

and affections still cling to our Union, and my prayers shall be that He who orders the destinies of nations, when he shall have chastened us for our sins, and humbled us before Him, will restore us again in mercy, and bind us together in stronger and more hallowed bonds of fraternity, to remain unbroken through all future time. W.M.F. PACKER.

CLEARFIELD, PA., JANUARY 9, 1861.

FROM WASHINGTON.—The news from Washington and the South are still very contradictory; but the best construction that can be put upon them, is dark indeed. If no change takes place in the southern mind within a fortnight, the worst features of a Revolution may be prepared for.

The Governor's Message. The last annual message of Governor Packer will be found at length in our columns to day. This necessarily excludes much of our usual reading matter which we had prepared for this week, as well as several communications, which will appear in our next.

The Governor very thoroughly discusses our State and National affairs in a becoming manner, and we hope our readers will give the message an attentive perusal.

Why he neglected to call the attention of the Legislature to the financial condition of the country, and especially to the conduct of those Banks in our State, who refuse to pay their liabilities, we cannot conceive, unless it is that he has full confidence in the ability of his successor; knowing very well that heretofore he has been an adept in establishing new Banks without capital, and that no doubt he will use the same appliances in reconstituting the old ones, and particularly those established under the administration of Governor Pollock.

"Stand Firm! Be True!" Such is the word of command given by the editor of the Journal, to his party. Yes, let the country go to ruin—let us have civil war, and sacrifice millions of men, and hundreds of millions of dollars, and disgrace our manhood in every shape and form, but don't utter one word of rebellion.

"We have nothing to apologize for, nothing to take back, as a party," says the Journal.

Of course it was all right to stigmatize "slavery and polygamy" "twin sisters of barbarism," in your National Platform of '55, and as they are "barbarians" no apology is necessary! "As a party," we have endorsed the "Helper Book," by 68 of our members of Congress, and our stump speakers in the late Campaign used it as a text book. It is true this book advocates the stealing of slaves, and the duty of slaves to murder their masters. But then those masters are all "barbarians," and therefore we have nothing to "apologize" for. And it is also true that at many of our late political demonstrations banners and notices revering the memory of John Brown, the murderer, were displayed without, and that the memory of that "Saint" is sacredly kept by our Redpaths, Parkers, &c., but then, they were "barbarians" whom he murdered, and of course we "as a party" "have nothing to apologize for—nothing to take back."

"Were not the principles of our party well understood?" asks the Journal; we answer, No—at least not as interpreted by the leaders of your party. Your leaders, as appears from the proceedings of the Senate Crisis Committee of Thirteen, say the verdict of the people in the late election was in favor of Congress prohibiting the extension of slavery into the territories, and in favor of Congress "abolishing" slavery in the district of Columbia, in the dockyards, &c., in the Southern States.—Will our neighbor tell us what proportion of the voters for Lincoln so understood the principles of his party, and who are now in favor of this interpretation of those principles? It will cost him but little trouble at least to approximate the truth. He might thus discover that there is some doubt as to his friends obeying his commands to "stand firm! be true!" in the persistence of a manifest wrong and the ruin of the country.

The Legislature of this State met at Harrisburg on New Year's day. R. M. Palmer, Esq., of Schuylkill, was elected Speaker of the Senate, and Russell Erett, of Pittsburgh, was re-elected Chief Clerk. The Democrats voted for Shindel of Lehigh, for Speaker, and Jake Zeigler for Clerk.

In the House, E. W. Davis, Esq., of Venango, was elected Speaker, and E. H. Rauch, of Carbon, was re-elected Chief Clerk. The Democrats voted for Dr. Hill, of Montgomery, for Speaker.

Hon. Henry D. Moore, of Philadelphia, will undoubtedly be elected State Treasurer.

E. Cowan, Esq., of Westmoreland county, has been elected United States Senator for six years from the 4th of March next. Mr. Cowan was first nominated by Cameron and Covode, Beginning to Yield.

With all our melancholy surroundings, it is indeed laughable to see what trouble the Black Republican newspapers and leaders have gone to persuade and deceive the public in reference to our domestic troubles.

The old cry of "step thief" within a few days has been vehemently raised against "Southern traitors," by the Black Republican presses and leaders, led on by the N. Y. Tribune—the Black Republican Bible. Thousands of their party believe the Bible to be a fable, and believe every word that appears in the Tribune; hence the wincing and squirming lately by the "Pubs." Having read the declaration in their Bible, they are about realizing the facts.

But notwithstanding the acknowledgments of the leading presses and politicians of his party, that bold and fearless (!) teacher and expounder of truth (!) still continues to compare the Revolution in South Carolina to a little school boy who "wants to go out."

If the Lawyers Ox is not gored before long we will be very much mistaken. But we advise the public to look out; when our little neighbor learns that the country is in danger, he will howl tremendously; he will espie a traitor in every countenance, and through his extended nostrils he will smell treason in every wind that blows from a Southern latitude, and no doubt advocate the erection of a gallows on every street corner to hang traitors upon.

We wish to know if he is in favor of the repeal of that portion of the 95th section of the revised Penal Code, commencing with "No Judge," &c.

The County Commissioners have made the following appointments for the ensuing year:

Solicitor, Wm. A. Wallace, Esq. Mercantile Appraiser, E. R. Livergood, Clerk, Wm. S. Bradley, Fuel contract, Thomas Lanich.

On Wednesday last, a committee of leading business men from Philadelphia, appeared before our Legislature with a Petition four hundred and fifty six feet long, praying that body to repeal the odious Personal Liberty clause in the late Revised Penal Code of our State; and we understand large numbers are pouring into the Legislature from different parts of the State.

To-morrow is the day designated by the Supreme Court for the hearing of the Cathcart case, upon the motion for a new trial. The decision will be given in a few days.

Dr. A. M. Hills notifies his friends that he will be absent from his office in Clearfield from now until the last of February with the exception of the January Court, during which he will be at home.

Dr. Hills desires us to say that he will visit New Washington and vicinity on the week after Court, commencing with the 21st of January, 1861. All orders left with Samuel Sebring will be promptly attended to.

The individual who sent us an opus relating to "A couple of young gentlemen," who attended some "church" last Christmas, and afterwards "staved" their "Sleig" to "Peaces," must let us have his name, if he wishes to see his production in print.

THE CRISIS!!

NOW IS THE TIME When Goods are indeed Sacrificed!!

BUSSMAN & REED.

In basement of Merrill & Bigler's Store, Clearfield, have concluded to clear out their large stock of DRY GOODS, AND BOOTS AND SHOES, at prices really astonishing.

This is probably the BEST CHANCE that will ever be presented to the LADIES of CLEARFIELD, and the public generally, for supplying themselves with THE CHOICEST ARTICLES, at the very lowest prices—prices, in fact, which are much lower than the dealer can be made to import for, and prices which nothing but the unsettled condition of the country has made. Note these low figures apply to a few leading articles only, but to everything in the line of Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes, JEWELRY—from Dress Goods to Domestic, all are embraced in THIS GREAT SLAUGHTER.

We will not mention any of our Goods nor prices here; all we say is, come early, and examine for yourself.

Each person purchasing Three Dollars' worth of Goods will be entitled to a GIFT, worth 25 cents to $5.—BUSSMAN & REED. N. B.—We shall not remain any longer than the 21st of January, 1861. jan 9-21
