NAME OF SOCIETY.
The name of the Society shall be the Clearfield County Agricultural Society.

Sec. 1. The objects of this Society are to foster and improve Agriculture, Horticulture, and the Domestic and Household Arts, and shall be auxiliary to the Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society.

Sec. 2. The officers of the Society shall be a President, a Vice-President from each township in the county, three-fourths of whom shall be practical agriculturists, or horticulturists, a Treasurer, a Corresponding Secretary, a Librarian, and an Executive Committee, consisting of five members.

Sec. 3. The President shall have the superintendence of all the affairs of the Society. In case of his death, or illness, or inability to perform the duties of the office, the Executive Committee shall select a Vice-President to act in his stead, who shall have the same power, and perform the same duties as the President, until the next annual election.

It shall be their duty to take charge of the affairs of the Association in the several districts; to advance all its objects; to call upon Farmers to report as to the condition of Agriculture in their neighborhoods; to ask for information as to the modes of cultivation adopted by different Farmers; and so far as in their power to make known the resources of their districts; the nature of its soil; its geological characteristics; and all such matters as may interest the Farmers of the county.

The Treasurer shall keep an account of all the monies received, and shall only pay bills when audited and approved by the Executive Committee; each order for payment must be signed by the Chairman of the Executive Committee.

The duties of this office shall be to invite a correspondence with all persons interested in Agriculture, or Horticulture, and at each stated meeting of the Society, shall lay such correspondence before it; he shall also correspond with the State Agricultural Society.

The Librarian shall take charge of all books, pamphlets, etc., belonging to the Society, and shall act as curator to preserve seeds, implements, or whatsoever property the Society may possess—the Library to be kept at one place, open however, to the inspection and reading of all the members, but books not to be loaned away from the Library, unless receipts be taken there for by the Librarian.

The Executive Committee shall transact the business of the Society generally; shall superintend and direct the publication of the Report, and transactions, as they may deem proper, and shall designate the time and place for annual exhibitions, regulate the expenditures, examine all accounts, and keep such general charge of the affairs of the Society, as may best promote its interests. They shall also hold a general meeting at the time of the Annual Exhibition, and special meetings whenever convened by the Executive Committee.

Sec. 5. Whenever any member shall fail for one whole year to pay his annual contribution to the Society, he shall no longer be considered a member, but shall forfeit all his right in the Society, and in the property thereof.

Sec. 6. The Constitution may be altered or amended at the annual meetings in February, by a vote of two-thirds of the members in attendance.

Sec. 7. Any By-Laws deemed necessary for the government of the Association, may be proposed to the Executive Committee at any annual meeting, of the Society, who shall adopt, amend or reject the same, by a vote of a majority of the members present, as they shall deem advisable.

Honey-Blade Grass.—The Ohio Citrus grass that the grass lately introduced into this country, and called by some, honey blade, is only the German millet—the Panicum Germanicum, which in some soils has been found to be a very valuable forage plant. They are selling the seed at nine dollars per bushel, in some places calling it a new grass, when you ask for it by its proper name, German Millet, or Hungarian grass, it can be had for two dollars. The New York Observer says that it is now becoming quite common, and it would be willing to supply the whole country with the seed, which can be raised as cheap as oats.

Why are Cashmere shawls like dead people? Because you can't make them here.

The "Great Republic" Monthly

TO THE FARMER, THE AGRICULTURIST, THE ARTIST, AND THE POET.

WITH the honor to announce that we shall issue, on or about the first of December next, as it is to be in season to command the early attention of the public and the periodical trade, the first number of a new illustrated magazine, to be called the "Great Republic" Monthly. It is intended to make this magazine superior in every respect to anything ever before issued in this country. The general scope of its character can best be indicated by its name. It will be thoroughly National—no wise sectional or sectarian, and wholly impersonal. It will offer to the writers and thinkers of this Union a common field, where they can meet on the highest ground of contemporary literature. It will aim to gather about it every variety of intellectual culture.

The range of articles will be a wide one, covering, among other grounds, Essays, Sketches, Humorous Tales, Stories, Historical Incidents, Reviews, Critiques, Biographical, Scientific Articles, Travels, Ballads, Dramas, Incidents, Politics, Poems, Epigrams, Sonnets, Music, etc., Correspondence, Gossip, etc., etc.

The Magazine will be profusely illustrated in the highest style of wood engraving. The Literary department will present a great variety, combined with more thorough excellence, than ever before offered to the American public in a single periodical. The following authors and popular writers are included in the list of contributors engaged:—Geo. D. Prentiss, Charles Swain, Fitz Green Hall, C. C. Smith, George W. Brown, H. C. Brown, G. P. Morris, Nathaniel Deering, Hon. Chas. Gaynor, Wm. Gilmore Simms, Park Benjamin, Hon. Albert Pike, of Arkansas, Abbe Adrian Ruethe, Hon. R. T. Conrad, Rev. Ralph Hoyt, Seth Smith, (Jack Downing), J. T. Hendley, (etc., comprising a long list of writers, among whom are many of the most popular in the country.)

Each number will contain an original piece of music composed expressly for this work. Of the superior excellence of the Magazine in every respect, and of the certainty of its permanent success, very little more need be said. The terms and general conditions of the Magazine will be as follows:

There will be two volumes a year, of about 700 royal octavo pages each, commencing in January and July, and ending in June and December, respectively making six numbers to each volume, and twelve numbers to each year.
