Clearfield Republican.

SATURDAY, ... March 14, 1866

Those wishing to secure a cheap property are directed to the advertisement of Mr. Thorn, in another column.

Bacon, Bacon, Hams and Shoulders, Coal Oil, Dried Peaches and Apples for Sale, at Wright & Flanigan's.

A lot of good Cloverseed, for sale at the Store of Wm. F. Irwin Clearfield Pa

C. KRATZER & SON.—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of this old and well established mercantile firm. It is useless for us to say anything in their praise, as the senior partner had a well established reputation, before we were born.

DEAD.—Dr. David Jayne, the celebrated Philadelphia, medicine man, died in that city a few days ago. He was supposed to be worth two millions of dollars, which he realized by advertising his medicines.

Our readers will find the proceedings of the Democratic State Convention, at some length, on our first page. It was remarked by old convention goers, that it was one of the largest, and most harmonious body of the kind, that ever assembled at Harrisburg.

EAST BALTIMORE CONFERENCE.—The ninth annual session of this body, commenced at Williamsport, on Thursday last, and has progressed in a very harmonious manner.

REIFENSTEIN BROS.—The enterprise and taste of this well established firm, both at their House in the city, and that in this place, is not exceeded by any Clothiers in the country. They have just received their Spring supply, at their store in the west end of the Mansion House, from which the most fastidious, will find but little trouble, to select their clothing. Their styles are the latest; and the goods of the best quality, and the price as low as at either Harrisburg or Middletown, and for their enterprise, deserve the patronage of our people.

SUICIDE.—Hiram C. Wolf, Esq., president of the first National Bank at Easton, Pa, committed suicide on Monday night by shooting himself through the head. The following are the contents of a note he wrote just before committing the deed:

"Father, Mother, Brothers and Sisters:—Foul slander has ruined my reputation. I leave this world to-night for a better. May God have mercy on my soul."

A VETO.—There have been rumors, pro and con, circulating in our midst, to the effect that Governor Curtin had Vetoed the gigantic Railroad bill, passed by the Legislature last week, but we have been unable to trace the matter to any authentic source. The opponents of the bill, alleged a week ago, that they had the Governor's promise, that he would veto it in its present shape. The Governor has been overwhelmed with petitions, and delegations, demanding a Veto. What he will do remains to us, at this writing, a mystery.

Later. The bill has been vetoed.

DISPUTE.—That loyal journal the Philadelphia Inquirer, does not seem to like the platform made by its friends. That journal will find out before all is over that the platform is stronger than the candidate, because it includes the negroes. Hear him:—"The resolutions of the Union State Convention, which on Wednesday nominated Maj. General John W. Geary for Governor of Pennsylvania, weaken somewhat their force by diffusiveness.
