Clearfield

PRINCIPLES, not MEN.

TERMS-$1 25 per Annum, if paid in advance.

OL. XXXI.—WHOLE NO. 1631.

CLEARFIELD, PA. WEDNESCAY, NOV. 21, 1860.

NEW SERIES-VOL. I.-NO. 19.

Select Poetry.

THE HUSKERS

BY JOHN G. WEITTIER.

ap high the furmer's wintry hoard. Heap high the golden corn 1 richer gift has autumn poured From out her lavish horn.

Let other lands exulting glean The apple from the pine, The orange from the glossy green. The cluster from the vine,

We better love the hardy gift Our rugged vales bestow, To cheer us when the storm shall drift Our harvest fields with snow.

When springtime came with flow'r and bud, And grassy greeh and young, And morry bob'links in the wood Like mad musicians sung,

We dropped the seed o'er hill and plain, eneath the sun of May, And frightened from our sprouting grain The robber crows away.

All thro' the long bright days of June, Its leaves grew thin and fair, and waved in hot midsummer's noon, Its soft and yellow hair.

and now with Autumn's moonlight eves Its harvest time has come, We pluck away the frested leaves And bear the treasure home.

There, richer than the fabled gift Of golden showers of old, Fair hands the broken grain shall sift. And knead its meal of gold.

Let vampid idlers foll in silk Around the cestly board-Give us the bowl of samp and milk By homespun beauty poured.

Where'er the wide old kitchen hearth Sends up its smoky curls, Who will not thank the kindly earth, And bless our corn-fed girls !

Let earth withhold the goodly root, Let mildew blight the rye. Give to the worm the orchard's fruit, The wheatfield to the fly-

But let the good old crop adora The hills our fathers trod-Still let us for his golden corn Send up our thanks to God.

Miscellancous.

MATRIMONY AS A PURSUIT. [From the Daily Pensylvanian.]

tain future. She is continually spurring avoided. The traveller who is on the on such verdant disciples to hopeless ex- road of life searching for wealth, or knowpeditions against the calm repose so bean ledge, or fame, as circumstances may comtiful to behold in the female mind. And pel, will be very likely to fall into matrishe seems never to weary of work, and mony by accident, and ten to one he will never to tire of forming expedients by in this way find his accident a happy one. which young people of opposite sex may be brought together; there is scarcely a pair of unmated young folks in the whole circle of the good woman's juvenile ac-quaintance. It has been said that match-es are made in heaven. If so it is heave, is in this way and his accident a happy one. Marriage is not a garden of flowers, into which people go with a purpose to cull a flower which, they imagine will be agree. able to their senses, and will bloom with andying fragrance and beauty through where the passions and prejudices of men. We believe that sama mens in samo carpore applies to parsons as well as to par-ishioners, and that saints' bodies as well as sinners' are none the worse for an hour at the dumb bells or the weights. We have heave head to this accident to the sense is the sense of the sense o es are made in heaven. If so it is heav-en wherever Mrs. Matchmongyr is; and she is constantly preparing mansions for guests of her kingdom. She does not spend much time at home, for her occu-pation gives her extensive notoriety, and her services are not unwelcome to most of her young friends of the female sex particularly. At all events, it is quite observed when observed with reference to unavailing to attempt to exclude Mrs. Matchmonger from any circle of beaux pect, and untraumelled by the arts and all the ardor and interest of the youngest that may be the case, I admit, but again, and belles; if not invited, she will be industrious devices of men or women. there all the same ; if not taken in as an ally, she makes a kind of "raid" on the select assemblage, and taking the citadel by storm proceeds to organize and administer a government of her own, on the instant. Having assumed the proprietorship of the commune, she at once divides the inhabitants by pair, and setts them to work "getting notions," for each other. If a young lady is "difficult," the amiable nor tender trees, nor weeping trees, nor matron smooths the approach to her dignified presence, by blandishments and persuasive eloquence, in favor of slighted beaux ; if a young gentleman is too modest, she impels him by panegyrics on the charms of his future mate, on her excellence, her wealth, and finally on his own deserts, and the fact that he alone is worthy to win such a prize. The best of the story is in the fact, that Mrs. Matchmonger is, nine times out of ten, entirely successful, so far as the conthe foliage becomes sickly, and the tree unsightly. Others make so rampant a summation of her part is concerned; for when the "match is mated," Mrs. M's. work is done: when the benediction is pronounced over the work of her great intellect, she turns with a smile of satisfaction, and sets off at good speed for another "catch," as she calls her occupation .-As she never takes the trouble to look after the matrimonial welfare of her proteges, of course she knows nothing of their future life, nor does that kinds of interest seem to occur to her. If matrimony is bliss, the consummation has come with the first moment of the honeymoon ; and when people have got into paradise, what more do they want of their friends-not even their prayers. Perhaps the favorite game of Mrs. Matchmonger are bachelors of uncertain and the much abused Ailanthus, Disagreeable as is the oder of the flowers of age, who are apparently running to seed ence shows that it is in many respects very in a rather rapid and suspicious manner, an as Mistress Sarah Battle took dewithout any apparent object in life. For light in whist, and invested that social this class of her fellow-beings the "dear time with a gravity appertaining to one lady," feels a deep concern, which does of life's most serious avocations, and a dig honor to her heart, as well as to her pronity more commanding than that of any found knowledge of human nature, or her one of the learned professions-so doth the but methodical Mistress Matchmon-as she is pleased to express it. There is ger take an earnest and unflagging inter- no estimating the amount of missionary in the subject of matrimony, and lose duty which this woman performs among portunity of persuading men, and men who have lived long enough to know women —singularly gratuitous as this better, and, probably, will never leave off last act of charity may seem-of the pres-ent advantage and ultimate necessity for maining lives. It is a matter of regret that among this obdurate race of beings, "You see, my dear," she is wont to ob- the good dame's success is by no means rve to the school girl of fourteen sum- commensurate with her deserts. And s, whom she has cause to suspect of yet we have known Mrs. Matchmonger to reative giddiness, and a want of "per- make the happiness or misery of more t propriety" in the street-'you see my than one bachelor, who thought himself dear, that you should be ever mindful of proof against the machinations of any ur deportment ; never forget yourself "foe to freedom." One of her best levers so far as to commit the smallest indiscre- on such dead weights, as your forty tion, for you have no notion of what may year old incorrigibles, is the fortune game. We have known her in a case of desperader all circumstances, think of the future, tion-on the winning of which she had and compare yourself as you would like staked her reputation as Hymen's faith-to be, with what you may be. Be watch- ful servant-to suggest to an impenitent wretch off thirty five, not only the proyou can never know whose eye is upon you." It is proper to observe here, in or-der to prevent a contradiction in the char-ducement that 'as she was in consumption, the lucky husband might soon expect to serve that uniformity of purpose which become the sole owner of her fortune." Our bachelor friend to whom this remhead is a part of her person, - that by arkable proposition was made, happened whose eyes,' she meant "the eye of what to be rather grave in temper, and not alman, ' and not 'The Eye' to which religious ways alive to jokes of so subtle and delipreceptors refer as forever regarding the cate character as that. "Really," he reways of men and women, as well as of all plied, " he was very much delighted to hear that the young lady possesed so con-"As you cannot know this fact, my venient a thing as a large fortune ; that dear, be careful of opportunities. don't though he was not rich enough himself, forget the widow of the Russian Min- he knew enough of the want of money to r, recall the story of her walk from make a pretty good guess of its probable school on a certain day, and emulate the value; that he only regretted that the deportment of the lovely and accomplish- condition of her health was such as to portment of the lovely and accomplish- condition of her health was such as to prevent the enjoyment of her fortune for Thus does this widow of three and a many years; but that the proposition half husbands-the present faction being which was made to him was not exactly yet in tomb bodily, only spiritually in his line of business, as he preferred, if almed, as it were, in the grander in- he was driven to get goods on false pretensleet of his wife-commence at the foun- ces, to seek some commodity of sterner seaboard, from New York to Cape Race, ations of society to build up universal fabric and more durable nature than an

We believe in muscular Christianity. We believe that the minister of muscle will fight a more valliant and stronger battle with the passions and prejudices of able, nor those subject to attacks of insects of his flock.

Muscular Christianity.

he wage his great warfare with the enemy ot mankind, tied down with the impedimenta of an enervated and wasting body? Boes he not by a vigorous physical regimen a genial and kindly christianity, which good for nothing body ?

growth that their foliage hides the view We verily believe that if all our minisof the houses behind them, and renders What is chiefly wanted in a town tree is that it grows slow, never becomes very large, be proof against insects, bear pruning well, and accidental injuries also, and in short be very hardy. No tree, to our knowledge, possesses all of these qual-ities perfectly, yet some do, more than others. For example, the American White Blm, the common English Film, English Linden, Mountain Ash, Norway Manla and most of our pative manles the Maple and most of our native maples, the Horse Chesnut, the Red and White Beech, this last named tree, we believe experi- or dyspersia, or making long annual plea- stant endeavors to be tidy under such

Untidy Housekeeping - Women not Always at Fault

[PRIVATE NOTE .- What follows is not for knees winter after winter, through mannousekeepers to read themselves, but for them ure, in going to his staable, when for to sark, and place where their poorer halves will be pretty sure to see it.] It's very well, Mr. Editor, to be lectured about our housekeeping, to be told of the comfort, the felicity, and all that sort of tyro. Possibly Mr. Pecksniff or my lady it may not be. Here is an illustration Potiphar, who attend church quite punc- My friend Mrs. F---- lives in a two-story tiliously, may sneer at our reverend friend house on the main village street, where of the strong arm and chest, and if they there is almost constant travel over the knew who he was would drop their reli- unpaved road. Much of the time, clouds gious patronage ; therefore, we shall not of dust fill the air, and come sifting gratify their curiosity by mentioning his through every crevice, settling down upon name, at the risk of lessening the number of his flock. But, seriously, are the sinners the only ones to develop the human frame, by in- and dusts, to little purpose-to keep vigorating exercises? Shall the sheep clean, she would have to dust the air gambol all day upon the hill-side, and the itself. Now, when that house was built, shephard lazily doze in the sun ? Must she tried her best to have Mr. F. lay the foundation further back from the street on a line with his neighbors. One would think he might now fill the small yard during the week bring to his pulpit a fresh with trees, to exclude part of the dust, or steck of strength, a new activity and vigor, cover the road with gravel, or occasionally spread tan bark over it, to keep it from shall commend itself to all men, at all rising; but instead of that, he wonders times, and at all places? Are not half the that Mrs F. does not keep the parlor sins of the day the result of a lazy, puny, neater. When it rains, the dust settles into mud, and Mr. F. looks bad words at the tracks on the kitchen floor, but he ters would "cultivate their muscle," there has never laid even a plank walk from the would be less need for voyages to Europe, street to the door, and the edge of the less bronchitis and dyspepsia, and coun - sill is the only foot scraper. Mrs. F. long tenances as white as the neck cloths be- ago asked for a closet with hooks for low them; that we should have better hats and clothing, and shelves for the during the year in pulling down and put-sermons of a Sabbath; sermons with more children's books; but to this day, these ting up this abominable substitute appli-of the milk of human kindness in them, articles are distributed about upon the side to the making of doors. Would have of the milk of human kindness in them, articles are distributed about upon the ed to the making of doors, would have and clad with a new force and power, mantel piece, and on nails driven into the furnished him a life time. He is always which would at once seize upon and hold wall —that is, when she places them there, captive that most deceatful of all things, for the boys imitate their father, and lay the heart; that religion would be stripped their things on the first vacant chair or of all that Chadbandism which, if not a in an unoccupied corner. His lordship reality, at least has the outward seeming. uses the stove for a spittoon, and the table Were not the twelve better fishers of men cloth for a napkin ; he smokes in the sitbecause of their previous occupation ? We ting room, and mends his harness in the sit-cannot picture Paul with the bronchitis kitchen, and thanks Mrs. F. for her con-

ness of life find luxuriant foliage waving

ted. But, whether you live to see the ma-enough to p'ant for posterity. Transmit beauty received from your fathers, greatly and the result will overpay the labor .-- of time your work is like to last. If you have country homes to embellish, be con.

North American Review.

over them much sooner than they exper-

sure trips over into Europe for his health. difficulties, by wishing she would keep a But one man, miserable Europhus, slept neater house. If any one wants further I have seen a farmer richer desirable for planting in towns. It will But one man, miserable Eutychus, slept neater house. If any one wants further bear smoke, dust, and any amount of under his preaching, and he fell out of a evidence that the men need a share of the under his preaching, and he fell out of a evidence that the men need a share of the abuse. Somebody has styled it 'the Met-ropolitan Tree." This is certainly more Greek fathers, who have come down to us the wife has been absent a few days, and appropriate than the "heavenly" appella- as the leaders but Ambrose, Athanasius my word for it, they will be ready to make bandry, as would pay for them in two tion with which it was first introduced and Augustins? They were strong and some allowances for the apparent short years, if time so spent had been profitably robust, and admirably adapted for the un- comings of the HOUSEKEEPER. compromising fight they waged with the -Am. Agriculturist.

Things I have Seen. I have seen a farmer wade up to his ytars his garden has been unproductive for the want of an article so much in his way in the yard. I have seen a farmer pass fifty times by a breach in his fence and never stop to aright it, always putting it of till another day, until the greater part of his crop was destroyed.

I have seen a farmer plowing around bunches of briars until his field was so taken with them, that he was compelled to abanden and give it up to the neighbors around him as a blackberry patch in common.

I have seen a farmer but up his stock fodder in so careless a manner that the first wind would blow down the stacks :in which condition they would remain until the fodder was so spoiled that the half starved cattle would refuse to eat it, and he would wonder why his cattle were so much poorer than his neighbors.

I have seen a farmer who took great care of his fodder, but in feeding it to his cattle would let in the hogs, or not separate them from the cattle, and before they could masticate half their allowance, the remainder was rooted about, and so filthy that they must be more than half starved to cat it. He too, is one of the "wondering" class.

there was room enough; but no, he must be hollow tree with both ends open, and a I have seen a farmer feed a horse in a hole in the middle. "Oh." says he "the pigs will get what falls out." Yet strange to tell he never could account for the horses being always so poor. I wonder.

I have seen a farmer w.ho seldom went to where his boys were p owing, and when he did, it was the same thing; for they would merely skim the earth, cut and cover-and "wonder."

I have seen a farmer (and he a good rough carpenter,) who had not a door to his stables; he would stop the entrance with rails laid crosswise, leaving a hole to creep in and out when feeding. The labor lost during the year in pulling down and put-"wondering" how some folks have time to do such things.

I have seen a farmer, after all his labor and expense in growing, cutting, stacking, spreading, dew rotting, and taking up his hemp, throw hundreds of pounds in the corners of the fence ; to make room for another crop , again to be destroyed

I have seen a farmer richer then his no opportunity of persuading men, and last act of charity may seem-of the presentering into the married state.

come of it, or what may be lost by it. Une ful that you may never lose a chance ; acter of Mrs. Matchmonger, and to pre-is as much a part of her nature as her the children of uren.

ed Miss Williams."

and enduring monuments in honor of Hy- invalid heiress." nen, the only hero she ever worshipped, nd the only myth she ever pursued.

But our philauthropic friend, Mrs. ject again. Matchmonger, does not confine her labor rmanency of that happy condition, as married life, e necessity of renewing it at every good dame takes a kind of matern- attraction-one of nature's laws-are at-having no direct right to that much more likely to find agreeable coming sentiment of the female heart panions in each other, than if they had not her three and a half lords- met, while each was on the hunt after alfare of very young gentleman sombody or anybody. Marriage is like r means and of prospects feebly what the patriotic candidate says of makes people impatient if he does not The total increase in the population of the ber of game they have "bagged" during ng in the distance of an uncer- "place," not to be sought, and not to be continue the same enlivening key.

We do not believe that Mrs. Matchmonger ever tried her skill on that sub-

We have said that our kind friend nevof love to the rising generation ; she looks er follows up her achievements in matchbroad, and taking a comprehensive view making to see what they come to; but a of the generation which may be said to good many people have taken the trouble and still for a while, "waiting for some-to do this work for her, and they have and used, will, we are reliably assured, fy at the rate of one mile mer minute and n which is passing away, she gives ad-gratis to all whom it may concern on it is following after nature by an infracthe importance of instantaneous matri- tion of nature's laws, and generally fatal without so much reference to the to the happiness which is the reward of Marriage being of course the natural n; like a heavy note, which it is condition of the human race, it is best to Old Master Brown brought his ruler down, le to liquidate once and forever, enter it in the natural way, and conveylich must be renewed, with slight ancers for this kind of estate are not the ents in the principal, whenever it best mediums of a bargain for life. Parties who are drawn together by mutual from abroad. The above trees are proper for setting

Town Trees.

No more is every tree a town tree, than is every man made to live on a pavement and amid piles of brick and mortar. Those trees which grow very large, are not suit-these which cannot endure smoke and dust and hard usage generally. Considering the great number of species and varieties, native and toreign, one might sup-pose, at first, that it would be an easy matter to find suitable trees in abundance, but is it not so. Some sorts flourish well for ten or fifteen years, but afterwards become large and top-heavy, and are blown down by sudden gusts of wind. Some prosper finely when young, but when the bark happens to get a little injured by accident, the growth is suddenly checked, the wall damp and unhealthy.

by the sides of streets. For open squares Byzantine heathen. or parks, we may go further, and include the magnolias, tulip tree, larch, coffee-tree devote attention to the body as well as yellow wood, Judas tree, various oaks, the the spirit. A good heart in a good body chesnut, and an assortment of conifers .---In some of the Parks in this City, the than a good heart in a miserable body, Southern Cypress succeeds admirably, A certain admixture of innocent animal and is a beautiful tree. The weeping willow, if sparingly planted, is also suitable, into it which the midnight oil shall not and does well in this Latitude and southward.

By a little care on the part of those at fifthly to flog an insulting rowdy, or who have control of the planting, the the Allegheny minister who pounded the streets and parks of a city might be made to contain a good arboretum of ail the flogging blacksmith; but we really think trees growing in the Latitude .- American a little more muscle in the pulpit would A miculturist.

GARRIER PIGEON EXPRESS.- The general agent of the New York Associated Press was in our village a few days since for the purpose of locating some carrier pigeons which the Association are about to employ for the purpose of intercepting the in-bound European steamers, off Fire Island. The same parties have, for many years past, employed pigeons at Halifax, N.S., and at Sandy Hook, where they have proved of great service, and have, doubtless, contributed in no small degree to the Association's world-wide reputation for successful enterprise in outstripping all their opponents-whether editors, news agents or speculators-in the early reception of European news. Prompted by their past success, and inspirited, per- pound dumb-bell. - Chicago Journal. haps, somewhat by the expressed determination of a majority of the directors of the American Telegraph Company to strangle the Associated Press, and themselves control all the news of the old world and the new, the Association have, trimmed, whose hair you have cut, whose we understand, decided to extend their Pigeon Express to every point along the where it is possible to have the steamers intercepted. Among the points that are thus to be covered in addition to Halifax, kitchen with you at eleven o'clock at Sandy Hook and Fire Island are, we understand, Montauk Point, Nantucket, Portland, St. John's, N. F., and Caps and tied your bonnet; who has stood he-Race. The breed of birds used by the Association are the celebrated Antwerp finger on proboscis, scratching his chin ;at the rate of one mile per minute and unerringly, from the point where they are thrnwn up, to their home. Each bird will carry, when properly adjusted to its legs, matter enough to make a column of a newspaper .- Long Island Democrat.

His face was angry and red .

"Now Anthony Clare, go seat you there, Along with the girls !" he said. Then Anthony Clare, with a mortified air,

And his head down upon his breast, Crept slowly away, and sat all day

By the girl that loved him best.

TA man who astonishes at first soon State is 10,815.

TERE PLANTING .- "Have you never We hope more of our ministers will heard of that student who, on being told that the cow would sometimes live a hundred years, bought a young cow to try the is, in our opinion, a much better sacrifice experiment ?" Yes, indeed, we have heard of him,-the irony is excellent,-and of life with the spiritual, will infuse a vigor ber.' Still, we say plant trees. They waste. We may question the propriety who plant at once, instead of wasting of Peter Cartwright's stopping his sermon breath in selfish complaints of the shortusure less sleepy heads in the audience, and that the physical Zion conduces largely to the growth and importance of the spiritual Zion. It has too long been the notion that physical strength and spiritual sanctity Feed your trees from year to year with are incompatible. The days of those feeble young saints are numbered. "The good die first," because the good too often have poor stomachs and lungs. We are of the opinion that many may fear "God and walk a thousand miles in a thonsand hours," and that he will fear God all the better for it. We welcome the advent of Kingsley with his stout Amyas Leigh, Beecher with his sinewy arm, Chapin with his dyspepsia-defying frame, and our

Chicago divine swinging his hundred FANNY FERN'S "AWE" OF A HUSBAND .- A lady having remarked that awe is the most delicious feeling a wife can hold toward her nushand, Fanny Fern thus comments : Awe of a man whose whiskers you have cravat you have tied, whose shirt you have put into the wash, whose boots and shoes you have kicked into the closets, whose dressing gown you have worn while combdressing gown you have work with the of them, for instance, meets a hind of you lor, ing your hair, who has been down in the opposite party, and says, "Who do you lor, kitchen with you at eleven o'clock at yote for this time?" The reply is "for hooked your dresses, unlaced your boots, fore your looking-glass with thumb and whom you have buttered and teased ; whom you have seen asleep with his

CENSUS OF DELEWARE. The Wilmington his money also Gazatte has the complete returns of the census of the State of Deleware, from which we learn that there are in the State 110,542 free persons, and 1805 slaves, or "There is a lot of young men of fortune mouth wide open ; ridiculous. made a bet, and each one will, as a matter of course, not only lose his vote but THE FASHIONABLE AMUSEMENT AT NA-PLES .- The Times' correspondent says :-

112,317 inhabitants altogether; 19,257 at Naples at the present moment, mostly dwellings, 19,264 families, 6,666 farms, 615 Englishmen and Americans, who amuse slave owners. There are 254 slaves in themselves by going out by rail every New Castle county, 203 in Kent, and morning to Garibaldi's quarters before Ci-1.348 in Sussex. In 1850 there were in pus, and with valuable guns of long range. Newcastle 347, Kent 393, and Sussex which they have purchased for the pur-1,549-total 2,200. There has therefore pose, rick off the men at the outposts of been a general decrease of slaves all over the royal army all day, and return to the the State, reaching in the aggregate 485, city in the evening to beast of the nutri the neighbors, and to their great detriment, lose as much time in borrowing and returning the various implements of husemployed .- Franklin Farmer.

"How do you like arithmetic ?" said Mr. Phelps to John Perkins, as he came home from school, with his slate under his arm. "Not very well."

"How do you get along with it ?"

"Well enough. Sam Price does my sums for me."

"Why don't you get him to eat your Dr. Johnson's growl about 'the frightful dinner for you ?' interval between the seed and the tim-

"I could not live without eating. I should not grow any if I did not eat."

"Your mind won't grow any if you do not use it. It would be just as reasonable for you to get Sam to eat your dinner for you, as to ask him to do your studying turity of your trees or not, be benevolent for you."

A HINT THROWN AWAY .- A few weeks to your children the inheritance of rural after a late marriage, the doting husband augmented. By all means plant well, had some peculiar thoughts when putting on his last clean shirt, as he saw no ap-And let not your work end with planting. pearance of a "washing." He thereupon rose earlier than usual one morning and generous food, and guard them from ine kindled the fire. When hanging on the jury. And, in the words slightly altered kettiche made a noise on purpose to aof an old planter :- What joy may you ouse his easy wife. She peeped over the have in seeing the success of your labors blankets and exclaimed "my dear what's while you live, and in leaving behind you, up the day?" he deliberately responded, to your heirs, or successors, a work that "A'v put on me last clean serk, and am many years after your death, shall record gaun to wash a one to myself." " Vera your love to your country ! And the ra- weel, " said Mrs. Easy, "ye had better ther, when you consider to what length wash me and too!"-Glasgow Gazette.

REPUBLICS NOT UNGRATEFUL -- The year tent with simplicity. Let your dwelling in which Mount Vernon became the propplaces be marked with what painters call erty of the Union by the efforts of Amerirepose.' Make them the abodes of com- can women consummated the purchase of fort and refined enjoyment, places which the Grutii by the school children of Switzerwill always afford you agreeable occupa- land, at a cost of $11,000. The Grutii, near tion, but not oppress you with care .- Aldorf, and the birthplace of Tell, is the spot where, in the fourteenth century. three brave men entered into a secret AN ZLECTIONEERING DODGE,-A New combination to rid the country of its op-York paper mentions that some of the pressors, a movement which soon extensharp politicians there have invented a ded to the other cantons. The sale of this new dodge in the way of betting. One place, dear to every swiss, was concluded of them, for instance, meets a man of the on the one hundredth birthday of Schill

-, of course." "Lill bet you twenty you Tuz last Thursday (29th) of November. don't" is the answer, 'you'll change your will be the common Thanksgiving Day mind before election day." The wager this year. It has already been officially is unsuspectingly accepted, when the bet- named in New York, Pennsylvania, Masting politician goes in pursuit of another sachusetts, Maine, Connecticut, New victim. On election day he will chals Hampshire, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and lenge every greenhorn with whom he has lowa.

> UNKIND .- A female lately jumped into the water off Ormondsquay, Dublin, when a Mr. T. Harris threw off his outer garments and rescued her : On returning to land he found that a thief had stolen his clothes.

> If some men's bodies were not straighter than their minds, they would be crooked enough to ride upon their own backs.

> There was $305,000,000 of capital represented at the late Bailroad Time-table Convention at Cincinnati.

If a man is dissipated, his fortune will probably soon be so too.