DIED-In Lawrence township, of consumption, October 26th, 1864, FRANCES MARIEN, daugh ter of Wm. J. Lumadue, aged 17 years. O, weep not for thy daughter. Snatched from the earth away ; Weep not for her though it has cast A shade o'er life's young day.

Weep not-your lovely daughter's rafe With yonder happy throng Of spirits round the Father's throne, Who chaunt the purest song.

Mourn not, though on this child Much of your love did rest; Now stronger influence draws your hearts To that sweet land of rest.

Look on that fair and placid brow, As calmly there she lies ;

And parents, can you murmur now, Or wish from death she'd rise.

Your loved and beautiful has fled From a dark world of woe ; You would not call her back again To strive with scenes below.

Borne gently on an angel's wing,

Her spirit is at home; No sickness, pain, or fell disease Within that sphere can come. Safe folded in the Savior's arms,

And on his breast reclined : To this your Hannahy Father' Be you in faith resigned. W. J. L
