VICTORY-BUT NOT COMPLETE. We give returns enough below to show

pretty clearly the result of the recent election in this county.

Our majority on the State ticket will be in the neighborhood of 600-which, considering the smallness of the vote polled, is as good a majority as we ever gave. In some of the districts, such as Penn, Pike, Brady, Jordan, Boggs, Morris, &c., the Democrats deserve lasting praise for their splendid votes on the State ticket. But our victory is not complete. The whigs have given the Democrats of our county another drubbing in the election of Sheriff. This they accomplished by devoting their whole attention to that particular object, and, assisted by a number of disaffected Democrats, and also by a number of others who have not even as much as disaffection for an excuse, but who are good enough democrats, and who can cry out "stick to the ticket" as loud as any body when themselves or their immediate friends are to be served. A sufficient number of votes have been polled for the whig candidate to elect him. It is strange that men can be so inconsistent with themselves, and it is more strange that so many men can be so easily enlisted in an effort which they at other times so heartily condemn in others. Not one word was, or could be said, against I. L. Barrett himself. good chizen—and that he was just as clearly or navy in time of this case; that he advocated it in the face two years in the army or navy in time of this case; that he advocated it in the face two years in the army or navy in time of this case; that he advocated it in the face two years in the army or navy in time of the notorious suspicion that surrounded war. His letter of acceptance pledges him to the face two years in the army or navy in time of the notorious suspicion that surrounded war. That he was well qualified—that he was a clever a tellow as could be found, was ad- reform way-out tast ingular port of the notorious suspicions even shaled by the commission to a similar mode of qualifying foreigners lowing anecdote: than this was claimed for his opponent. That this is the character of the two men is evidenced by the support which each have received in their own districts, (Boggs township and Clearfield Borough,) among their own neighbors-both running far ahead of their own party. It is not of the whigs that we would complain. By no means. They are rath- ferson were in a mighty good humor. er entitled to praise. But it is of those democrats who pretend to be sticket men; some of whom stand prominent as expecting to be candidates some day themselves, or having been candidates and received the reward of a party's united support; and who for some triffing cause, or perhaps some imaginary error in the nomination, found grounds for opposition. It is of such men that the party complain. And such men should remember that there may be a future in which such debts might be paid. Should they become candidates, they must
