

FATTING CATTLE.—In fattening animals the less exercise permitted the better.—Exercise is doubtless necessary to insure the health of all animals; but we must recollect that fattening, in itself, an abnormal condition; that all animals rapidly accumulating fat, are more or less diseased. The celebrated breeder, Bakewell, understood this fact, and was in the habit of turning his sheep into marshy meadows for the purpose of getting them diseased. In such a condition they matured earlier and laid on fat with surprising rapidity.

Salt is good for animals, and probably is, in some form or other, necessary to health; but we know that salt is not good for fattening animals, and should never be given if the object be the accumulation of fat. Experience agrees with theory on this point. We recollect when conducting some extensive experiment on sheep, a practical friend urged us to give them salt, assuring us that his sheep did much better with than without. The sheep on which we were experimenting were doing well at the time, averaging about two pounds increase each per week. To please our friend, we gave the sheep salt; every sheep lost weight! We would give as much water as they will require and will drink less.

In fattening animals, perhaps the most important point is to obtain such a well calculated, from breed, disposition and symmetry, to mature early and fatten rapidly; then keep them warm, (be careful they are not too warm and that they do not perspire) quiet and clean.—Feed them regularly, and let their food be highly nitrogenous, with sufficient available non-nitrogenous matter united with the required bulk.—Genesee Farmer.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.—The State election in Connecticut last Monday, has resulted in a glorious Democratic triumph. Sufficient returns are received, to show the re-election by the people, of the Democratic State officers, the election of all the Democratic members of the State Legislature. We give the State officers and Congressmen: Governor.—THOMAS H. SEYMOUR. Lieut. Governor.—CHARLES H. POND. Secretary of State.—John C. Mather. Treasurer.—Erwin Stearns. Controller.—Rufus G. Pruney.

TRIAL OF JAMES SHIRLEY.—The trial of James Shirley for the murder of his wife, Sarah Jane Shirley, commenced at Holidaysburg, on Thursday afternoon, the 24th of March, and without intermission, continued until Saturday evening. The jury returned with a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. His counsel immediately asked for a new trial, on the ground that one of the jurors had expressed an opinion against the prisoner previous to being sworn. The court, after hearing the motion, argued at length by the counsel of the defendant, refused a new trial, and the unfortunate man was sentenced to be hanged by the neck until dead.

HAD A HAND IN IT.—The celebrated Dr. Rusby having chastised some of the boys at Westminster school, they resolved to revenge it, which they effected in the following manner: They daubed with tar the balustrades of the stairs leading to the school, which the doctor, being infirm, always laid hold of. He was incensed at the trick, and on reaching the school, offered a reward of half a crown to any boy that would inform him who had a hand in it. The reprehension of those concerned may be imagined, when a junior boy rose and said he'd tell, provided the doctor promised not to flog him, which being agreed to, he had directly explained: "You sir, had a hand in it." He rewarded the boy for his wit.

"Bob, where is the State of Matrimony?" "It is one of the United States. It is bounded by hugging and kissing on one side, and cradles and babies on the other. Its chief products are population, broomsticks, and staying out late at night. It was discovered by Adam and Eve, while trying to find a northwest passage out of Paradise. The climate is sultry till you pass the tropics of housekeeping, when usually weather commonly sets in, with sufficient power to keep all hands as cool as cucumbers. For the principal roads leading to the State, consult the first pair of blue eyes you run against."

"John, has the doctor arrived?" "Yes, sir." "Then go immediately for the undertaker, for coming events cast their shadows before them."

"The man who is always behind-hand, has recently purchased several bottles of ketchup, and at last accounts had nearly overhaken the fast man, who had fired down a wagon wheel."

"When Mrs. Portington read in the newspapers that Jenny Lind had a fellow feeling in her bosom, she exclaimed: 'Lor me! that's just what the young men used to do to me when I was a gal!'"

"Married, in Michigan, Mr. Henry Bill to Miss Mary Small. It is hoped the keeping of small bills is not prohibited in that State."

"It is said that the devil has many imps; we presume the following are among the number: Imp-fection, Imp-osity, Imp-ability, Imp-udence, Imp-ertinence, Imp-urity, and Imp-ity."

"You look as if you were beside yourself," as the wag said to a dunce who stood by a donkey.

"Whis-key—the key that opens the door of death and destruction."

For the Republican
BRIGHT HOPES.
They come on the pinions of wild birds free,
That in the greenwood sing melody;
Whispering of love that shall be like a song.
Of gladness and mirth with the summer long.
They breathe in the murmur of rivulet sweet,
That wanders in sweetness at our feet.
It laughs in joy at its sparkling waves,
Roll on to the ocean of streams, 'tis graves.
As the crystal waters go dancing by,
Reflecting stars from moonlight sky.
They tell of happiness, blooming flowers
That glow in friendship's emerald bowers.
As the blossoms upon the dew gemmed cup,
And their incensed odor breathes fragrantly up,
The air vibrates like a harp of love,
To the songs of the Eden of bliss above.
As the infant sleeps in its cradle bed,
And the halo of innocence rests on his head,
And smiles of love on his lips,
'Tis the nectar of hope that the dear one sips.
As the bride in lily like loveliness,
Stands by the altar in snow white dress,
'Tis the light of hope that beams in her eyes,
That radiates brightness from azure skies.
As the Christian lies on the couch of death,
And breathes in prayer his parting breath,
'Tis the hope of heaven his soul sustains,
As his body is tormented with dying pains.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT
A MOST MIRACULOUS CURE OF BAD LEGS, AFTER 4 YEARS' SUFFERING.
Extract of a Letter from Mr. William Galpin, of 70 St. Mary's Street, Weymouth, dated May 15, 1851.
To Professor HOLLOWAY—
SIR—At the age of 18 my wife (who is now 63) caught a violent cold, which settled in her legs, and in a few days she had become so much affected, that she was unable to walk, and her legs were so swollen, that they were nearly as large as her body. She was treated by several eminent physicians, but without effect. I then procured your Ointment, and applied it to her legs, and in a few days she was able to walk, and her legs were so much relieved, that she was able to do all her usual work. I am, Sir, your obedient servant, WILLIAM GALPIN.

WHATEVER concerns the health and happiness of a people is of the highest importance. It is the duty of every citizen to do all in his power, to save the lives of his children, and that every person will do for his family, who will do for his country. I have, therefore, prepared a medicine, which I call HOBENACK'S LIVER PILLS, and which I challenge any other medicine to equal in its efficacy. It is a most valuable medicine, and is the only one of its kind.
