

Miscellaneous.

The HABEAS CORPUS.—I, Balfour on Monday, the great English Historian, in speaking of King James the Second, the tyrant whom the English people expelled from the throne in 1688, says:

"One of his objects was to obtain a repeal of the habeas corpus act which he hated, as it is natural a tyrant should hate the MOST STRINGENT CURR THAT EVER LEGISLATION IMPOSED UPON TYRANTS."

The feeling remained deeply fixed in his mind to the last, and appears in the instructions which he drew up, when in exile, for the guidance of his son. But the habeas corpus act, though passed during the ascendancy of the Whigs, was not more dear to the whigs than to the Tories. It is, indeed, not wonderful that this great law should be highly prized by all Englishmen, without distinction of party; for it is a law which, not by pretensions, but by direct operations, adds to the security and happiness of every inhabitant of the realm."

We don't think he hated the act more than our President and Cabinet do at the present time.

A HARD HIT.—Stewart, the celebrated importer of dry goods, in New York, has now in his store a magnificent shawl imported by him at a cost of three thousand dollars, expressly for Miss Kate Chase, daughter of Hon. S. P. Chase, our distinguished Secretary of the Treasury. It is said that the young lady's whole outfit in all respects correspond with this costly article of dress.

To which the wife of a Democratic soldier replies:

"I am the wife of a Democratic soldier who volunteered at a time when the Administration pretended the war was for the Union; and although he was promised one month's pay in advance, and his monthly wages regularly, yet for over seven long months he never received a dollar."

"During these long months of dreary winter, while Mr. Chase got rich enough to buy a three thousand dollar shawl, I, at the wash-tub of my Republican neighbors, managed to earn a bare subsistence for myself and the helpless family of the neglected and starved Democratic soldier."

MODERN ECONOMY OF TIME.—The Scientific American thus shows how time has been economized by the application of machinery:

One man can spin more cotton-yarn now than four hundred men could have done in the same time in 1760, when Arkwright, the first cotton-spinner took out the first patent.

One man can make as much flour in one day now as a hundred and fifty men could a century ago.

One woman can now make as much lace in a day as a hundred women could a hundred years ago.

It now requires only as many days to refine sugar, as it did months thirty years ago.

It once required six months to put quicksilver on a glass; now it needs only forty minutes.

The engine of a first-rate iron-clad frigate will perform as much work in a day as forty-two thousand horses.

FRUIT FROM DELAWARE.—During the past season there were brought to Philadelphia from stations on the Delaware railroad the following quantities of fruit: 322,064 bushels of peaches; 197 do. of pears; 4,228 do. of apples; 252 do. of plums; 276 do. of grapes; 606 do. of cherries, and 28,503 buckets of berries.

FUEL IN MINNESOTA.—The fuel question has been solved in Minnesota by the discovery of immense beds of peat, near St. Paul. It is said to burn as well in a grate as coal, and can be furnished for from two to three dollars a cord.

WE learn from the Honesdale Democrat that Asa Hendricks, a resident of Canaan, hung himself in his ax factory, about two miles above Prompton, on Tuesday. His son was drafted, and failed of getting exempted, which so preyed on his mind that he committed suicide.—Hawley Free Press.

Each day brings its own duties and carries them along with it; and they are as waves broken on the shore, many like them coming after, but none ever the same.

If seventy-five thousand officials were required to produce sixty thousand conscripts from the last draft, how many will it take to get "three hundred thousand more?"

There goes a man, said a friend to another, who is worth his hundred thousand dollars. Yes, quietly said the other looking after the rich man, and that's all he is worth.

Providence made both the white man and the negro, but he left the mongrel monstrosity for Abolitionists and Amalgamationists to manufacture.

Nevada Territory is said to be the richest silver bearing country in the world. It is estimated that the product this year will be $15,000,000.

The most cheering and soothing of all fireside melodies are the pleasing tones of a cricket, a kettle, and wife.

The saddest picture of the times is a man forging his own chains shouting for the Republican ticket.
