

Home Affairs.

MOVING TIME.—As the first of April, known as "all fools day," approaches, the evidences of the flitting propensities of the creatures which inhabit this airy sphere, become numerous and striking. The little birds flit round among the leafless branches of the trees; the migratory swan and wild goose, flit over their heads in long dark lines of soaring wings and noisy throats, wending their way to some land to flit from when the seasons again in their ceaseless roll shall summon them to seek a temporary home near the equator; the prowling wolf and cunning fox, which during the winter lurked in the vicinity of the settlements, join in the general flit, and scamper off to the distant forests and mountains to rusticate during the summer; the man, the most unsettled and irregularly migratory of all creatures, completes the scene by turning everything "loopy" in his house inside out and furniture side down, and peddles off to some other domicile, sometimes scarcely knowing the why or the wherefore.

But we intended at first to confine our remarks to a more limited field.—CLEARING UP.—but we have inadvertently strayed beyond its limits, and well nigh lost sight of our theme, which was to speak of the flitting which is about commencing in our little borough. Several changes of habitation will take place before the close of the week, and various other arrangements which will alter somewhat the aspect of our town. However, we trust nobody will get so far away that their friends will be unable to find them.

TAKEING THE RESPONSIBILITY.—TO OUR correspondent, "Woodward" we would say, that while we admit his right to vindicate his township, and those who have in former years represented her in county conventions, we deny his right to use unbecoming language in his communication, however willing he may be to "take the responsibility," which he so kindly offers to do.—That responsibility rests not with the correspondent or contributor, but with the editor, who has alone the right to say what shall, and what shall not, appear in the columns of his Journal. We have however published his letter, first altering and expunging such expressions as we considered offensive, for which we take the responsibility, as has been and will continue to be our course while we control the "Alleghenian." We say this in no spirit of hostility to Woodward or the object of his article. Upon the contrary, we regard him with a feeling of friendship, and think him right in repelling the accusation against his township; although we have no hesitation in saying, that the author of the letter signed "Democrat," was convinced of its entire correctness, or he would not have made the assertion; and further we wish it to be distinctly understood that no offensive language can appear in our columns, if we are able to discriminate between that which is offensive and that which is not.

A DECIDED IMPROVEMENT.—If we are not mistaken, we commended at the time the action of the late Town Council, authorizing the citizens residing on second street to fill up and gravel their street, and receive a credit upon their accruing taxes. The wisdom of the measure has certainly become apparent to all who have observed the dry and firm condition of that portion of the street which has been repaired, and compared it with the balance of that and the other streets; which have been little else than immense beds of thick mortar in which everything attempting to wade are in danger of swamping; while second street during the same time, has afforded better crossing at any point than any of the crossings elsewhere. Will our present Council and the citizens not persist in thus improving our streets and making the m navigable without risk, at all seasons?

THE AVENGER.—We this week commence the publication of a most interesting story with the above title, which we copy from the Home Journal, one of the best edited and most popular family newspapers in the United States. The story will continue through several papers, how many we are unable to tell, as we have not received the whole of it yet. We shall endeavor while continuing the story to maintain the usual variety of reading matter besides. We would advise our subscribers to file the papers and thus preserve the story.

THE RIVER has not been in running order for several days and rafting is over for the present, unless the late "showers" should have furnished sufficient water to swell the streams again. The bulk of the lumber, however, has undoubtedly left the country, and any that may be yet to go, are some stray rafts that have been delayed by accident, or some of the other uncertainties attending the business.

THE WEATHER.—Since the late storm the weather has been moderate, and upon the whole pleasant, with occasionally one of the brief showers so common in our climate. The last one occurred yesterday and last night, and was only of about seven hours duration.

CLOVERSEED.—The attention of Farmers is called to the announcement among our advertisements, of Wm. Irwin of Curwensville, who states that he has fifty bushels of this important article for sale.

CHANGE OF RESIDENCE.—Any of our subscribers changing their residence, as is customary about this period, can have their papers sent to their new address, immediately upon giving us notice to that effect.

OUTRAGE.—We copy the following account of an atrocious outrage committed at the Harrisburg Market, from the Daily Patriot and Union. 'Tis a pity the perpetrator was allowed to escape.

On Saturday morning, while Mr. George O.—, a well known and much respected butter dealer in market, was busy dispensing his golden "Glades" of three days' gathering, a sinister looking person, who had been noticed lurking in that vicinity, pounced suddenly upon him, and bolting in his ear the interrogatory, "If Sickles is guilty of murder, what is Butter-worth?" instantly made his escape before Mr. O.—, who was naturally somewhat staggered by the suddenness of the assault, could call for assistance.

Books and Periodicals.

The Life, Speeches and Memories of Daniel Webster.—This handsome and valuable work from the publishing house of Duane Rulison has been received, and fully comes up to what the publisher promised. The life of the illustrious Statesman is from the pen of Samuel M. Smucker A. M., a gentleman who has won for himself a distinguished position among the literary men of the country for the beauty of his style and the extent of his researches as a historian. The speeches are the most celebrated of the wonderful effusions of the great mind whose genius they will perpetuate while the English language is remembered; the reply to Hayne, the speech in the U. S. Senate in 1850 on the compromise bill, speech on the Greek revolution in the national House of Representatives in 1823; speech on the trial of Knapp for murder at Salem Mass. and others.—To which is added the eloquent tributes poured out upon the bier of the great man, by the spirits who had known and appreciated his mighty intellect, while in life, when the nation was called upon to mourn his decease.

It is an instructive book, and as a repository of the greatest of the labors of so great a man, this work is unsurpassed, and it should be in the library of every American citizen no matter in what light he views the political sentiments of a Statesman who his most inveterate enemy would not deny the merit of exalted patriotism.

It is perhaps to be regretted that the author in his biography of the great statesman has allowed his political bias to appear too strongly in delineating the character and recording triumphs of his hero. Triumphs that were more the result of the gigantic intellect of the champion which seldom found an antagonist who could withstand the shock of his charge, than of the intrinsic merit of the cause or the inherent truth of his doctrines. But let it only be remembered by Americans that he gave his wondrous powers in aid of compromise measures of 1850 and all the rest may be forgotten.

THE BOOK can be had at the Quaker City publishing house of Duane Rulison No. 33 south 3rd st. at $1.75 to $2.00 according to binding.

Mrs. Southworth's New Book.—The Lady of the Isle. By Mrs. Emma D. E. N. Southworth. Author of the "The Lost Heiress," "Deserted Wife," "Missing Bride," "India," "Wife's Victory," "Retribution," "Discarded Daughter," "Curse of Clinton," etc. etc. Complete in one large volume, neatly bound in cloth, for One dollar and Twenty-five Cents; or two volumes, paper cover, for One Dollar.

This work will prove to be the most attractive one ever written by Mrs. Southworth, for she is excelled by no living female writer. Whoever reads the first page, is sure to be carried on to the last.—Her style is free from insipidity on one hand, and bombast on the other; and though we meet with forcible, we are never startled with inflated language. Her characters are rarely under, but never overdrawn. Her scenes are life pictures, her incidents are founded on facts, and her sentiments are characterized by a singular purity both of conception and expression. She has the rare faculty of saying what she means, and of saying it in such a manner as that her meaning cannot be misinterpreted. In short, she possesses in an eminent degree those qualifications which are the peculiar prerogatives of a good and great writer; while she delights the readers imagination with her descriptive beauty, she applies home truths to his understanding with the force of rational conviction. The "Lady of the Isle" will be pronounced by all who examine it, to be her best work. This is sufficient to commend it to perusal by all, and we anticipate for it a large sale and unwonted popularity.

PRODUCE WANTED. Wheat, Rye, Oats, Corn, Buckwheat, and Fire-Wood, wanted at the office of the Clearfield Republican in payment of printing. Dec. 1, 1858.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effective stimulant that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the disease Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

SCHICULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERECTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SORE HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPHEMIA AND INDIGESTION, HEMIPLEGIA, RHEUMATISM, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which foster in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many ranking disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this purgation of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overturned.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else. During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointments has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irrefragable by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO., LOWELL, MASS. Price, $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills, FOR THE CURE OF Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dropsy, Low Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetters, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, or a Dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood. They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our AMERICAN ALMANAC in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure. Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations; they make more profit on Demand AYER'S, and take no others. The sick want the best and there is for them, and they should have it.

All our Remedies are for sale by SOLD BY—C. D. WATSON, and M. A. FRANK, Clearfield. E. F. BRIDGEMAN, Morrisdale. C. R. FORSTER, Philipsburg. Wm. IRVIN, Curwensville. SAMUEL ARNOLD, Luthersburg. And all druggists. [Dec. 22, 1858.]
