DEMOCRATIC CLUB.

The following are the names of the officers of the Central Democratic Club of Clearfield county—all residing in or near this place:

A. M. HILLS, President.
J. M. BROWN, Vice President.
T. J. McCLELLON, Recording Secretary.
W. W. BETTS, Corresponding Secretary.
ISAAC JOHNSON, Treasurer.

All communications should be addressed to the Corresponding Secretary.

THANKSGIVING.—Next Thursday week has been set apart by Presidential Proclamation, as a day of thanksgiving, praise and prayer to the All-Wise Ruler of the Universe for the many recent successes of the Union arms.

DIGNIFIED.—We omitted last week to announce the declination of Angus M. Hill, as a candidate for County Commissioner.

SOMEbody "CORNERED AGAIN."—We ask the attention of everybody to the Albany Committee's rejoinder to President Lincoln. It is the severest expostoration ever administered to a public officer—and is as just as it is severe.

BARBAROUS.—Our redoubtable "JERRY," after having gloriously vanquished everything that came in his way, has now, it is thought, found a "foeman worthy of his steel," in the person of our friend FRIEND. Heretofore, Jerry's competitors were all brother "Americans of African descent." This is not the case with Mr. Friend; and whether his or Jerry's advantage, time must determine.

JAIL DELIVERY.—Last Sunday morning, our friend Stumph, the jailer, as usual, opened the back door of the prison about 5 o'clock to let the prisoners into the yard. Soon afterwards, in passing along on the outside of the yard, he discovered a new opening in the wall. Upon investigation, two prisoners, who had been placed there by the Deputy Provost Marshal, as deserters, were missing. It was evident that their friends had made this opening in the wall some time during the night, for the accommodation of the "whys." There seems to be no blame whatever attached to the jailer.

FOR THE REPUBLICAN.

BECCARIA TOWNSHIP, July 13th, 1863.

MESSES. EDITORS:—

It is amusing to see the little-souled niggerheads of this township "squel and kick" at the "disloyal Democrats." They shine and bark as though they wanted to bite something, and if their intense bloodthirstiness don't subsist soon they will turn round like a rat, tennake and bite themselves. I hope they will—virus corruption, stench, and a whole pile of blatnitschik will go to h—h together. Speed to the eternity—traitors, assassins, plunderers, imps of misery—in Heaven's name may they devour them lives.

Among the many "three-headed dogs of Pluto," our deputy marshal (enrolling officer) is not the least notorious. Notwithstanding his high position in society (a barkeeper of Glen Hope) he was assigned to the exceedingly low duty of enrolling the township. He is a perfect model of degradation, overflowing with Abolitionism, and he is described as being a "little bit of nothing clinging to the 'box of Pandora.'" I think I could better describe him in the language of the eccentric John Randolph, of Virginia, thus: "he stinks and shines, and shines and stinks, like a rotten mackerel by moonlight." But it is not necessary to be so hard on the sons of the Administration, so I will just say that he is one of the Gosses de nos, and let him go. He is not worthy to be held up to the gaze of the public, only as a sample of the "nigger-worshipping, black Republican party." And now I will finish my letter on a subject of a more serious character.

But a few days ago (last Sunday) I was passing the door of a school house on the roadside; my attention was attracted by the voice of a preacher of the "gospel"—as I thought—and not being in great haste to proceed, I dropped in to hear the word of God falling from the lips of his "servant." But alas! no pen can describe my feelings when I found myself listening to a ranting abolition homilist, trying to impress upon the minds of his audience the idea that their southern brethren are nothing but a "God-forsaken set of heathenish wretches, and deserve to be swept by 'fire and sword' from the land; and to effect this end he calls upon all men to rush to the field of carnage and strife, where becham cannon roar, musketry rattle, and steel sabres clash; where the angry people of belligerent nations are warring death on every side, daily adding more to the graves of our heroic soldiers; where even now—

"Sons from every dwelling,
Lie buried in their graves,
On southern hills and western plains—
Along Potomac's wave."

I ask, in the name of Heaven! how far distant is the day when our pulpits shall no longer be decorated by the foul, mouthed advocates of war, blood and murder? I honor christian ministers; but I heartily detest the servants of the devil who come forth to spread disaffection among the people. Such men are doing more in setting the cause of secession than all the speeches and writings of those men who have been arrested, incarcerated and banished from their homes and friends; and yet they go unpunished. But the punishment of such men by the administration would be like the fable of the "Pot calling the Kettle black"—hence their escape.

Let me speak in conclusion in the language of Shakespeare,
"That man, proud man,
Dressed in a little brief authority,
Most ignorant of what he's best accured,
His glory mends, like an angry ape,
Plays such fantastic tricks before high Heaven."
Yours, with respect,
YOUNG NESTOR.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21, 1863.

Dear Sir:—In the letter of "Citizen" published in your paper of July 15, in reply to "Leroi" of the Republican's editorial, your correspondent has committed an important oversight. "Citizen" says, in speaking of Leroi, "I will admit you have told the truth once. They were all Abolitionists. Every man felonged to the black school." Now, Messrs. Editors, both Leroi and Citizen are in error.—Three of them were not "Abolitionists," and did not "belong to the black school," but on the contrary were Orthodox Democrats, who have all the time, and even yet, are called by the very Loyal (?) very brave (?) Union (?) no party (?) men, copper heads—and they did not "retreat to Philadelphia, and therehold their ground at all hazards," as the republican part of the company did. On the contrary, they did what they said they would, and are now where the Don Quixotes of three campaigns (each over thirty-six hours) who "earned around the paper to enlist the men previous to their departure from Philadelphia, and the rest of the Loyal Union (!) men of this place, are not, that is with muskets on their shoulders in the ranks of the true defenders of the Constitution and the Union.

For the "Republican."
PHILADELPHIA, July 18th 1863.

MESSES. EDITORS:—

"Citizen" in his reply to "Leroi" makes as many mistakes and writes as many lies as "Leroi" himself.—They are too many to enumerate. One, however, particularly attracts attention. They both inform you that "they were all Abolitionists," and "Citizen" adds "and belonged to the black school." This is utterly false. They were not "all Abolitionists." As good Democrats as "Citizen" (though not wishing the "entire destruction of the Union Armies") were among the men who went from this place, and tendered their services in defence of our State.

We could endure the epithets "Heaven-rotten Niggers," and "Leroy Lightning" conductors, but when he calls us "Abolitionists" a tender place is touched, and we can endure it. We wish the public to understand that we are not all "extensive property holding Copperheads," and "Abolitionists" in this old town.

A DEMOCRAT.

FATAL AFFRAY IN NORTHUMBERLAND.—Reports of a fatal affray in Northumberland were in circulation on Saturday and Sunday last. It appears that a Mrs. Hantzelman, having some ill will at a neighbor, Mrs. Brautigam, challenged her to come across the street to fight. Mrs. Brautigam went over, when Mrs. Hantzelman struck her, knocking her down, report says a couple of times, in doing which Mrs. Hantzelman ruptured a blood vessel in herself from which she died a short time after.—Sunbury Dem.

FOR THE REPUBLICAN.

We are glad to welcome Freeman into the ranks of the honest Democracy. Many we know were beguiled by the alluring cry of "land for the landless"—"homes for the homeless"—"money for the moneyless," &c., but they have lived and learned. "Experience," they say, "teaches a dear lesson," and who is there that will deny it? They wanted a "change," they got it—they have experienced it and we cannot but believe they have had "sufficiently enough" of that sort of "change."

Secretary Stanton said the other day, "If a single regiment of Lee's army gets back into Virginia in an organized condition it will prove that I am totally unfit to be Secretary of War." The people will cheerfully adopt the conclusion. This bull-headed incubus is a greater drag weight on the government than the national debt itself.

We are informed that at a recent meeting held in Eldinboro, the Presiding Elder of the Methodist church, announced that no person who did not believe in the Emancipation Proclamation and that slavery must be destroyed before the war is ended, should be admitted as a member of the denomination.— Erie Observer.

LEAGUE DOCTRINES.—An Abolition organ in Cambria county, controlled by members of the Loyal "Union" League, in a recent issue used the subjoined treasonable language:
"The Union as it was, was a cheat, a horrid incubus, a devil's dream, grateful only to the feeble imagination of the desperate and depraved. It can never be realized."

"The sole responsibility of our disengagement, and the only difficulty in the way of an amicable adjustment, is with the Replian party."

"ELECT BUCKINGHAM AND THERE WILL BE NO DRAFT," was the assertion paraded by the Republican papers in Connecticut during the late election. Buckingham was elected.

Smith the razor strap man, now in the 140th New York regiment, was badly wounded in the leg at Gettysburg. But he has "just one more let."

A combination of wool growers has been formed in Pittsburg, who agree not to sell their wool at less than a dollar per pound.

There are pretended patriots who will hold any thing except their tongues; keep anything except their word; and lose nothing patiently except their character.
