DIVINE PERMISSION, there will be a Camp Meeting of the Methodist Protestant Church, near New Washington, commencing Thursday, August 16, 1866.

How to Save a Dollar

It may have been overlooked by our friends, but we will just inform them now of the fact, that this is the 4th number of the second volume of the Republican since it came into our hand exclusively and that those who desire to do so, can save a dollar by paying now. Nearly six hundred of our subscribers owe us for the last year yet, but they can do the "nice thing" still, by "coming down" for two years. If such send us $5, now, we will credit them for three years, last, this and next.

Terrible Accident

A distressing accident occurred in the family of Mitchell Kline, in Union township, on the evening of Saturday, the 25th of July. Mr. Kline and wife had been to the store, returned home about dusk, and found their family, consisting of eight children, all well. Mrs. Kline was filling a coal-oil lamp—one of the children holding a lighted splinter to aid her—when the light came in contact with the oil; the can, containing half a gallon of oil, exploded, severely burning Mrs. Kline and four of the children; one of which has since died, and another is so much injured that her life is despaired of. Mr. Kline, who escaped injury at first, rushed in to relieve his burning children, and in the endeavor to strip them of their burning clothes, was severely burned about the hands—in fact, so much so that it is a question if he ever recovers the perfect use of them. The family are helpless, their eldest daughter is blind, and they are in a state of great destitution, the labor of the parents being their only support—save the kind offices of the neighbors.

John Ross

John Ross, the celebrated Indian Chief of the Cherokee nation, died at Washington, on the 2d instant, in the 75th year of his age. He was the acknowledged chief of that tribe for over forty years.

Party Trickery

The National Intelligencer remarks upon the adroit manner in which the majority leaders of the two Houses of Congress manipulate certain ticklish questions, which, if left untouched, or which, if pushed too far, might effect the chances of party success in the next elections. It refers particularly to the questions of negro suffrage and the tariff. Both these matters have been pushed through the House with great impressment; but both have received their quietus in the Senate. The Intelligencer adds:

Party Trickery

"All this is highly artistic, in the shape of party trickery. It enables the party to go into the Congress riding two horses. Where negro suffrage is in demand, they can point triumphantly to the action of the House on the bill to authorize it in this District. Where it is not palatable to the people, they can refer to the negative action of the Senate. And it is the same way on the tariff. Where the cry for protection is reverent, they have only to refer to the bill which passed the House; where this issue does not pay well, they can present the other side of the picture, and show how beautifully the Senate let the thing down. It was said of the Roman Agrippa that it was curious how two of them could meet without laughing in each other's faces. The remark is certainly wonderfully applicable to our majority leaders in Congress. They proceed, however, on the great principle, that the people can be humbugged and must be humbugged. And their signal success hitherto on this line is certainly some encouragement for them to proceed on the same road."

How to Save a Dollar

It may have been overlooked by our friends, but we will just inform them now of the fact, that this is the 4th number of the second volume of the Republican since it came into our hand exclusively and that those who desire to do so, can save a dollar by paying now. Nearly six hundred of our subscribers owe us for the last year yet, but they can do the "nice thing" still, by "coming down" for two years. If such send us $5, now, we will credit them for three years, last, this and next.

A MISTAKE.—We were in error last week in stating that Congress had failed to pass the bill allowing bounties to soldiers. This was, however, done only at the last moment of the session, in order to save their own $2,000 extra pay. A number of members threatened to vote against the appropriation bill, because of the increased pay to members; and it was also intimated in Executive quarters, that the $2,000 clause might incur a veto; hence the villainous portion, (of whom there is a large majority,) in order to save this clause, after having stricken it out, hitched on the soldiers' bounty bill, in order to compel the refractory to vote for the whole bill, and also to prevent a veto. This is the way Congress treats the soldier. It takes no such trickery to get millions appropriated to idle negroes, but when white soldiers ask for their just dues, they can only get them after doubling the pay of loyal Congressmen.

We will state, for the benefit of those entitled to bounty, that they need not be in a hurry about making application, as it will be some time before the proper department can prepare blanks and make the necessary arrangements. A board of three military officers has been appointed to assist the pay department in the work of preparation.

GOING AMONG THEIR FRIENDS.—Several cargoes of Virginia negroes were shipped last week at Fortress Monroe, for Boston and other New England cities, where the Negro Bureau has obtained situations for them. We wonder if the poor white people in our cities would apply to this Bureau whether they would receive any attention at the hands of those divines and "school marm's" that now run the black machine.

General John W. Geary, the Disunion candidate for Governor, is in favor of universal negro suffrage, and were he elected Governor, Thad. Stevens & Co. would compel him to use all his influence to have the word white stricken out of our State Constitution, in order to allow the negroes to vote.

A SHABBY TRICK.—For an editor to publish a call for a Convention of those who voted for Lincoln and Johnson, but when his deluded followers travel sixteen or twenty miles to attend it, then to tell them that it is a "Copperhead trick." Vive la humbuggery.

Robert Bonner, the fancy New York newspaper-man, has now six horses in his possession that cost him the snug sum of $120,000. If we had just what one of them cost we would buy a frock for every baby in town—we would.

John Ross, the celebrated Indian Chief of the Cherokee nation, died at Washington, on the 2d instant, in the 75th year of his age. He was the acknowledged chief of that tribe for over forty years.

We call the attention of our readers to the communication in this issue, on the subject of the next Congressman, signed "Erie County."

Mrs. George Brown, of Baltimore, last week donated $10,000 to the Union Theological Seminary of Virginia.

Pennfield College, Georgia, has conferred the degree of L. L. D. on Gen. Lee.

The School Directors of the borough want to pay somebody ten dollars. See advertisement.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY. The times are hard; you'd like to know How you may save your Dollars; The way to do it I will show, If you will read what follows.

A man who lived not far from here, Who worked hard at his trade; But had a household to support, That squandered all he made. I met him once, says he, "my friend, I look threadbare and rough; I've tried to get myself a suit, But can't save up enough."

Says I, my friend, how much have you? He tells you where to go. To get a suit that's sound and cheap— At REIZENSTEIN'S and Co. He took what little he had saved, And went to Reizenstein & Brothers And there he got a handsome suit, For half he paid to others.

Now he is home, he looks so well; And their effect is such, That when they take their daily meals, They don't eat half so much. And now he finds on Saturday night With all their wants supplied; That he has money left to spend, And some to lay aside. His good success, with cheerful smile, He gladly tells to all; If you'd save Money, go and buy, Your clothes at Reizenstein Clothing Hall.
