

GEORGE W. WOODWARD, Of Luzerne county.

From the World of July 18.

RESISTING THE DRAFT.—We devote a large portion of our space to the terrible riots in New York.

One of the most formidable riots that ever occurred in this city raged all day yesterday.

It is called a riot. And the Abolitionists call it a riot of the law Irish and Dutch instigated by the teachings of the Copperhead Democracy.

The riot commenced yesterday morning at the enrolling office, corner of Forty-sixth street and Third avenue, No. 677.

History tells us something about "riots" in former days. Their admissions were unneeded and treated with contumely by the then rightful rulers of the realm.

The drawing was announced to commence at precisely 9 o'clock, A. M. The place assigned for the drawing was the headquarters of the Ninth Congressional district, 677 Third avenue, corner of Forty-sixth street.

THE NEWS.—Since the escape of Gen. Lee and his rebel army across the Potomac into Virginia, we have nothing important from the army of the Potomac.

While these important events were taking place in the enemy's country, we hear of Morgan making a formidable raid across the Ohio river into Indiana and Ohio.

THREE SONS KILLED IN BATTLE.—Corp. Henry C. Bixby, of Company K, Thirty-second Massachusetts regiment was killed at Gettysburg.

There were also a large number of women and young girls, who not only seemed to sympathize with the rioters, but people gathered about this little family, expressing warmest sympathy.

There were rumors that the arsenal in Seventh avenue was to be attacked, and about three o'clock it was the centre of a most excited scene.

The mob after Mr. Horace Greeley.—Unaware of the trouble that was brewing down town, Mr. Greeley came down from his house on Nineteenth as usual on a Fourth avenue car.

For an hour or more the crowd remained about the building, and only allowed the firemen to commence throwing water upon it when it was entirely destroyed.

The next movement was a rush along Fifty-third street toward the Bull's Head Hotel.

At 2 o'clock Mr. Howard, a gentleman connected with the City Press for many years, was standing on the corner of Forty-sixth street and Third avenue, looking at the scene.

At 2 o'clock Mr. Howard, a gentleman connected with the City Press for many years, was standing on the corner of Forty-sixth street and Third avenue, looking at the scene.

On the corner of Forty-second street and Third avenue a police officer, in endeavoring to fire into the crowd, shot a horse which was standing there, and killed a woman, who resides somewhere in Forty-second street, on the rocks.

Some of the rioters were singing snatches of unheard-of songs, and all shouting "No draft, down with the Abolitionists!" and other such sentences.

The man finally got into a brick-yard where a number of females beset him and abused him until he dropped down exhausted, and could only be rescued by the united efforts of several gentlemen, who took him to St. Luke's Hospital.

A large crowd assembled in front of the Tribune and Times offices about half past seven o'clock in the evening.

While coming through Thirty first st., a halt was made at one of the houses, but no damage was done, the leaders still adjuring their followers to respect private property.

There were also a large number of women and young girls, who not only seemed to sympathize with the rioters, but

Some carried sticks, and others loaded themselves with planks, which they carried away, showing the mob, and inviting them to farther acts of the same nature.

There were rumors that the arsenal in Seventh avenue was to be attacked, and about three o'clock it was the centre of a most excited scene.

The mob after Mr. Horace Greeley.—Unaware of the trouble that was brewing down town, Mr. Greeley came down from his house on Nineteenth as usual on a Fourth avenue car.

For an hour or more the crowd remained about the building, and only allowed the firemen to commence throwing water upon it when it was entirely destroyed.

The next movement was a rush along Fifty-third street toward the Bull's Head Hotel.

At 2 o'clock Mr. Howard, a gentleman connected with the City Press for many years, was standing on the corner of Forty-sixth street and Third avenue, looking at the scene.

At 2 o'clock Mr. Howard, a gentleman connected with the City Press for many years, was standing on the corner of Forty-sixth street and Third avenue, looking at the scene.

On the corner of Forty-second street and Third avenue a police officer, in endeavoring to fire into the crowd, shot a horse which was standing there, and killed a woman, who resides somewhere in Forty-second street, on the rocks.

Some of the rioters were singing snatches of unheard-of songs, and all shouting "No draft, down with the Abolitionists!" and other such sentences.

The man finally got into a brick-yard where a number of females beset him and abused him until he dropped down exhausted, and could only be rescued by the united efforts of several gentlemen, who took him to St. Luke's Hospital.

A large crowd assembled in front of the Tribune and Times offices about half past seven o'clock in the evening.

While coming through Thirty first st., a halt was made at one of the houses, but no damage was done, the leaders still adjuring their followers to respect private property.

There were also a large number of women and young girls, who not only seemed to sympathize with the rioters, but

They looted the papers in the office, tore them, and even crushed them in their hands. He was applied to the stock of papers stored about the office, threatening them to save the contents from being burned, but at this critical moment a large force of policemen, some two hundred in number, who had come from the upper part of the city by Broadway, came up Nassau street, charged through the Park, and across to the corner of Spruce, using their clubs freely and with most telling effect on the crowd, who rapidly

He was introduced to the crowd, and in a few well timed remarks quieted them and induced them to leave the place unharmed.

There were rumors that the arsenal in Seventh avenue was to be attacked, and about three o'clock it was the centre of a most excited scene.

The mob after Mr. Horace Greeley.—Unaware of the trouble that was brewing down town, Mr. Greeley came down from his house on Nineteenth as usual on a Fourth avenue car.

For an hour or more the crowd remained about the building, and only allowed the firemen to commence throwing water upon it when it was entirely destroyed.

The next movement was a rush along Fifty-third street toward the Bull's Head Hotel.

At 2 o'clock Mr. Howard, a gentleman connected with the City Press for many years, was standing on the corner of Forty-sixth street and Third avenue, looking at the scene.

At 2 o'clock Mr. Howard, a gentleman connected with the City Press for many years, was standing on the corner of Forty-sixth street and Third avenue, looking at the scene.

On the corner of Forty-second street and Third avenue a police officer, in endeavoring to fire into the crowd, shot a horse which was standing there, and killed a woman, who resides somewhere in Forty-second street, on the rocks.

Some of the rioters were singing snatches of unheard-of songs, and all shouting "No draft, down with the Abolitionists!" and other such sentences.

The man finally got into a brick-yard where a number of females beset him and abused him until he dropped down exhausted, and could only be rescued by the united efforts of several gentlemen, who took him to St. Luke's Hospital.

A large crowd assembled in front of the Tribune and Times offices about half past seven o'clock in the evening.

There were also a large number of women and young girls, who not only seemed to sympathize with the rioters, but

NEW BOOKS READ! READ! RECORD THE PRISONER OF STATE DESPOTISM IN FOUR ACTS

NEW GOODS! A FRESH ARRIVAL OF Spring & Summer Goods AT THE CHEAP CASH STORE.

JOSEPH R. McMURRAY, Groceries, Fish, Bacon and Flour.

New Goods! REED, WEAVER & Co., Groceries.

NEW GOODS AT KRATZERS, Groceries.

WILLIAM SCHWEM, Groceries.

DANIEL GOODLANDER, Groceries.

W. W. SHAW, Groceries.

WALLACE & HALL, Groceries.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.—Notice is hereby given that Letters of Administration on the estate of George Young, late of Bell township, Clearfield county, deceased, having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to said estate are desired to make immediate payment, and those having claims against the same will present them duly authenticated for settlement.

ESTATE OF THOMAS G. SNYDER, DEC'D. CLEARFIELD COUNTY, SS: An Orphans' Court held at Clearfield in and for said county at June term, A. D. 1863, in the matter of the appraisal of the goods and chattels, rights and credits which were of Thomas G. Snyder, late of Morris township, deceased, whereupon the Court decreed as follows: "June 17, 1863, approved N. S., and unless exceptions are filed on or before the first day of next term, will be confirmed absolutely."

ESTATE OF HENRY HOCKENBERRY, DEC'D. CLEARFIELD COUNTY, SS: An Orphans' Court held at Clearfield in and for said county at June term, A. D. 1863, in the matter of the appraisal of the rights and credits, goods and chattels, which were of Henry Hockenberry, deceased, whereupon the Court decreed as follows: "June 15, 1863, approved N. S., and unless exceptions are filed on or before the first day of next term, will be confirmed absolutely."

THE DRAFT—TAKE NOTICE! The undersigned, by appointment from the War Department, has been authorized to receive for the counties of Erie, Warren, Elk, McKean, Cameron, Clearfield, Jefferson and Forest the $300 which DRAFTED PERSONS May pay under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1863, for enrolling and calling out the National Forces. This payment must be made in United States Money.

LEGAL TENDER NOTES OR COIN. And will discharge the person so paying "from further liability under the draft."