WISHES. How many sick ones Wish they were healthy!

Varieties

Good temper is like a sunny day, it sheds a brightness over everything;

A gardiner is described as being requested to set his master's watch by his sun-dial, when he forthwith planted it in the ground close to it.

"Why don't you limit yourself?" said a physician to an imtemperate person; "set down a stake that you will go so far and no farther."

The following advertisement appeared in one of the city dailies: "Wanted—A situation as son-in-law, in some respectable family."

A letter from the McLean Regiment says: "To day the Col. ordered an inspection of some hard bread, or army crackers, to be made, which resulted in condemning forty-six barrels out of fifty."

A priest of Milan, Italy, was much struck with the repentant air of a young, elegantly dressed man, the other day, and gave him absolution. He soon afterwards found that he had lost his valuable repeater.

An old lady, who was unacquainted with military terms, asserted in a company of gentlemen that her son was an officer in the army. "What is his rank, madam?" "I don't recollect," said she, "but the word ends with 'al'."

A young man who was about being married presented himself to the priest for confession. He appeared rather embarrassed, and did not seem to know how to proceed to enumerate his errors.

"Father," said a young hopeful, the other day, "How many fowls are here on this table?" "Why, said the gentleman, as he looked complacently on a pair of nicely-roasted chickens that were smoking on the table, "there are two."

"Watch.—Stand upon the edge of this world ready to take wing, having your feet on earth, your eyes and heart in heaven."

The cup of Clero changed men to swine—that cup is common now—it contains strong whiskey.

The Christian's Surety. "Simon, Simon, Satan hath desired to winnow you as wheat"—here is the believer's toll—"but I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not!"
