Reside the barren causeway to the town. From chilly morn till night's dull lid shut down.

When passing once upon a mountess night. I cast a sudden startling look around: There rose the iron hammer in its might-It fell but made no sound.

No branney sledge on a rocky farm Could surer make the hard-heads smoke and glow; One would not think so old and lean an arm Could strike so brave a blow.

I watch the faces of the fair proud ones, Berne gaily by, fur-robed and charioted To glean one smile from him that braketh stones, !

That he may treak his bread.

No smiles for him! those golden gifts they keep For wealth's soft handed, sleek, effeminate heirs Perchance the workman on his straw, in sleep, Has sweeter dreams than theirs

Amid the rumbling of incersant wheels, Where close at windward rolls the dusty world, He stands: but lo! a burning tear-drop steals, And on the wind is whirled. Hours he a sweet voiced spirit at his side,

The loved, lost angel of his early years?
Or hears he but the hollow, hungry tide, Lapping the bring piers? He looks upon the river lagging by.

Weary with its long journey from the hills: He, too, is weary, but the sea is high, With endless rest from ills

He asked no sympathy; would that he had

Something to love, some bright-haired chattering To climb his knee, and keep his worn heart glad-Birds sour, but I must crawl," his lips repine, Seeing a white gull glancing through the day Ere long, as that proud bird flings off the brine.

DHILADELPHIA MEDICAL HOUSE. - Es tablished 20 years ago by Dr. KINKELIN, corner of Third and Union st's, between Sprace and Pine, Philadelphia, Pa.

INVALIDS are apprised that DR. KINKELIN confines his practice to a particular branch of medicine, which engages his undivided attention. He cantions the unfortunate against the abuse of Mercury; thousands are annually mercuralized out of Recent afflictions are promptly extinguished TWENTY YEARS OF EXPERIENCE in the treatment of a class of diseases bitherto necla and imperfectly understood, has enabled Dr. KIN. KELIN, (Author of a work of Self-Preservation,) to prove that nine-tenths of the causes of nervous obility, local and constitutional weakness, mental one traceable to certain springs of domestic misory and premature mortality. THE subscriber would respect-fully announce to the citi-evil habit sometimes indulged in by boys, in soil. zens of Cloarfield County, and tude, often growing up with them to manhood, and the public generally, that he has commenced the business of SAD-serious obstacles to matrimonial happiness, but DLING AND HARNESS MAKING at his Shoe gives rise to a series of protracted insidious and deshop, where he will punctually attend to the orders vastating affections. Few of those who give way of all who may favor him with a share of their cus- to this pernicious practice are aware of the conte. tom. He intends to keep good workmen, and will quences, until they find the nervous system shatter, sell cheaper than any other shop. He tenders his od, feel strange and unaccountable feelings and sheet, and to all business in that line on the unable to labor with accustomed vigor, or to apply shortest notice, and is determined to sell cheaper his mind to study; his step is tardy and weak, he is dull, irresolute, and ongages in sport with las nergy than usual.

If he emancipate himself before the practice has done its worst, and enter matrimony, his marriage is unfruitful, and his sense tells him that this is which should awaken the attention of those simil larly situated.

MARRIAGE requires the fulfilment of several conditions, in order that it may really be the cause of mutual happiness. Could the veil which covers the origin of domestic wretchedness be raised, and its true source in every instance disclosed, in how many could it be traced to physical disquelification: and their attendant disappointments. Apply then while it is yet time, in order to have your unstrung and relaxed organization re-braced, revivified and strengthened. Remember he who places himself under Dr. Kinkelin's treatment may religiously confide in his onor as a gentleman, and rely upon the assurance, that the secrets of Dr. K.'s patients will never be
