A CURIOUS SERMON.

An English paper contains the following curious discourse, said to have been lately delivered by an eccentric preacher, at Oxford:

41 am not of your fashonable, fine spoken; mealy mouthed preachers-I tell you the plain truth. What are your pastime? Cards and dice, fiddling and dantime? Cards and dice, fiddling and danting, guzzling and glutting! Can you be strong guzzling and glutting! Can you be strong guzzling and glutting! Can you fiddle yourselves into a berth among the sheep? No! You will dance yourselves to damention among the goats!—You may guzzle wine here, but you'll want a drop of white here, but you'll want a drop of the prophets say, "Come here, gamenters, and teach us the long odds!"
