too scared to bark.

The fame of this family spread through the country, and at last reached the cars of Georgian, who, for a long time had held undisputed possession of the celebrated penunifo. This individual at length determined to pay a visit to the ugly family, and so, one morning he crossed the Savannah, About noon he saw a wagon ahead, and rodo up to inquire the whereabouts of the

The wagoner shook his head and grinned a ghastly smile that made him look like the night mare personified. "I'll bet ten dollars that you are the ug-
