We gather from the Philadelphia ge, the following synopsis of the receedings of the Traitors' Convenon that assembled in that city on he 3d instant :

"The labors of the Radical Convenhat motley assemblage have now beome matters of history. Never did ny Convention result so disastrously the most profitable and just, oits originators. Dissension reigned Next following he upreme since the inception of the Douglass, speaking in this strain : novement, and its projectors are ap-ulled at the fatal consequences which rill certainly result from the calamity will certainly result from the calamity which has befallen them in Philadel-phia. In order to emulate, if possi-ble, the grand Union demonstration in this city on the 14th of August, they inaugurated the late movement, which, "like the Dead Sea's fruits," has brought nothing but "dust and in this city on the 14th of August, has brought nothing but "dust and ashes to their lips." Two separate and distinct bodies have been in sesion all the week, and never came toether except in the public streets. Northern Convention employed its time principally in trying to dictate terms to the "Southern Loyalists," while its members affectionztely re-ceived within their fold Fred.
