The Clearfield Republican.

WEDNESDAY NOV., 12 1861.

☞ It is rumored that the Post Master at New Washington has absquatulated.—What is up? Is that locality too Democratic.

DEAD.—We regret to record the death of Wm. Leonard one of the earliest settlers of this county. He died at his residence in Goshen township on Sunday last, aged 82 years.

VERY ACCOMMODATING.—The two young gentlemen who came down from Curwensville on Sunday night with a horse and buggy, and took a young lady home from Church, because the roads were so very muddy. There that followed on foot found it just so.

☞ We observe that Dr. Bryant formerly of Luthersburg, is raising a company of volunteers in Jefferson county for the war. The Doctor is a clever fellow, but he should have been dealing his stalwart blows against the rebels along the Potomac long ago. We like to see such a man go to war he was eager for the "fray" last fall and ought to have "pitched in" ere this. There are a few of the same sort left behind yet.

SUICIDE.—Mrs. Liddell, wife of Thomas Liddell of this place, committed suicide on last Wednesday morning by cutting her throat with a razor. Mrs. Liddell was visiting her father's, Mr. Johnson, of Jordan township, and on the morning of the day mentioned, in the absence of the other members of the family she, laid her child in the cradle, and taking her father's razor, gave herself two fatal cuts across the throat. No cause is assigned, other than that of temporary aberration of mind. She leaves but one child.

THE WAR NEWS!

The news by last night's mail seem to indicate general quiet among the war elements.

The report published in the afternoon papers for several days that Floyd had made an attack on Gen. Rosecrans in Western Virginia, prove to be entirely unfounded, as later and more reliable information from that section make no mention of any engagement, but that all was quiet.

We have nothing important from Missouri, the threatened rebellion, if Fremont was removed, existed only in the brains of a certain class of army buzzards—men who furnished horses, hay, oats, &c., at enormous prices. It was even threatened that if Fremont was removed a Western Empire would at once be formed, and that the Administration would be made to shake in their boots. But it has been done and "nobody hurt,"—unless it is the army contractors under Fremont.

Gen Hunter has assumed full command of the department of the West, but has made an entire change of the Fremont programme. Price and McCulloch are not half so near our forces as they were said to be the day before Fremont was removed. The cool nights seem to dampen the ardor of both armies a little, and Fremont's removal may keep off a fight for some time.

The news from the Potomac are unimportant. Gen. McClellan seems to be busy making winter arrangements for his army Gen Beauregard has left Manassas, and gone South to look after the great Naval expedition. Thirty five dead bodies have been fished out of the Potomac, subjects of Ball's Bluff.

The Naval expedition has suffered some losses, but to what extent is not known. It appears that the destination of the fleet was Bull's Bay, about twenty three miles south of Charleston, but after arriving there and making an examination, it seems that the minds of the officers reverted back to another celebrated Bull—Bull Run; and profiting by experience they set sail for Port Royal, about midway between Charleston, South Carolina, and Savannah, Geo. The fleet had commenced a bombardment of the place, and if captured by our forces will prove a fatal blow to the rebels, as it would be nearly equal to the occupation of Charleston or Savannah.

Where is Bulls Bay?

The New York Commercial answers as follows:

Bull's Bay is situated twenty three miles north east of Charleston light; the entrance channel to which is along the northern extremity of Bull island, between that and Bird's island.

The bay is about ten miles long from north to south, and about three miles wide. The entrance to the bay is about six miles wide, and is obstructed by a bar, at one point of which only are soundings sufficiently deep for the passage of heavy vessels, giving fifteen feet at low water. The coast from Bull's Bay south to Charleston harbor bears the peculiar character of the whole southern coast, being a series of islands and inlets to creeks running between Sullivan's Island and the mainland. Within the northern point of Bull's island is a good harbor. The country about Bull's Bay is sparsely settled, and at some distance from the coast is traversed by the common road, from Charleston to Georgetown; which crosses the Santee river about ten miles from the coast. The nearest town or village is Mount Pleasant, on Charleston harbor.

COAST SURVEY'S REPORT ON BULL'S BAY.

In the report of the United States Coast Survey of 1857, we find the following as the report of Mr. Boutelle and his sub assistant, R. Huger, jr.

During the month of of February the work was carried forward over Bull's Island and through Bull's Bay to Cape Roman by the parties working jointly. Bull's Bay we found to be a large sheet of shallow water, intersected with numerous narrow channels leading from the Creek entering the Bay, but suitable for navigation only of light draft vessels. A very fine harbor of refuge is made by the north eastern end of Bull's Island, with a safe and easy entrance from sea by night or day, and ABOUT FOUR FEET MORE WATER THAN AT CHARLESTON BAR."

"Although the coast survey of this entrance was published in 1850 and a light house has since been erected here, I cannot," says Professor Bache, "see that the pilots have in any instance taken vessels in for refuge."

In the U. S. Coast Survey report of 1859 the Bay is described under the head of Hydrography. In March and April of that year it was surveyed by Lieut. Bankhead in the schooner Crawford, who reported as follows:

The inland passage leading to the southward and westward was sounded out as far as Capers Island. * * * I doubt whether it will ever be used except as a harbor of refuge for coasting vessels, for which purpose, however, it is well adapted, being easy of access, affording a good holding ground and having abundance of water (in the channel) for that class of vessels. The small channels that traverse the bay are too narrow and irregular in their depth for anything but vessels of the lightest draft."

and again the same report says;

The inland passage connecting with the bay I find to be too narrow and crooked for any other than very small steam or sail flat boats, there being but one foot of water at mean low tide, and a width of only fifty feet at the narrowest part.

While engaged on his working ground in this section, Lieut. Bankhead furnished to a deputation from Charleston, sent to examine in regard to the availibility of Bull's Bay for a quarantine station, such hydrographic data as could be supposed to bear upon the station.

☞ Can our Abolition defender over the way, inform his readers why General Fremont disregarded the order of the President, ordering him to modify his emancipation proclamation? If Generals disregard and nullify the commands of the Commander-in-Chief! What is to prevent the citizen and the common soldier from doing the same?

☞ It seems now that the Administration did not remove Fremont because of his extraordinary expenditures, but thinking that he and his friends had "feathered" their nests well enough, they intend to quarter a new set upon the Government, so that the funds may be more equally divided. A grand idea!

DIED.—In Union township, on Thursday the 7th instant,——Son of David and Hannah Welty, aged about 3 years.

SEWING GIBBS. WILCOX & MACHINES.

Price with Hemmer and Feller,

$35 00.

THIS MACHINE HAS A POINT OF SUPERIORITY PECULIARLY ITS OWN.

Stitching, Hemming, and Felling with a Single Thread.

It forms a flat, even, and elastic seam, which is WARRANTED not to rip in wear, even if the seam is cut at frequent intervals, and also under all circumstances TO SURVIVE THE WASH TUB.

A Patented device of great utility to learners, prevents the possibility of the machine being run in the wrong direction, or the balance wheel wearing a lady's dress.

Another feature which deserve particular attention is

☞ THE WILCOX PATENT NEEDLE CANNOT BE PUT WRONG.

Two thousand stitches, or two yards of work, can be done in one minute without dropping a stitch.

These machines, as simple and accurate in their construction, supersede the use of the shuttle; and with one thread produce all the practical results of the two thread machines; and more, for these fell without basting, and hem the finest muslin without puckering.

Although at about half the price of the other first class machines, they will accomplish double the sewing in a given time

"It is emphatically the good, low priced Family Sewing Machine that the public have long been waiting for."—Boston Transcript.

"It is indeed a wonderful production, and for family use especially, no other will bear any comparison with it."—Philadelphia Evening Journal.

"A mechanical wonder."—Scientific American.

"Among the best and most serviceable Sewing Machines. Light and elegantly finished and so simple in its construction that it seems almost impossible for it to get out of repair."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

"Has combined with its own peculiar merits all the really valuable improvements of the higher priced machines."—Pennsylvanian.

"This machine, in the opinion of the committee, fills more nearly the requirements of a perfect family machine than any on exhibition."—Franklin Institute Exhibition Report of 1858.

"Taking into consideration simplicity, cheapness, durability, and doing all work, the committee were unanimously in favor of the Wilcox & Gibbs as a single thread machine."—Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society's Report.

"We must, in justice, express our confidence in the merits of the Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine. We consider that a great deliberation has been supplied by it, in proving, beyond doubt, that two threads are not, as was supposed, necessary to a good instrument."—Christian Advocate and Journal, June 21, 1860.

"We have one of these machines in use, and think more highly of it than of any of the number we have tried."—Richmond Whig.

The undersigned, Missionary to Constantinople, has examined more than twenty different kinds of Sewing Machines, and after some six weeks experience with Wilcox & Gibbs' Patent, he has purchased one of them, as the best adapted to the wants of his family, and as the least liable to require repair. OLIVER CRANE.

Boston, July 3, 1858.

The undersigned, during eighteen months has had in almost constant use, in his family Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine, upon which has been made the clothes of his large family, from muslin to pilot cloth—including the clothing required for his several boys; and in no case have the seams failed, although in hard service. The machine now in use in his family has required no repair, and is in all respects, well appointed, efficient and durable.
