RATING.—The warm days of last week brought out the red shirts to such an extent as to warn us that rating was once more upon us. Since Thursday last there has been a fine running flood in the river, and the sound of the axe, the clink of the dog-wedge, and rolling of timber could be heard at all points. Several rafts have passed on their way to market, but whether the owners will realize anything for them, depends a little on the coming of "Uncle Abe's" promised good times.

BOOMS.—An effort is now being made to obtain a charter for a boom at Jersey shore, and may perhaps pass through the legislature. We sincerely hope, however, that that body may have some regard for the interests of our country and reject the bill. The booms now erected at Williamsport and Lock Haven, in addition to interfering with the free navigation of the river, annually cause the loss of lumber to the amount of thousands of dollars to our hardy lumbermen—some of whom are often depending upon the proceeds of that same lumber to secure a home for their wives and children—No more booms we wish all our heart.

LOOKING.—One of the evils that follow in the train of this business, is, that many of the speculators who engage in it are irresponsible, designing men, who manage to secure the labor of hard-working men of our country during the winter by promising to pay when the logs are ran, and then flee them out of their hard earnings. Every spring some of these customers turn up, and this season is no exception, as we observe by the rueful faces of jobbers and laborers visiting our lawyers and seeking the remedy of the law when it is now perhaps too late.

THE CONCERT.—The Concert of the "Washington Cadets Saxo Horn Band," was given on Monday evening according to notice. We were pleased to observe that our citizens have such a liberal disposition to encourage this excellent band as was shown by the large attendance. The band acquitted themselves finely, discoursing excellent music such as cannot be surpassed by many of the crack bands of the State.

A NEW SUE.—William H. Clark, editor of the Kendall (Ill.) Clarion, loves a good joke, and never lets an opportunity slip that promises a dish of fun. Here is his last:

"We have lately got a new suit of clothes, and no man could be more effectively disguised. We look like a gentleman. Upon first putting them on felt like a strange cat in a strange garret, and for a long time thought we had been swapped off. We went to the house, and started the baby into fits; our wife asked us if we wanted to see Mr. Clerk, and told us that we would find him at the office; went there, and pretty soon one of our business men came in with a strip of paper in his hand. He asked if the editor was in; told him we thought not; asked him if he wished to see him particularly; said he wanted him to pay that bill; told him we didn't believe he would be in; business man left. Started to the house again; met a couple of young ladies; one of them asked the other, 'What handsome stranger is that?' In this dilemma we met a friend and told him who we were, and got him to introduce us to our wife, who it now as proud of us as can be. The next time we get a new suit, we shall let her know before hand."

None but the physician knows how much a reliable alternative is needed by the people. On all sides of us, in all communities everywhere there are multitudes that suffer from complaints that nothing but an alternative cures. Hence a great many of them have been made and put abroad with the assurance of being effectual. But they fail to accomplish the cures they promise because they have not the intrinsic virtues they claim. In this state of the case, Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell, have supplied us with a compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, which does prove to be the long desired remedy. Its peculiar difference from other kindred preparations in market is, that it cures the diseases for which it is recommended, while they do not. We are assured of this fact by more than one of our intelligent Physicians in this neighborhood and have the further evidence of our own experience of its truth.—Tennessee Farmer, Nashville, Tenn.

VISIT OF JEFF. DAVIS TO MAJOR ANDERSON.—A gentleman who arrived here by the steamer Columbia, and who professes to be well informed on the subject, states that shortly after the arrival of Hon. Jefferson Davis at Charleston, it was quietly arranged for him to pay a visit to Fort Sumpter, which was accomplished privately. The interview is represented to have been an earnest and prolonged one, but all immediately in the secret were left wholly to conjecture as to what took place between him and Major Anderson. It was, however, been knowingly given out at Charleston that there will be no fight at Fort Sumpter—great stress evidently being placed upon the fact that these two old acquaintances in the army cannot be brought into bloody conflict with each other.—N. Y. Times.

A RAID UPON WASHINGTON.—Gen. Scott, Mr. Fouché Kennedy, and several other well meaning persons, have been much exercised in their minds of late by the rumor that Governor Wise and a band of marauders from Maryland and Virginia contemplated a raid upon the Capitol, with a view of seizing upon the public property and killing off the personnel of the incoming Administration. We believe that no one except Mr. Fouché Kennedy is now afraid of Wise & Co., but there has been a descent of Goths and Vandals upon Washington, and they came in the shape of Western politicians, more numerous and troublesome than the locusts that devoured the substance of the Egyptians. They all have designs upon the public treasury, and it is not improbable that they will kill off the President elect, as they did Harrison in 1841. Every man of them has known Old Abe since he was born; more than five hundred have been on board the same flatboat; and taken whiskey out of the same cup with him. As for the rail splitters who have worked side by side with the second Washington, they are as numerous as the sands on the sea shore. As Lincoln is fond of story telling, he can repeat to them the yarn about the boy who said all his little brothers and sisters had the measles, and he was only deprived of the same luxury because there were "not measles enough to go round." And so he must send them about their business, for every man—even country politicians—has a business, such as it is.—Herald.

Northern Men Visiting the South.—The New Orleans Picayune of a late date says:

Any man is as safe here as he ever was, who does not make a fool of himself and meddle in what does not concern him.—If he calls us all 'traitors' and 'rebels' and denounce the State as a corporation of 'pirates' and 'robbers' he may probably pick up a quarrel which may end in his leaving the city abruptly. But any man, North or South, East or West, who comes here on business or pleasure, can pursue his mission of either, or both, without perceiving anything uncommon or strange in his intercourse with our people except a preparation for issue to which the new position of the States may give rise. It is a device of aggressive Black Republicanism, which seeks the most desperate and unscrupulous means to keep itself alive by keeping the country in a state of perpetual agitation and alarm, which represents the state of things here as any way tending to anarchy and terror. We would be at peace with the West. The Abolitionists will not have peace if they can prevent it.

JEFFERSON'S PROPHECY COMING TRUE.—In 1820, Mr. Jefferson writing to John Holmes used the following prophetic language.—How sadly true it is now proving: But this momentous question, the Missouri Compromise, like a fire bell in the night, awakened and filled me with terror. I considered it at once the knell of the Union. It is hushed, indeed, for the moment; but it is a reprieve only, not the final sentence. A geographical line, coinciding with a marked principle, moral and political, once conceived and held up to the angry passions of men, will never be obliterated, and every irritation will mark it deeper and deeper. I regret that I am now to die in the belief that the useless sacrifice of themselves by the generation of 1776 to acquire self government and happiness to their country, is to be thrown away by the unwise and unworthy passions of their sons, and that my only consolation is to be, that I shall not live to weep over it.

Dr. A. M. Hill's desires to notify his friends and patrons, that he will be at his office in Clearfield, opposite the Clearfield Hotel, until after the June Court, with the exception of the second week in May. Persons desiring his services will do well to call before that time.

Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet. The following is Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet: William H. Seward (N. Y.) Secretary of State. Salmon P. Chase (O.) Secretary of the Treasury. Montgomery Blair (Md.) Secretary of the Navy. Simon Cameron (Pa.) Secretary of War. Edward Bates (Mo.) Attorney General. Caleb B. Smith (Ind.) Secretary of the Interior. Gideon G. Welles (Conn.) Postmaster General.

A western paper announcing the death of a gentleman in Iowa, says: "He was a great admirer of Horace Greeley, but otherwise a very respectable man."

To Justices of the Peace. Justices of the Peace, who intend lifting their commissions, must give notice to the Prothonotary within thirty days after election.

DIED. On Sunday evening, March 3, of pneumonia, JAMES W. STANFORD, of Morris township, aged 20 years and 13 days. In his death his family mourns the loss of an affectionate husband and father, the community a much esteemed and useful citizen. Venango papers please copy.

YOU WANT IT.

YOUR WIFE WANTS IT.

YOUR CHILDREN WANT IT.

IT WILL CERTAINLY PAY.

AND YOU WOULD HAVE IT. If you know how to use the American Agriculturist, you will be able to do it. It is the best, the largest, the most instructive, most beautiful, and yet cheapest journal in the world for the household, for the farm and for the garden, viz: the American Agriculturist.

You want it, because it contains so very many new and useful directions, hints, and suggestions about all kinds of out-door work, in the garden, in the field, in the orchard, on the little plot of ground, about domestic animals, &c., &c. The Agriculturist is not a stale rehash of theoretical stuff, such as goes the rounds from one paper to another, but it is filled with new practical information, every word of which is reliable, because prepared by honest, practical working men, who know what they write about.

Each volume contains many hundreds of useful hints, and it is certain that many of these hints will each be worth to you more than a dollar. As an example, subscribers write: "I raised 2 bushels more per acre on a ten acre field of wheat, (or in all 20 bushels) simply from a hint about preparing seed given in my Agriculturist." "Another says he obtained an extra yield of 11 bushels of corn per acre on a fifteen-acre field, and with extra cost for culture, by applying one hint from the Agriculturist." Another (a villager) says he got $143 worth extra of good garden vegetables, which he attributes wholly to the timely hints in the Agriculturist, which told him from time to time what to do, how to do it, and when to do it. Thousands of others have derived similar advantages. You are invited to try the paper a year, at a cost of only $1. If you desire, you can have, free of charge, four or five parcels of choice seeds, which the Publisher will distribute among his subscribers the present winter.

Your wife wants the Agriculturist, because it has a large amount of valuable and really useful information about all kinds of household work from garret to cellar. Give her the benefit of this paper for a year. You will find your home made better, and money saved.

Your children want the Agriculturist, for it contains a very interesting, useful and interesting department for youth and children, which will be of great value to their minds and hearts. The above are truthful statements, which will be cheerfully attested to by nearly a hundred thousand of the present readers of the Agriculturist. You are invited to try a single volume of it. A year's subscription will cost only $1, and about daily pay. Try it for 1861 (Vol. 26).
