

AN ARTIST'S REAR TRIUMPH.—The following history of the pursuit of art under difficulties is authentic and curious. In 1843 there was a small shepherd's boy who kept, or rather neglected to keep, his flock like a frugal and respectable swain, in the department of La Drome. Sheep strayed and could not be found. Kewen fell over precipices, lambs died of neglect, and rams went astray, till the master, one day coming suddenly on the hill, discovered the young shepherd drawing from nature. Not being a friend of art, he discharged his flutless shepherd on the spot. Faithless shepherd spent his wages on pencils and paper, and sketched all and everybody in his neighborhood. But luck was against him; he was unfortunate in the conscription, drew "No. 5," and had to join the depot; but he was not defeated. On his way to the depot he threw himself down under the wheels of a heavy "roulage" wagon, with the deliberate intent of "maligring," by maiming his foot. Instead of his foot he smashed his head and had a fever; however, the fever prevented his serving his country in the Crimea; and so, when he recovered, he begged and borrowed and bought more pencils and paper—finally, got to brushes and colors, and has just now gained the "first prize of Rome," and will figure in next years exhibition as "Laroche, P. R." I think it was once observed by an old Roman that if you drive out nature with a fork she would yet return.

A TOUCHING MEMORIAL.—There is nothing so distasteful to a sensitive heart as the affectation of grief so often discovered in the cemeteries of the dead. It is often displayed in the sculptured monuments of the wealthy, and not infrequently in the inscriptions on the tombs of rich and poor.—We recently, however, observed an incident which seemed free from this charge. In a retired corner of a public burying place we noticed an humble grave, evidently of a poor person, with nothing but a painted headboard, with an inscription to "Our Little Charlie," and on the breast of the small grave a child's play-table, on which was placed a small china toy, which had been mutilated by the loss of the head, and which had belonged to the little deceased. We could not resist the impression that it had been the suggestion of a child-sister of the dead one, and was a genuine expression of true affection and heartfelt sorrow.

A rather curious incident occurred at Potsdam, at the time of the visit lately made to that place by the members of the Statistical Congress. Among the persons who were walking in the gardens of the palace of Sans-Souci was a Prussian officer, who entered into conversation with an English servant. The latter, after a time, could not avoid expressing his surprise at finding a Prussian officer speak English so well. The officer replied that there was nothing astonishing in that fact, as his wife and his mother-in-law were both in England. "Might I venture to inquire the name of your mother-in-law?" said the servant. "Queen Victoria," replied the officer, who was no other than the Prince Royal of Prussia.—Galignani.

A SON OF G. P. R. JAMES ENLISTED.—Courtney H. James, a son of G. P. R. James, the English novelist, enlisted Saturday, at Cleveland, as a "veteran volunteer," in the Second Ohio Cavalry. He is thirty-four years of age, and has a wife living in Detroit. His experience has been a stormy one. Entered the English navy at fifteen—walked her Majesty's deck six years; then spent three years in the English army; then five years as civil engineer; accompanied Walker to Central America, and has been a lieutenant in the First New York Mounted Rifles from the beginning of the present war until honorably mustered out on the 25th of October.—Cincinnati Times.

HOW TO DETECT COUNTERFEIT FIFTY CENTS.—Many persons do not know the counterfeit fifty cent postal currency from the genuine. There are marks on the spurious that, if observed, will at once show the counterfeit. On the counterfeit the final "E," in the words "United States Postage," over the head of Washington, is dropped, and the letter "S," in the word "Treasurers," extends higher up than the other letters. Another test is that, in the spurious, the "y," in the word "depository," does not touch the border on the back of the note.—Pittsburgh Chron.

"GREEK FIRE."—The Army and Navy Journal, considered good authority in military matters, does not share the popular opinion as to the efficacy of "Greek fire" as a means of reducing Charleston. It entertains the impression that the attempt may serve the innocent purpose of tickling the popular fancies, but it will hardly be seriously considered by professional men. In its last issue it says:—"Until either the iron fleet can make its way up to the city or we can plant a force on James Island large enough to march on it, we have little faith in the capture of Charleston."

A New London (Connecticut) man has invented a weapon that may be inserted in the handle of a lady's parasol and will drive a ball through an inch and a half plank at the distance of ten rods. Steel-clad and armed with these parasols the dear creatures would be invulnerable.

Tremendous Victory.
GREATEST BATTLE ON RECORD!
15,000 Killed and Wounded, and 30,000 taken Prisoners!
WITH CAMP EQUIPAGE—AND 70,000 Contrabands freed from the BONDS OF SLAVERY!!

EVERY man that has read any thing of the past history of this WAR must finally come to the conclusion that the Confederate Government would be broken down. It was only a question of time. But now we have the above glorious and soul-stirring news to cheer us up; and the only drawback to our joy and glorification is the imminent danger of the Contrabands coming North to "eat out our substance," and to wear out our shoes! But of one thing the people of Clearfield county may be assured, and that is, that FRANK SHORT—For short called Short—is selling Boots & shoes as cheap as any other man in the county; and if you don't believe it, just give him a call on court-week, or any other time, and see for yourself. He would just rained the public that his shop is now on Market street, in Shaw's Row—where you will find him just as Short as usual—if not a little shorter—of Cash than he would like to be.
All kinds of work on hands and made to order on short notice, and as well made, and as good fits as can be "skinned" up here or elsewhere.
Don't forget the shop—on Market street, in Shaw's Row, directly opposite Rev. H. B. Swopes's office. F. SHORT.
Clearfield, June 11, 1862.

Boots, Shoes!
Boots! Shoes!

DANIEL CONNELLY begs leave to inform his friends, and the citizens of Clearfield and vicinity generally, that he has taken the shop lately occupied by George Newton, in Shaw's Row, where he intends to be ready at all times to wait upon those who may favor him with their custom.
He will guarantee his work to be as well executed as can be made elsewhere, and at quite as reasonable prices. He is bound to win the good opinion of all who walk in shoe-leather—whether male or female—and all he asks is a fair trial.

Bulkley's Patent.
Lumber Dried by Superheated Steam.
THE undersigned respectfully informs the people of Clearfield and the adjoining counties that he has the agency of the above Patent, and will sell individual, County and Township rights for its use. The Lumber dried by this process is stronger, finishes better, is easier on tools, and requires less time in drying than any other process known—and drying 1 inch lumber perfectly in 26 hours, and better than many months under the old system—using the same amount of fuel per day that a common kiln consumes. The certificates of a number of resident mechanics, well known in this community, is amply sufficient to convince the most skeptical of its practical utility. Persons desirous of purchasing rights will address JOHN L. CUTTLE, Clearfield, Pa. July 1, 1863.

For Sale.
