ARTICLE 9—SECTION 7.—That the printing presses shall be free to every person who undertakes to examine the proceedings of the legislature, or any branch of government; and no law shall ever be made to restrain the right thereof. The free communication of thoughts and opinions is one of the invaluable rights of man; and every citizen may freely speak, write and print on any subject; being responsible for the abuse of that liberty. In prosecutions for the publication of papers investigating the official conduct of officers, or men in public capacity, or where the matter published is proper for public information, the truth thereof may be given in evidence; and in all indictments for libels, the jury shall have a right to determine the law and the facts, under the direction of the court, as in other cases. Constitution of Pennsylvania.

EDITORIAL CHANGE.—We notice that Clark Wilson, Esq., editor of the Indiana Messenger, has sold out his interest in that paper to J. W. Westlake.

ARRIVED.—Our friend, Lieutenant John Bigler is at home on furlough, and looks as though camp life agreed with him to perfection.

IN NEW QUARTERS.—Our Court is now in session in the new court house, which is in such state of completion as to afford every accommodation, not only for the court, but for all the county offices. The structure is not less imposing in appearance than it is comfortable and convenient in the accommodation furnished to all parties interested. It has cost a large sum of money—made so by the misfortunes of the country since it was projected—yet we doubt if there is a single tax payer of the county, who has had an opportunity of comparing the present condition of the public business with what it was formerly, will regret the additional expense. This court house together with its internal arrangements, is much superior to any of those in the surrounding counties, and is inferior to but few in the State. Even Philadelphia would be proud of such accommodations for her courts.

UNUSUAL VISIT.—Our town was visited last Saturday night, by frequent and vivid flashes of lightning, followed by distant, though distinct peals of thunder. We cannot call to mind any similar visitation in this latitude so near the middle of winter. It continued to rain all night and all day Sunday, and the ground being frozen, of course soon reached the streams, swelling them bank full.

☞ A flag, containing seventeen Stars, was raised at Turkey Hill School House a short time ago. This traitorous emblem disappeared in a single night about the 5th inst., to the deep mortification of the rampant republicans of the neighborhood. When our readers are reminded that Turkey Hill School house is not far from Crooked Run School house, they can readily judge the truthfulness of the story that the Breckinridge Democrats of that vicinity are secessionists.

☞ The Hon. Philip Johnson and Col. C. J. Biddle will please accept our thanks for valuable Congressional documents.

Our thanks are also due Messrs. Hall of the Senate, and Early and Ziegler of the House, for public documents from Harrisburg.

CROOKED RUN, Jan. 9th, 1862.

Messrs Editors:—Having seen a communication in the Reftsman's Journal of January 1st., purporting to be from "one who was present" at a debating society at Crooked Run school house, on Dec. 28th ult., which intimates that a large majority of the democracy are secessionists on the Ridges, I wish, through your paper, to correct the statement. The writer says, "After the question was discussed, the Judges brought in their verdict for secesh, some fellow got on a bench and proposed three cheers for the South, which was responded to by a large majority of the Breckinridge Democracy." Now, the truth is, there was not one "Breckinridge Democrat" responded to the proposal, and only about 10 or a dozen boys; there was but one man over nineteen years of age that took any part in the demonstration; my own impression is, that he did not say one word, and I was standing within six feet of him at the time, but I am certain that he was the only one. Some say that he did, others say he did not. It is the opinion of three-fourths of all the people that were at the school house, that if it had not been for a very violant, anti slavery, abolition speech, delivered by a rank republican, there would have been no demonstration at all. That speech caused all the disturbance that occurred. And again he says, "and then proposed three groans for the north and such groaning no mortal ever heard". Now, it is surprising to me to find that ten or a dozen boys can make such horrible groaning as he talks about.

The above is a correct and true statement of what took place at the school house at that time, which can be testified by three-fourths of all that were there. Now it is evident to my mind, that the correspondent of the Journal, either did not want to state the truth as it really was; but wanted to injure the reputation of the democracy of this place by publishing an untruth, or he was not there.—Perhaps he would be surprised when I inform him that the inhabitants of this district are as loyal to the Union, as they are o any place in Pennsylvania. Yours, R

AN INTERESTING FACT.—The London Engineer asserts that while wages and iron are much higher in America than in England, locomotives of the same weight and dimensions in the United States, range at from 20 to 25 per cent lower prices.

SEWING GIBBS & MACHINES. WILCOX

Price with Hemmer and Feller,

$35 00.

THIS MACHINE HAS A POINT OF SUPERIORITY PECULIARLY ITS OWN.

Stitching, Hemming, and Felling with a Single Thread.

It forms a flat, even, and elastic seam, which is WARRANTED not to rip in wear, even if the seam is cut at frequent intervals, and also under all circumstances "TO SURVIVE THE WASH-TUB."

A Patented device of great utility to learners, prevents the possibility of the machine being run in the wrong direction, or the balance wheel wearing a lady's dress.

Another feature which deserve particular attention is

☞ THE WILCOX PATENT NEEDLE CANNOT BE SET WRONG.

Two thousand stitches, or two yards of work, can be done in one minute without dropping a stitch.

These machines, so simple and accurate in their construction, supersede the use of the shuttle; and with one thread produce all the practical results of the two thread machines; and more, for these fell without basting, and hem the finest muslin without puckering.

Although at about half the price of the other first class machines, they will accomplish double the sewing in a given time

"It is emphatically the good, low-priced Family Sewing Machine that the public have long been waiting for."—Boston Transcript.

"It is indeed a wonderful production, and for family use especially, no other will bear any comparison with it."—Philadelphia Evening Journal.

"A mechanical wonder."—Scientific American.

"Among the best and most serviceable Sewing Machines. Light and elegantly finished, and so simple in its construction that it seems almost impossible for it to get out of repair."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

"Has combined with its own peculiar merits all the really valuable improvements of the higher priced machines."—Pennsylvanian.

"This machine, in the opinion of the committee, fills more nearly the requirements of a perfect family machine than any on exhibition."—Franklin Institute Exhibition Report of 1858.

"Taking into consideration simplicity, cheapness, durability, and doing all work, the committee were unanimously in favor of the Wilcox & Gibbs as a single thread machine."—Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society's Report.

"We must, in justice, express our confidence in the merits of the Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine. We consider that a great desideratum has been supplied by it, in proving, beyond doubt, that two threads are not, as was supposed necessary to a good instrument."—Christian Advocate and Journal, June 21, 1860.

"We have one of these machines in use, and think more highly of it than of any of the number we have tried."—Richmond Whig.

The undersigned, Missionary to Constantinople, has examined more than twenty different kinds of Sewing Machines, and after sometent, weeks experience with Wilcox & Gibbs' Padaphe has purchased one of them, as the best adapted to the wants of his family, and as the one liable to require repair. OLIVER CRANE.

Boston, July 3, 1860.

The undersigned, during eighteen months has had in almost constant use, in his family Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine, upon which has been made the clothes of his large family, from muslin to pilot cloth—including the clothing required for his several boys; and in no case have the seams failed, although in hard service. The machine now in use in his family has required no repair, and is in all respects, well appointed, efficient and durable.

VULCANITE BASE FOR Artificial Teeth!

ATTENTION is especially called to this article as a substitute for Gold in inserting Artificial Teeth.

Many persons who have tried all kinds of Metallic Bases PREFER this. And those cases where it is aplicable it will undoubtedly become a substitute for Gold, Silver or Platina.

Its chief advantages are cheapness, lightness and perfect adaptability to the mouth, it having a soft and fleshy feel to the parts with which it comes in contact.

A. M. HILLS is prepared to put up teeth on the Vulcanite Base with Goodyear's Patent Gum, which is the only reliable preparation and which can only be had through their regular agencies.

Dr. Hills will always be in his office on Fridays and Saturdays, unless notice to the contrary appears in the public papers on the previous week.
