WHAT IS A SNOB ?- A snob may be known by several characteristics. He is polite to his superiors; arrogant with those of lower station ; frowns on the rich; snubs the poor, and pretends not to know his own mother, when he chances to meet the old lady in unfashionable clothes .-He has plenty of brass and few brains ;and is always uneasy from a suspicion that his intrinsic vulgarity may fail to be hidden by his outward gentility.

A PERFECT MAN. -The man deserving the name is one whose thoughts and exertions are for others, rather than for himself; whose high purpose is adopted on just principles, and never abandoned while heaven or earth affords means of ac complishing it. He is one who will neither seek an indirect advantage by a speeious word, nor take an evil path to secure a real good putpose. Such a man were one for whom a woman's heart should beat constantly while he breathes posite the Journal office. and break when he dies.

Every one knows the height of virtue to which he may attain; but no man can anticipate the depth of deprav-ity to which he may descend.
