Bible Society.
The meeting of the County Bible Society held at the office of Esquire Wrigley, during the week, was adjourned to meet at the Methodist Church on Friday evening next, 15th of February. Election of officers and other business will be before the meeting. J. R. Fourn. Sec'y.

Rev. Mr. Ranyan will preach in the Baptist Church in Clearfield borough, on Thursday evening, February 21st, at 7 o'clock. The public are invited to attend.

Badly Frozen.—Two men, whose names we did not learn, left this place on Thursday last about noon, to walk to St. Mary's. The day was excessively cold, and after going some distance beyond John Shaw's Sr. on the old Sennemoaning road, were obliged to return to Mr. Shaw's, who bro't them back to the Paradise House, in Lawrence township. Their limbs were badly frozen, and they are now lying at Mr. Ogden's in a critical situation. One of them is from Harrisburg, and the other from Philadelphia.

The Fair.—According to an announcement in our last issue, the Entertainment advertised by the Ladies of the M. E. Church, of this place, was held in their Church, on Thursday and Friday last. As it was merely intended as a preliminary to one upon a more extensive scale, we think it was a decided success, but no one can wonder that such was the case, if they but took a glimpse of the fair faces of the members of the different churches offered for sale.

A Colt's Fingers Broken.—We see by the last Journal that a colt belonging to Ellis Irwin, Esq., of Gosport, Pa., had its fingers broken, coming up the hill beyond Jas. Irwin's, in Lawrence. We have not heard from the colt since the accident, but we hope its fingers are knitting.

Railroad Bridge Destroyed.—We learn that during the high wind which prevailed yesterday afternoon, six spans of the Northern Central Railroad bridge over the Susquehanna at Dauphin, were blown down. The bridge was an open one, and it seems almost a mystery how the wind could strike it with enough force to carry away the heavy timbers. The loss will be serious one to the company, but it will not interfere with trade or travel, as the cars of the company can reach Dauphin by the Pennsylvania and Dauphin and Susquehanna tracks on this side of the river.—Patriot & Union.

The snow storm on Thursday last seems to have raged—similar to the political storm—both North and South. Railroads were everywhere blockaded, and great damage has been sustained in different sections of the country. In Baltimore, houses were unroofed, chimneys were blown down, and several persons were seriously injured.

Our neighbor down street published the proposition of Mr. Kellogg, last week. We hope he will now publish, for the benefit of his readers, the speech that gentleman made in Congress, on Saturday last, in support of his proposition.

The Rev. J. C. Fletcher gave us last evening, a brilliant lecture on the religion, customs and people of Brazil. Scarcely have we relished anything more than the picture he laid before his audience of that exuberant garden of the tropics laden with its strange variety of fruits and flowers, teeming with perpetual harvest for the hand of man. Surely that country must be the garden of the world, and if its people had the enterprise which moves this Yankee nation, imagination could not set a bound to the results they would produce there. As relevant to this comparison the Reverend gentleman stated that the best Remedies employed there for the diseases to which they are subject, are invented and supplied to them by their own well known countryman, Dr. J. C. Ayer of Lowell, Mass., and that not the people only but the priesthood and the court of the Emperor down, have constant recourse in sickness to the Remedies of this widely celebrated American Chemist.—[Lodge, Boston.]

TIME FOR AN OLD DARKEY TO BE MOVING.
It is reported that the recent prompt obedience of the law at Cleveland has caused quite a scattering among the runaway slaves, both in that and neighboring cities. A darkey hack-driver in Toledo showed great presence of mind the other evening. Coming up from the depot the other evening, with his hack, he jumped from the box as soon as he reached the Collins House, where he was employed, not stopping to let his passengers out. He called the proprietor of the house aside, and requested payment of his wages, giving therefor a very good reason, as follows: "It's time for dis feller to be goin'—I've got my ole mass in de carriage."

An ice boat, on Cayuga N. Y. Lake, ran across the ice on New Year's day at the rate of half a mile a minute.

Demand made upon the State by the General Government

In the year 1837 Congress passed an act distributing among the several States a large surplus of revenue, which had accumulated in the Treasury, beyond the existing wants of the government. The money was apportioned among the States and called a deposit. Pennsylvania received $2,400,000 for her share, upon giving a certificate to the Secretary of the Treasury, which pledged the faith of the State for the safe keeping of the money, and the repayment of every part thereof, from time to time, as the same should be required. The act further provided that when said money or any part thereof should be wanted by the Secretary of the Treasury to meet appropriations by law, the same should be called for from the several States. Well, the money is required now to satisfy demands upon the National Treasury, and Mr. Dix, the Secretary, has notified the Governor that the State will be required to guarantee the payment of bonds of the United States, to the amount of the sum deposited in the State Treasury, payable after the expiration of twenty years. By this means the State will lend her credit to the General Government to sustain it at a time of great embarrassment. We understand that not portion of the money is now required by the Secretary of the Treasury. The State having pledged her faith for the safe keeping of this fund and its repayment upon the requisition of the Secretary of the Treasury, is now bound to fulfill its obligation.

This $2,400,000 was deposited in the State Treasury during the latter administration, and expended in the Gettysburg railroad and other fancy projects.—Patriot & Union.

PROGRESS OF THE IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT IN THE BLACK REPUBLICAN PARTY.—The war between the Wood and Greeley factions of the black republican party wages hotter and hotter every day. They talk now of a reconstruction of their organization, putting Seward at the head, with Weed at the tail, and Webb to do all the fighting for the concern. As for Greeley, he is to be left out in the cold altogether, and as a proof of the truth of the old adage that misfortune never comes singly, we perceive that the Spruce street philosopher has been getting into trouble in the West. The other day he went to Springfield and poured his griefs into Abraham's bosom, in a confab which lasted during four or five hours. On the way home Greeley resolved to combine business with pleasure, and pick up a few dollars by a lecture in St. Louis. He started for that city; but hearing that it was probable the Missourians would mob him, he turned tail and commenced running for dear life, with the old white coat streaming out behind. Little Raymond, in his celebrated retreat from Solferino, did not make better time than that of his confederate, Hon. Massa Greeley. Where he is now we cannot say—probably he has not yet stopped in his "wild career."

Meanwhile Webb, Seward, Weed & Co. are preparing to divide the spoils among their friends, and poor Greeley is not to have even a dry bone for his share. He has borne the battle and the heat of the day, and is to be deprived of any participation in the fruits of victory; he has planted the vineyard, but others will enjoy the produce thereof. Such is the fate of people who put their faith in princes, or place confidence in the promises of politicians.—Herald.

The Washington Cadets

Will meet for parade and drill, in Clearfield borough, on Friday, February 22d, 1861, at 10 o'clock a. m.

By order of the Captain.
J. BLAKE WALTERS,
February 13, 1861. First Sergeant.

A Card.

The undersigned has many reasons for being grateful to the citizens of Clearfield, for their exertions made to save his family and property during the recent burning of his dwelling, and adopts this as the best mode of returning his sincere and heartfelt thanks. To many who perilled their health, and in some instances their lives, especial assurances of kind remembrance are offered. Everything was done that could be done under the circumstances, and much more was effected than could have been reasonably expected. The generous hospitality of those who, in his absence, tendered the comfort of their homes to his houseless family, only serves to strengthen the bonds which have so long united him to his old friends and neighbors. That each one may be preserved from such a calamity, and from any other affliction in life, and be permitted to enjoy every real blessing, is the sincere wish of one who must remain under the deepest obligation to his friends.

Clearfield, Feb. 13th, 1860. G. R. BARRETT.

AND YOU WOULD HAVE IT. If you only knew how useful, how instructive, and how entertaining it is. We refer to that "first best," that largest, most instructive, most beneficial, and yet cheapest journal in the world for the household, for the farm and for the garden, viz: the American Agriculturist.

You want it, because it contains so very many new and useful directions, hints, and suggestions about all kinds of outdoor work in the Garden, in the Field, in the Orchard, on the little plot of ground about domestic animals, &c., &c. The Agriculturist is not a stale rehash of theoretical stuff, such as goes the rounds from one paper to another, but it is filled with new practical information, every word of which is reliable, because prepared by honest, practical working men, who know what they write about.

Each volume contains many hundreds of useful hints, and it is certain that many of these hints will be of worth to you more than a dollar. As an example, a subscriber writes: "... I obtained 5 bushels more per acre on a ten-acre field of wheat, (or in all 50 bushels) simply from a hint about preparing seed given in the Agriculturist." Another says he obtained an extra yield of 11 bushels of corn per acre on a fifteen-acre field, and with no extra cost for culture, by applying one hint from the Agriculturist.

The above are truthful statements, that will be cheerfully stated by nearly a hundred thousand of the present readers of the Agriculturist. You are invited to try a single volume of the Agriculturist, which will cost you $1, and abundantly pay for itself. Try it for 1861 (Vol. 21.)
