

We take the following from a Nashville letter published in the Philadelphia Press.

Not knowing the exact loss on either side, I cannot say which army suffered the most. The rebel loss (two generals killed, one severely wounded, and three slightly injured. According to the Rebel Banner, published the third day of the fight, they lost in two days three colonels killed and five wounded; two majors killed and five wounded; seventeen captains and lieutenants killed and thirty-one wounded. I think they lost about one thousand killed and six thousand wounded. I think the following will not be distant from the facts of the case:

Commissioned officers killed and wounded: 400; killed enlisted men, 1,800; wounded not in our possession, 5,000; prisoners, wounded and otherwise, 3,000; deserters, 600--total, 10,000. The enemy also lost two stands of colors and nine pieces of cannon.

We (Union) lost one general killed, and one severely wounded, and a prisoner. We also lost the services of one general seriously wounded. The rest are slightly injured. We also lost the services of twenty-seven colonels killed and wounded, slightly and seriously. Just guessing I place our losses as follows:

Commissioned officers killed and wounded, 250; killed enlisted men, 900; wounded enlisted men, 4,500; prisoners, 4,000. Total, 9,750.

We also lost about a million dollars' worth of property, including wagons, ambulances, horses and mules, commissary and hospital stores, &c., which were captured by Wheeler and Wharton in our rear, besides a number of teamsters and soldiers, say about 250. Total, 10,000. We lost 27 pieces of artillery, and a large amount of officers' clothing, but no colors. The rebels have one hundred and thirty-one regiments of infantry and thirty-five of cavalry, but will hardly muster 50,000 men each, although they claim that number as an average, which would give them at the battle of Stone's river about 50,000 men.

We had 111 regiments of infantry and 19 of cavalry, which, throwing in the artillery, will average 400 men, as many of the new regiments are quite full. This would give us a force of 52,000 men previous to the battle.

You will perceive by the figures that the forces were pretty high balanced, as the above are strictly correct.

The Next Year for Convancing Agents

HARPER'S FEDERAL HISTORY OF THE GREAT REBELLION IN THE UNITED STATES.

MESSRS HARPER & BROS. have been appointed the sole agents in New York of a complete History of the Great Rebellion in the United States. The work has been for many months in course of preparation, by a writer every way qualified for the task.

The Introduction contains a clear and concise account of the formation of the Confederacy of the States; the formation and adoption of the Constitution of the United States, and the establishment of the National Government; the origin, development and progress of the doctrine of Nullification and Secession, and the various phases which they assumed until their final culmination in the Great Rebellion.

The History comprises a full account, drawn from the most authentic sources, of all the Events of the War; the intricacies of the Southern Policy at home and abroad; the gradual defection of the Southern States; the great Uprising of the People for the maintenance of National Life and Extension; the rapid creation of a Immense Army and Navy and the battles by land and sea.

The Illustrations comprise Portraits of all the who have borne a prominent part in the struggle; Maps of the different localities; Plans of the leading actions; Views of every scene of interest, and of the most important Battles. These Illustrations are mostly from drawings taken on the spot by artists deputed for that purpose to accompany every division of our Army and Navy.

Every fact at the command of the publisher has been employed in the preparation and execution of this work and they confidently believe that it will form the most trustworthy and valuable history which can be prepared of the Great Struggle for the American Union.

Mode and Terms of Publication. The work will be issued in Numbers, each containing Twenty-four Pages of the size of "Harper's Weekly," printed from clear type, upon fine paper, and will probably be completed in about Twenty Numbers.

The numbers will be issued at intervals, if possible, of about three or four weeks. The Price of each Number, which contains matter equivalent to an ordinary volume, will be Twenty-five Cents.

The Illustrations in each Number are alone worth the price asked. Men out of employ, or especially SICK OR DISABLED SOLDIERS, can find no other work so sure of ready sale and good profits.

For further particulars apply to the Publishers, HARPER & BROTHERS, Franklin Square, New York. D. e. 17, 7363--1

THE CONSTITUTIONAL UNION

NEW PROSPECTUS. The Largest and Cheapest Weekly in the State. INDUCEMENTS TO CLUBS. A New and Powerfully Written Political Story.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE. THE overwhelming evidence of the determination of the people to rescue the Government from the desperate and reckless purposes of Abolitionism, has so nearly wrecked our glorious Union and destroyed our Constitutional guarantees, indicate an immediate future full of events of the most momentous interest.

Centralization, Terrorism, and Robbery, will not submit to detraction without a struggle. The contest, therefore, has but just begun; and for the year to come, the action of Congress, the action of the Executive, and the action of the people, will be the subject of our constant and anxious attention.

The object of the war will be made again what it was before Abolition fanaticism prevailed--to simply crush the rebellion and restore the Federal authority. There will also be the same time for the progress of the Great Battle of the People with the millions of despots, and in this battle the Press, no longer shackled, no longer threatened with Abolition mobs and trampling hordes, will take a ready and conspicuous part.

It is one of the best results of the recent election that the positive rebuke of the gross and manifest abuse of power by the Administration has given the people the privilege of light and free discussion--privileges that will not again be tamely yielded. These changed circumstances will bring the acts of even the highest in the Government to the tribunal of public opinion, and the Press will again become the medium of the free thoughts of the people, and the fearless advocate of Constitutional Government and Constitutional Liberty.

The Proprietors of the Constitutional Union, in issuing their new prospectus, see before them a field of enlarged usefulness, and it is their purpose to spare no effort to make their paper of unequalled acceptability as a medium of intelligence, and a record of events that must agitate public thought. It will contain full summaries of the proceedings of Congress and the State Legislatures, full accounts of the movements of the army, foreign and domestic news, literary intelligence, commercial and agricultural news, &c., &c.

In consequence of the enormous advance in the price of paper, amounting in three months to nearly fifty per centum, Proprietors have found it necessary to advance the price of the paper to $1.50 per annum; but even at this price, we afford more reading for the same money than any other paper printed in the State. The advance will go into effect at once.

Among other attractions in contemplation, we shall commence in the first number in January, a new and powerful written Political Story, founded on the events immediately preceding the Rebellion.

We solicit the aid of our Democratic friends in the interior in raising and forwarding Clubs. TERMS: Single copies, one year, $2 00 Two copies, (to one address,) 3 50 Ten copies, 12 00 Twenty copies, 20 00

All subscriptions to be paid annually in advance. Address: THOS. B. FLORENCE & CO., Publishers of CONSTITUTIONAL UNION, No. 139 South THIRD Street, Philadelphia. Dec. 3, '62--3t
