For the Republican.

A CARD.

"Friends in need, are Friends Indeed."

Citizens of Clearfield and vicinity—I tender you, one and all, my heartfelt thanks for the many acts of kindness and sympathy received at your hands in my late misfortune. I do so more especially because I feel that I am indebted far more to your characteristic kindness of heart and sympathy, rather than to any merit in my part. To those generous hearted watermen who gathered round and rendered all the assistance in their power at the scene of the accident, and by others at Lock Haven, as well as to the citizens generally, who in various ways ministered to the assistance and comfort of myself and family, language fails adequately to express my gratitude. I can only add, that I shall endeavor always to feel deeply sensible of that kindness.

RICHARD GLENNAN.

CHIEF JUSTICE GIBSON DEAD.

Another great man has fallen in our State, ripe in years and in honors, whose name and fame, as a Jurist, will shed lustre upon American Jurisprudence for ages to come. JOHN BANNISTER GIBSON is no more. He has passed beyond the reach of human praise or censure, and we shall therefore not undertake to depict that intellectual superority and legal erudition which all conceded to him. He resigned his spirit to his Maker at two o'clock yesterday morning, at the United States Hotel in this city. His gigantic intellect, we are informed, remained unclouded to the last. Surrounded by his family and friends.

—— "Like a shadow thrown
Softly and sweetly from a passing cloud,
Death fell upon him."

Judge Gibson was a native of Carlisle, and the son of Col. George Gibson, a distinguished officer of the Revolutionary war, who fell while fighting the Indians, at St. Clair's defeat in 1791. He was born in 1780, graduated at Dickinson College in 1800, studied law under Judge Duncan, and was admitted to the Bar in 1803. He soon acquired a high reputation as a lawyer, and after practising for some years at the Carlisle Bar, was elected and served for several years as representative from Cumberland county in the State Legislature. Attached to the Democratic party he gave a cordial and active support to the administrations of President Madison and Governor Snyder, and wielded great influence in the body of which he was a member. In 1812 Governor Snyder appointed him Judge of the 11th Judicial District, just organized in nothern Pennsylvania, and in 1818 he was elevated to the Supreme Bench. In 1827, on the death of Chief Justice Tilghman, Governor Shultz appointed him to that vacancy, and he held the office from that time until 1851, when the amendment to the constitution made the Judiciary elective. He was then nominated by the Democratic State convention for election, and upon his election drew the nine years term, of which not two years had elapsed at the time of his death.

In the death of Judge Gibson the Judiciary of Pennsylvania has lost its brightest and most distinguished ornament. The place he leaves vacant it will be found difficult, if not impossible, to fill with one equally qualified for it.

Steamboat Disaster on Lake Ontario.

Burning of the Steamer Ocean Waves, Twenty-eight Lives Lost.

OGDENSBURG, New York, May 1.—The steamboat Ocean Wave, was destroyed by fire on Lake Ontario, at 2 o'clock on Saturday morning, when 50 miles above Kingston, on her passage to this place.—Out of the passengers and crew, numbering fifty in all, only twenty-two were saved, so that twenty-eight were either drowned or perished in the flames.

Among the saved were Captain Wright and the Mate and Purser. When the fire was discovered the boat was a mile and a half from the shore, and so rapid was the progress of the fire that the upper deck was consumed in fifteen minutes. The hull drifted off shore and continued burning for about two hours when it went down.

The persons saved were picked up by passing vessels, attracted to the scene by the glare of the flames.

The Ocean Wave was owned by the Northern Railroad Company of Ogdensburg, and was fully insured,

VERDICT IN THE MURDER CASE IN PITTSBURGH.—Eight and a Half Days in the Jury Room.—On Saturday morning, at half past 11 o'clock, the jury in the case of the commonwealth vs. Mary Delaney, alias Jones, came into court, having agreed upon a verdict. They found the defendant, Mary Delaney, guilty of manslaughter, but recommended her to the mercy of the court. The counsel for the defence, after the verdict had been recorded on the docket, took exception to it, on the ground that it was delivered to the court in writing, the finding of the jury not being pronounced by the jurors in open court. The exception was entered. The jury in the case retired on Thursday evening, the 21st of April; consequently they were confined to the jury room for eight days and a half.—Pitts. Post, May 2.

HORRIBLE CALAMITY.—An occurrence has just taken place in Paris, and it may be well to make it known, as such accidents ought to serve as examples. A gentleman, feeling a slight itching in his ear, took up a friction match in order to dispel it. In the ardor of a conversation he was sustaining, he introduced the sulphurous end; the contact soon produced ignation, and the downy lining of the ear caught fire; a portion of the sulphur adhered to the flesh, and burnt there persistently. The unfortunate man never spoke again. His sufferings were so agonizing that his tongue became powerless; and, after two days' torment and unavailing efforts of the surgeons, he died.

TREMENDOUS RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

A Car full of passengers entirely submerged in water!—Two others completely shattered to pieces!—Forty-nine killed! Twenty-one dangerously wounded.

NORWALK, CT., May 6.—A terrible accident has taken place on the New York and New Haven Railroad.

The train which left New York at 8 o'clock this morning, ran off the draw-bridge at this place.

It is supposed that at least fifty persons were killed. One car full of passengers is now entirely submerged in the water.—I will send the particulars as soon as I can collect them.

SECOND DESPATCH.—The submerged car is still in the same position, though a large force is engaged in endeavoring to extricate it. The most intense excitement prevails at the scene of disaster.

Two cars of the train are completely shattered to pieces. The cries of the wounded and dying are agonizing.

All that human skill can do to alleviate their sufferings is being done. The excitement and confusion is so great that it is impossible almost to obtain the names of the dead and wounded.

From what I can see and learn, there are not less than forty or fifty killed and drowned. Some of the unfortunate victims are mangled in the most shocking manner.

Among those badly injured is Mr. Comstock, of New York.

THIRD DESPATCH—The submerged car has been raised, and forty dead bodies recovered—among them six females. Twenty persons are injured—fifteen it is feared fatally. The blame is said to rest with the engineer. The train at the time of approaching the drawbridge was running at the rate of fifteen miles per hour.

FOURTH DESPATCH.—It is now ascertained that the number of persons injured will reach seventy—many of them seriously. It is believed that not less than 60 lives have been lost. The most painful excitement prevails at the scene of the disaster. Mr. Mitchell, of Philadelphia, and Messrs. E. and W. Dunbare, of Montgomery county, are among those who were saved. It is almost impossible to get an accurate list of the dead.

STILL LATER.—Norwalk, May 6, 7 P. M.—A feeling of deep melancholy pervades the community on account of the dreadful railroad accident. Thus far forty-nine dead bodies have been discovered. Two of those who were injured have since died. Eighteen others are seriously injured, and three dangerously.

Among the lost is the daughter of the Rev. Dr. Griswold.

The following dead bodies have been recognized:

Dr. A. Welch, of Hartford.
Dr. Beach, of Bridgport.
Mrs. Fluent, of Lancaster city, Pa.
Rev. Mr. Sehor, of Williamsburg.
Dr. Smith, of Springfield.
John Moss of Gardiner, Maine.
David B. Newell, of Newport.
John L. Gray, of Springfield.
Walter French, of Manchester.
Norman Woodbury, of Woodbury, Con.

There are probably ten or more bodies still in the wreck.

An express agent, who was sitting on a trunk, in the baggage car, escaped by forcing his body through the roof of the car, but is badly wounded.

A newsboy, who was in the car, made a very miraculous escape unhurt.

An infant in the care of its aunt, on her way to its parents in Springfield was saved, but the aunt was killed.

The bodies of many of the dead are much disfigured, and their recognition in many cases is very difficult.

The scene is dreadful, and heart-rending to witness.

Ample medical attendance was soon on the spot, and all possible assistance to the sufferers is being rendered by the ladies of Norwalk and the citizens generally.

The mails and most of the baggage has been saved in a damaged state.

[For the information of our readers it may be proper to say that Norwalk is 45 miles from New York. The river is of considerable depth, sufficient for vessels drawing six feet to reach the bridge.]

HARTFORD, May 7.—The Legislature at its session this morning, appointed a special committee to investigate the cause of the late disaster.

The Legislature has also resolved to appoint a board of railway commissioners, with extensive powers.

A bill was also introduced making it a fine of $10,000 for every person killed upon a railroad, and imposing heavy penalties for injuries on account of accidents, by carelessness.

The committee appointed, are instructed to repair at once to the scene of disaster, and collect facts and report officially.

A thorough investigation of this affair is to be made.

Another Railroad Accident.

BOSTON, May 7.—This afternoon, at half past four o'clock, as the New Bedford and Taunton train was near Taunton, Mass., the axletree of the tender broke, and, with the baggage and passenger car, containing twenty-five passengers, was precipitated down an embankment thirty feet. An eye witness says it was a miracle that all within were not killed. But two persons were seriously though not fatally injured, while fifteen received slight bruises. The cars were broken to pieces.

DIED—At his residence in Lawrence township, on last Saturday evening, of consumption, DAVID HOOVER, aged about 57 years.

In Bell township, in this county, on the 30th of April, of pleurisy, ASAPH ELLIS, Esq., aged 67 years, 7 months and 20 days.

What can be got for Five Dollars!!

THE undersigned have entered into an arrangement by which they agree to furnish the Knickerbocker Magazine, (monthly,) the Home Journal, (weekly,) and the Musical World and Times, (weekly,) to new subscribers, at the very moderate price of FIVE DOLLARS A YEAR for the three publications, all orders enclosing that amount to Dyer & Willis, will be promptly attended to.

SAMUEL HUESTON,
Publisher of the Knickerbocker.
MORRIS & WILLIS,
Publishers of the Home Journal.
DYER & WILLIS,
Publishers of the Musical World and Times.
257 Broadway, N. York.

Grand Literary and Artistic Combination.

Arrangements have been made to furnish the KNICKERBOCKER MAGAZINE, the HOME JOURNAL, and the NEW YORK MUSICAL WORLD AND TIMES, to new subscribers, at FIVE DOLLARS a year. This is cheap literature, with a vengeance. The Knickerbocker is Three Dollars per annum; the Home Journal Two Dollars; and the Musical World and Times Three dollars per annum. Total sum of the three publications, Five Dollars a year. That three such works can be obtained for Five Dollars a year, is a fact truly worthy the Celonic age, which is just now being ushered in. Of the Knickerbocker Magazine, edited by LEWIS GAYLORD CLARK, it is unnecessary to speak. For twenty years it has been the most genial, humorous and spicy monthly" in the world; and the present volume will be better than any that preceded it. The Home Journal, edited by GEO. P. MORRIS and N. P. WILLIS, is well known as the best family newspaper in America; and the Musical World and Times, edited by RICHARD STORRS WILLIS, with Lowell Mason, George H. Curtis, Thomas Hastings, Wm. B. Bradbury, George F. Root, and other musical writers contributing: and which gives, among other things, over $25 worth of music and a full course of instruction in harmony annually is the very best musical journal ever published. These three publications will contain nearly every thing worth knowing:—Art Sciences, Literature; Music, Painting, Sculpture; Inventions, Discoveries; Wit, Humor, Poetry, Sentiment; the Newest Fashions, and other attractions for Ladies; Solos New Music for the Sabbath, the Church, and the Parlor; Reviews and Criticisms of Musical Works, Performers and Performances; in short, the very pick and cream of Novelty, Incident, History, Biography, Art, Literature and Science; including whatever can be given in periodicals to promote Heel by Amusement and Solid Instruction in the family, and help to make it Better, Wiser and Happier, may be now obtained for Five Dollars.

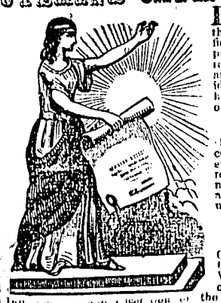
DR. MARCHISI'S UTERINE CATHOLICON.



IS RESPECTFULLY OFFERED to the citizens of Clearfield and vicinity as a preparation for earnest importance to families and destined to become identified with the health and happiness of FEMALES.

This CATHOLICON will cure 95 per cent of all those odiseases incidental to the respectable female, married or unmarried, and usually known under the name of Female Complaints.

Of these are Prolapsus Uteri or Falling of the Womb, Flour Albus, or Whites; Chronic [illegible] of the Womb; Incidental Hemorrhage, or Flooding; Painful, Suppressed, and Irregular Menstruation, &c., with all their accompanying evils, (Cancer excepted,) no matter how severe or of how long standing.

MANY PROMINENT PHYSICIANS in the city of New York and other places, finding themselves without a remedy in inveterate cases of the above complaints, and having due regard for the welfare of the patients, have recommended the use of this medicine; and after witnessing its anatory effects are now manifesting their approbation, not only by recommending it in their treatment of all the diseases for which it is intended, but in some instances accepting the agency of it to facilitate its introduction into more general use by the fair sex.

The influence of this composition upon the female constitution is of the most friendly kind; the most delicate and feeble female need have no fears in its use for any length of time, for it contains no mercury, nor any article which can prove in any way detrimental to the female organs

ADDITIONAL PROOF of this Catholicon being worthy the confidence of the afflicted, as a SUCCESSFUL, SAFE AND CHEAP REMEDY, will be found in the pamph et, together with important observations touching the nature and symptoms of the disease, to which the attention of Ladies and Practitioners is respectfully invited.

THE INGREDIENTS are entirely VEGETABLE, and are not only recommended, but ARE THE VEGETABLE, and are not connected with any article animal or animal economy.

From the Washington Union, April 19, 1853.

We publish below the prospectus of the "Democratic Monthly Review," which Messrs. William H. Lewis & Co propose to publish simultaneously in New York and Washington, the first number to be issued in May. Ovid F. Johnson, esq., formerly attorney general of Pennsylvania, and well known as an able and vigorous writer, will take charge of the editorial department of the new Review with purposes, as shadowed forth in the prospectus, which challenge the sympathy and good wishes of the democracy. The daily press cannot supersede the necessity for well-conducted monthly publications There is a separate field of usefulness for each when properly edited, with a view to the maintenance of important principles, and not to the aggrandizement of individuals, factions, and classes. We trust that the new enterprise of Messrs. Lewis & Co. will be managed with that prudence and zeal which insure success:

PROSPECTUS
OF THE "DEMOCRATIC MONTHLY REVIEW."

The Rights of the States, and the Union of the States.

IT is the intention of the subscribers to publish on the first day of every month, beginning with the month of May next, simultaneously in the city of Washington and New York, a periodical, to be entitled the "DEMOCRATIC MONTHLY REVIEW." Each number will contain at least 96 pages, and be printed on fine paper in a very superior style. It will also be embellished with a fine steel engraved portrait of a distinguished living statesman, soldier, artist and author. The political character of this Review will be, as its title indicates DEMOCRATIC and one of its main objects to elucidate the true principles of the democratic party. It will examine, in a spirit of fairness and candor, all the leading measures of the present administration, and accord to them a cheerful support. Should we, however, unfortunately differ in opinion on any point from the President, we shall not hesitate to express our own sentiments, and present the reasons that constrain us to do so—submitting to the democracy of the country the decision between us.

This Review will also aim to furnish its readers with a graphic and comprehensive notice of the new works published, which may seem to be entitled to it, and also a record of all scientific discoveries and improvements.

The present condition of the nations of Europe, and the attitude in which some of them stand towards certain portions of this continent, have invested our foreign relations with the utmost importance. Never was this government placed in a situation of more critical difficulty than at the present moment. The most inflexible firmness, increasing wisdom, and adroit skill will be required to avoid complicating our interests and difficulties with those of Europe. We confidently trust the administration will be equal to the task. We shall watch with unsleeping eye the progress of affairs in Mexico and the West Indies. Here is the point of our vulnerable part.

The Review will abstain from all personality, and seek to harmonize and unite the democratic party, both in feeling and principle. It will be the servant of no clique, faction, or individual. The editor will speak for himself, independently and fearlessly, under a thorough sense of the responsibility he assumes. The undersigned have selected an editor, who, they believe will secure for him universal confidence and respect. From this article the public can form a correct estimate of the merit of this publication. Several of the most distinguished writers in the country have engaged to become regular contributors to our pages. We ask neither confidence nor patronage if they be not deserved.

Our first number will contain a general outline of the course we design to pursue in future.

The editorial department will be under the control of OVID F. JOHNSON, esq.

Valuable Real Estate
AT PRIVATE SALE.

THE subscribers, in behalf of the heirs of Conrad Wise, late of Pike township, Clearfield county, deceased, offer at PRIVATE SALE the following described well known and valuable REAL ESTATE consisting of

A FARM OF 106 Acres,

Situate in Pike township, Clearfield county, on the main road leading from Curwensville to Tyrone, four miles from Curwensville, and known as the Wise Farm.

The improvements consist of about 75 acres of cleared land, in a good state of cultivation, a Large Dwelling-House, a Large Bank Barn, Spring-House, Dry-House, Shop, and other necessary buildings, together with one of the largest, best selected, and most productive APPLE and PEACH ORCHARDS in the county.

This FARM is well supplied with excellent water, never failing Spring close to the door, with others so situated that at a little expense water could be conveyed to any part of it the house or barn. To those who desire to procure a HOME FOR LIFE, this Farm offers inducements not to be excelled in the county. The land is of good quality, thereby productive, and well adapted for both grain and grass—and it is located in the midst of a populous and industrious settlement, convenient to a good market, good grist mills, and a good school.

☞For further particulars apply to either of the subscribers or to Moses Wise, on the premises.

The property will be sold on the most reasonable terms and a warrantee deed given.

MICHAEL WISE.
WILLIAM WISE.
