

B. GOODLANDER, Editor and Proprietor.

PRINCIPLES, not MEN.

TERMS: $2 00 Per Annum, if paid in advance

VOL. XXXIII.—WHOLE NO. 1934.

CLEARFIELD, PA., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1866.

NEW SERIES—VOL. VII.—NO. 17.

Professional & Business Cards.

W. A. WALLACE, FRANK WALTERS, WALLACE, BIGLER & FIELDING, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, Clearfield, Pa.

HOS. J. McCULLOUGH, ATTORNEY AT LAW.—Office adjoining the Bank, formerly occupied by J. B. McNally.

JOHN L. CUTTE, ATTORNEY AT LAW AND REAL ESTATE AGENT, Clearfield, Pa.—Office on Market Street, opposite the jail.

ROBERT J. WALLACE, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Clearfield, Penn'a.—Office in Clark's Row, opposite the Journal.

WM. M. McCULLOUGH, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Clearfield, Penn'a.—Office on Market Street, one door east of the Clearfield County Bank.

ORVIS & ALEXANDER, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, Sept. 12th 1865-ly. Bellefonte, Pa.

DR. J. P. BURCHFIELD, LATE Surgeon of the 53d Regiment, Penn'a. Volunteers, having returned from the Army.

DENTISTRY. J. P. CORNETT, DENTIST, offers his professional services to the citizens of Clearfield and vicinity.

J. BLAKE WALTERS, CURVENER AND CONVEYANCER, and Agent for the Purchase and Sale of Lands, Clearfield, Pa.

JOSEPH H. BRETH, Justice of the Peace, and Licensed Conveyancer, New Washington, Clearfield county, Pa.

JAMES C. BARRETT, Justice of the Peace and Licensed Conveyancer, Luthersburg, Clearfield county, Pa.

J. R. MURRAY, SAMUEL MITCHELL, McMurray & Mitchell, Dealers in Foreign and Domestic Merchandise.

C. KRATZER & SON, MERCHANTS, dealers in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hardware, Cutlery, Queensware, Groceries, Shingles, and Provisions.

J. P. KRATZER, MERCHANT, and dealer in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hardware, Queensware, Groceries, Provisions, &c.

LEON M. COUTRIET, MERCHANT, and dealer in Dry Goods, Ready-made Clothing, Groceries, Liquors, Drugs and Medicines, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, Hardware, Tinware, &c.

GEORGE F. WARDLE, CHARLES N. REED, Wardle Reed & Co., WHOLESALE GROCERS, Tobacco, Tea, Spices, &c., &c., N. E. cor. 6th & Market Sts., Feb. 14, 1866-6m. PHILADELPHIA.

CYRENIUS HOWE, JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, For DECATUR Township, will promptly attend to all business entrusted to his care.

THOMAS M. CRISMAN, Agent for the Singer Sewing Machines, Phillipsburg, Centre co., Penn'a., Oct. 11th, 1865-ly.

County National Bank; CLEARFIELD, PA. This Bank is now open and ready for business.

Clearfield County Bank.—The Clearfield County Bank as an incorporated institution has gone out of existence by the surrender of its charter on May 12th, 1865.

As President, Cashier and Officers of the late Clearfield County Bank, we require the notes of said bank to be presented for redemption.

As President, Cashier and Officers of the late Clearfield County Bank, we require the notes of said bank to be presented for redemption.

As President, Cashier and Officers of the late Clearfield County Bank, we require the notes of said bank to be presented for redemption.

As President, Cashier and Officers of the late Clearfield County Bank, we require the notes of said bank to be presented for redemption.

As President, Cashier and Officers of the late Clearfield County Bank, we require the notes of said bank to be presented for redemption.

H. F. NAUGLE, WATCH AND JEWELRY MAKER, Graham's Row, Clearfield, Penn'a.

The subscriber respectfully informs his old customers and the public, that he has on hand, and constantly receiving, new additions, a large stock of Clocks, Watches and Jewelry.

REMOVAL. J. P. KRATZER, has removed to his new Ware-Rooms, on Market St., Clearfield, Pa., where he has opened a very large stock of Dry Goods,

Merinoes, Gingham, Cloths, Delaines, Prints, Cashmeres, Alpaca, Silks, Satinets, Repps, Cashmeres, Tweeds, Coburgs, Mohair, Jacon, Lanelins, Muslins, Flannels, Bonnets, Ribbons, Cloaks, Balmoral Skirts, Hoop-Skirts, Shawls, Dress Trimmings, Head Nets, Caps, Corsets, Goggles, Collars, Scarfs, Grenadine Velvets, Table Covers.

GROCERIES. Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Molasses, Salt, Candles, Rice, Flour, Bacon, Fish, Tobacco, Raisins, Currants, Spices, Crackers, Vinegar, Oils, Yarns, Alcohol.

TIN-WARE, GLASS-WARE, WOODEN-WARE, and STATIONERY. Carpets, Oil-cloths, Druggist, Looking-Glasses, Clocks, Churns, Washboards, Tub, Bank-sits, Flat Irons, Fan Window Blinds, Wall-paper, Coal Oil Lamps, Umbrellas, Bedsteads, Knives and Forks, Spoons, Crocks, and Stove Blacking.

ANOTHER EXCITEMENT! A FALL IN PRICES. NEW GOODS AT THE Cheap Cash Store OF WILLIAM F. IRWIN!

A FRESH ARRIVAL OF Spring & Summer Goods At Greatly Reduced Prices.

I am just receiving and opening a carefully selected stock of fashionable Spring & Summer Goods of almost every description.

STAPLE & FANCY DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS. Bonnets, Shawls, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, a large quantity, Hardware, Queensware, Drugs and Medicines, Oil and Paints, Carpet & Oil Cloths, COFFEE MILKS, and Fruits Foreign and Domestic, such as Apples, Peaches, Currants, Prunes, Raisins, Oranges, and Lemons.

Fish, Bacon and Flour. Mackerel in 4 and 8 barrels of the best quality, all of which will be sold at the lowest cash or ready pay prices.

DRESSMAKING, ETC. SPECIAL NOTICE.—Parisian DRESS & GLOVE MAKING. Ladies can have their Dresses, Skirts, Coats and Basques handsewnly made and trimmed, at the shortest notice, at the old-established stand, 1921 Chestnut street.

Parisian Dress & Glove Making. Ladies can have their Dresses, Skirts, Coats and Basques handsewnly made and trimmed, at the shortest notice, at the old-established stand, 1921 Chestnut street.

Parisian Dress & Glove Making. Ladies can have their Dresses, Skirts, Coats and Basques handsewnly made and trimmed, at the shortest notice, at the old-established stand, 1921 Chestnut street.

Parisian Dress & Glove Making. Ladies can have their Dresses, Skirts, Coats and Basques handsewnly made and trimmed, at the shortest notice, at the old-established stand, 1921 Chestnut street.

Parisian Dress & Glove Making. Ladies can have their Dresses, Skirts, Coats and Basques handsewnly made and trimmed, at the shortest notice, at the old-established stand, 1921 Chestnut street.

PETER A. GAULIN, Merchant Tailor AND GENERAL CLOTHIER, Graham's Row, over Naugle's Watch & Jewelry Store, Market Street, CLEARFIELD, PA.

The subscriber having permanently located himself in the Borough of Clearfield, has determined to engage in the business of General Clothier. I intend to keep constantly on hand a full assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinets, and Vestings, of the best quality and latest styles, which I will manufacture to order, to suit customers, on short notice.

H. BRIDGE, MERCHANT TAILOR, (Store one door East of Clearfield House,) Market St., Clearfield, Pa.

Keeps on hand a full assortment of GENTS FURNISHING GOODS, such as Shirts, Linen and Woolen under Shirts, drawers and socks, neckties, pocket handkerchiefs, gloves, umbrellas, hats, &c., in great variety.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY. The times are hard; you'd like to ouxw How you may save your Dollars; The way is to do it with style; If you will read what follows.

Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, one of the Star-Chamber Committee of Fifteen, and a candidate for re-election to Congress, in a recent speech, said: "If the present Congressional platform expressed the whole claim to be demanded of the South, it was one that he would not support. It was well as far as it went, but it did not go far enough. There would be no safety if the South came in and these demands were only complied with. Our only security in the future was in endowing the colored loyal people of the South with the elective franchise, and the speaker said he did not intend to vote for the admission of either of the ten States not at present represented in the Congress of the United States until impartial suffrage was secured to all the people of those States."

THE PRINCESS MURAT.—Among the arrivals at Boston by the China, from Europe, is the Princess Murat, who is on her way home to Florida, in company with the son of the late Commodore Dallas, of the United States Navy. She is the descendant of Joachim Murat, King of Naples, and belongs in Florida, where she has long resided. At the close of the war, Louis Napoleon sent to know how she fared, and on receiving the required information, settled on her for life the sum of 20,000 francs, or about $3,000 in gold, annually. She is also a relative of Gen. Washington, her great-grandmother having been Washington's sister.

THE TROUBLES OF A CONGRESSMAN.—Hon. C. V. Culver, now confined in jail at Franklin, Pa., does not desire to avail himself of his congressional privilege, and will meet his trial in November. Besides civil processes innumerable, several indictments charging him with false pretenses and embezzlement are pending, and are to be called up next month, at Harrisburg. Last week the house and furniture of the gentleman were sold, at the instance of his creditors.

Swains' panacea, Knepp's medical Discovery, Hembold's Bueh, Baker's Cod Liver Oil, Jan's and Ayer's medicines of every kind For sale by H. A. I.

Ground and unground spices, Citron, English Currants, Etc. Coffee and Vinegar of the best quality. For sale by H. A. I. Clearfield, January 10th, 1866.

Rose St. Domingo, Hubbell's, Drake's, Hoof-land's German, Hostetter's and Greene's Oxygenated Bitters, also pure Liquors, of all kinds for medicinal purposes, for sale by H. A. I.

The Amendment. Ratification of the Constitutional Amendment a "Condition" of Restoration. (From the New York World.) Who control the Republican party, the Radicals or the Conservatives, like Mr. Raymond, who have slunk back to it? Some of the Conservatives say the constitutional amendment is a "condition" of Restoration. Here is what the real rulers, the thorough Radicals, say:

"We know personally every prominent member of Congress, and we know that the leaders do not mean to admit the unadmitted States on the mere adoption of the amendment. Moreover, we know personally the leading Radicals of the Republican party outside of Congress, and we know that they have no intention of making the amendment the final measure of admission. To say, therefore, as the National Committee say, that, on condition of adopting the amendment, as Tennessee adopted it, 'the door stands invitingly open' for the ten other States, is to make a promise to the ear to break it to the hope."

"Slavery was not abolished under the mild influence of temptation, but under the strong influence of compulsion; and the negro's enfranchisement will not be achieved by such temptation, but by such compulsion. Accordingly, the Radical party, North and South, white and black, can assent to no reconstruction short of impartial suffrage."

"No leading Republican in Congress means to admit the ten waiting States simply on the adoption of the constitutional amendment. These States are to be admitted on no conditions short of the equal political rights of their loyal citizens, without distinction of race. A reconstruction of the Union on any other basis would be a national dishonor. Until the rebel States can come back on this basis, they shall not come back at all."

Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, one of the Star-Chamber Committee of Fifteen, and a candidate for re-election to Congress, in a recent speech, said: "If the present Congressional platform expressed the whole claim to be demanded of the South, it was one that he would not support. It was well as far as it went, but it did not go far enough. There would be no safety if the South came in and these demands were only complied with. Our only security in the future was in endowing the colored loyal people of the South with the elective franchise, and the speaker said he did not intend to vote for the admission of either of the ten States not at present represented in the Congress of the United States until impartial suffrage was secured to all the people of those States."

Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, one of the Star-Chamber Committee of Fifteen, and a candidate for re-election to Congress, in a recent speech, said: "If the present Congressional platform expressed the whole claim to be demanded of the South, it was one that he would not support. It was well as far as it went, but it did not go far enough. There would be no safety if the South came in and these demands were only complied with. Our only security in the future was in endowing the colored loyal people of the South with the elective franchise, and the speaker said he did not intend to vote for the admission of either of the ten States not at present represented in the Congress of the United States until impartial suffrage was secured to all the people of those States."

Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, one of the Star-Chamber Committee of Fifteen, and a candidate for re-election to Congress, in a recent speech, said: "If the present Congressional platform expressed the whole claim to be demanded of the South, it was one that he would not support. It was well as far as it went, but it did not go far enough. There would be no safety if the South came in and these demands were only complied with. Our only security in the future was in endowing the colored loyal people of the South with the elective franchise, and the speaker said he did not intend to vote for the admission of either of the ten States not at present represented in the Congress of the United States until impartial suffrage was secured to all the people of those States."

Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, one of the Star-Chamber Committee of Fifteen, and a candidate for re-election to Congress, in a recent speech, said: "If the present Congressional platform expressed the whole claim to be demanded of the South, it was one that he would not support. It was well as far as it went, but it did not go far enough. There would be no safety if the South came in and these demands were only complied with. Our only security in the future was in endowing the colored loyal people of the South with the elective franchise, and the speaker said he did not intend to vote for the admission of either of the ten States not at present represented in the Congress of the United States until impartial suffrage was secured to all the people of those States."

Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, one of the Star-Chamber Committee of Fifteen, and a candidate for re-election to Congress, in a recent speech, said: "If the present Congressional platform expressed the whole claim to be demanded of the South, it was one that he would not support. It was well as far as it went, but it did not go far enough. There would be no safety if the South came in and these demands were only complied with. Our only security in the future was in endowing the colored loyal people of the South with the elective franchise, and the speaker said he did not intend to vote for the admission of either of the ten States not at present represented in the Congress of the United States until impartial suffrage was secured to all the people of those States."

Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, one of the Star-Chamber Committee of Fifteen, and a candidate for re-election to Congress, in a recent speech, said: "If the present Congressional platform expressed the whole claim to be demanded of the South, it was one that he would not support. It was well as far as it went, but it did not go far enough. There would be no safety if the South came in and these demands were only complied with. Our only security in the future was in endowing the colored loyal people of the South with the elective franchise, and the speaker said he did not intend to vote for the admission of either of the ten States not at present represented in the Congress of the United States until impartial suffrage was secured to all the people of those States."

Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, one of the Star-Chamber Committee of Fifteen, and a candidate for re-election to Congress, in a recent speech, said: "If the present Congressional platform expressed the whole claim to be demanded of the South, it was one that he would not support. It was well as far as it went, but it did not go far enough. There would be no safety if the South came in and these demands were only complied with. Our only security in the future was in endowing the colored loyal people of the South with the elective franchise, and the speaker said he did not intend to vote for the admission of either of the ten States not at present represented in the Congress of the United States until impartial suffrage was secured to all the people of those States."

Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, one of the Star-Chamber Committee of Fifteen, and a candidate for re-election to Congress, in a recent speech, said: "If the present Congressional platform expressed the whole claim to be demanded of the South, it was one that he would not support. It was well as far as it went, but it did not go far enough. There would be no safety if the South came in and these demands were only complied with. Our only security in the future was in endowing the colored loyal people of the South with the elective franchise, and the speaker said he did not intend to vote for the admission of either of the ten States not at present represented in the Congress of the United States until impartial suffrage was secured to all the people of those States."

Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, one of the Star-Chamber Committee of Fifteen, and a candidate for re-election to Congress, in a recent speech, said: "If the present Congressional platform expressed the whole claim to be demanded of the South, it was one that he would not support. It was well as far as it went, but it did not go far enough. There would be no safety if the South came in and these demands were only complied with. Our only security in the future was in endowing the colored loyal people of the South with the elective franchise, and the speaker said he did not intend to vote for the admission of either of the ten States not at present represented in the Congress of the United States until impartial suffrage was secured to all the people of those States."

Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, one of the Star-Chamber Committee of Fifteen, and a candidate for re-election to Congress, in a recent speech, said: "If the present Congressional platform expressed the whole claim to be demanded of the South, it was one that he would not support. It was well as far as it went, but it did not go far enough. There would be no safety if the South came in and these demands were only complied with. Our only security in the future was in endowing the colored loyal people of the South with the elective franchise, and the speaker said he did not intend to vote for the admission of either of the ten States not at present represented in the Congress of the United States until impartial suffrage was secured to all the people of those States."

Kit Carson. Kit Carson, the oracle of the Western plains and mountains, has lately been visited by a correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, to whom he communicated the following interesting reminiscences:

All the Indian hunters and trappers ride with short stirrups. I am almost bow-legged from it. It is more important to the Indian than the white man, as it is only by aid of the stirrup he can shift his position, hanging down on one side so as to conceal all his body but his leg. His leg is all you have to fire at, as he throws himself on the side buttocks, or around the neck of the horse. On this account, also, they hang the stirrups well forward.

Some one referred to Carson's intimate knowledge of Indian strategy. Why, yes, I am up to a good many of their tricks, but they fooled me once—they fooled me pretty bad that time. I'll tell you about it. It was in—let me see—yes, 1835. There were six of us hunters out after buffalo, up in the Snake country. We had made a pretty good hunt, and came into camp at night, intending to start in next morning with our hunt. Well, we camped. Had a good many dogs with us, some of them good dogs. They barked a good deal, and we heard wolves. As I lay by the fire, I saw one or two big wolves sneaking about camp—one of them quite in it. Gordon wanted to fire, but I would not let him, for fear of hitting some of the dogs.

I had just a little suspicion that the wolves might be Indians, but when I saw them turn short round, and heard the snap of their teeth when the dogs came too close to one of them, I felt easy then, and made sure it was a wolf. The Indian fooled me that time. Confound the rascal!—becoming animated—confound the rascal, do you think he didn't have two old buffalo bones in his hand that he cracked together every time he turned to snap at the dogs? Well, by and by we dozed off asleep, and it wasn't long before I was awake by a crash and a blaze. I jumped strait for the mules and held 'em. If the Indians had been smart they'd a had us all, but they ran as soon as they fired. They killed but one of us—poor Davis. He had five bullets in his body and eight in his buffalo robe. The Indians were a band of Sioux, on the war path after the Snakes, and came on us by accident. They tried to waylay us next morning, but we killed three of 'em, including their chief.

"When I first went over into California in 1829, the valleys were full of Indian tribes. Indians were thick everywhere, and I saw a great deal of some large and flourishing tribes. When I was there again in 1843, they had all disappeared, and when I inquired about certain tribes I had seen on the spot, was told by the people living there that they had never heard of them."

"POLAR BEAR" CLOAKS.—The new cloakings for the coming winter seasons are all of the Polar bear order, tufted half an inch thick, and very soft and warm. They are not adapted to either round cloaks or tight-fitting garments, and can only be made into coats or loose paletots, and only trimmed with the most extravagant of buttons.

The latest fashion in buttons is to represent upon them horses' heads, dogs' heads, and also sometimes the whole animal. The bear, having received its share of patronage among the rest, has given the name to the shaggy coats and sacks of thick, white and light tufted cloth, which are henceforth to be known as "Polar bear" cloaks.

These cloaks are very expensive, $15 and $18 per yard, but they are wide, and so, fortunately, it does not take many yards to make a cloak. The "Alpine" cloaking is beautiful; it is of thick, white wool, or striped in colors, blue or orange, and is used only for opera cloaks, or in all white, or carriage paletots.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.—Mr. Robert Walker and his wife, riding in a wagon with two seats, were crossing a railroad track in Detroit, Michigan, Friday, when the gentleman, who sat on the front seat driving, while the lady sat behind him, suddenly discovered that a train of cars was rapidly approaching. He whipped his horse, and they sprang quickly forward. This unexpected moment threw Mrs. Walker out of the wagon. She fell upon the planks between the rails, which serve to enable teams to pass, and in an instant after the train was grinding her body almost to jelly. The remains of the unfortunate victim were found beside the track, the entire train having passed over them. They were a shapeless mass.

THE METEORIC DISPLAY.—The meteoric shower promised by the astronomers about the middle of November is, it appears, preceded by preliminary exhibitions. It is stated in the Philadelphia Ledger that for several nights past, notwithstanding the moonlight, brilliant meteors have been noticed in the heavens, and the grand display anticipated next month will probably not fail us.

Miscellaneous Items. The Nation says housekeeping is human; boarding is simply animal. What did Lot do when his wife turned to salt? Got a fresh one. Tea kettles are decidedly Yankee in their melody; they sing through their noses.

If a bigamist were sentenced to live with his two wives in the same house, the crime would soon become extinct. An Irishman, having been told that the price of bread had fallen, exclaimed: "This is the first time I ever rejoiced at the fall of my best friend."

One of the oldest papers in the world, the Postzeitung, of Frankfort, established in 1616, has just disappeared—suppressed by Bismarck. If your sister, while engaged with a sweetheart, asks you to bring a glass of water from an adjoining room, start on the errand, but you need not return. You will not be missed. Don't forget this, little boys.

Miss Smith asked "the pleasure of Captain Jones's company to tea." At the time appointed the Captain, being in command of the Rifles, made his appearance with the whole of his company in parade dress. "Speaking of shaving," said a pretty girl to an obdurate old bachelor, "I should think that a pair of handsome eyes would be the best mirror to shave by." "Yes, many a poor fellow has been shaved by them."

Squabbles, an old bachelor, shows his stockings, which he has just darned, to a maiden lady, who contemptuously remarks, "Pretty good for a man darning." Whereupon Squabbles rejoins, "Good enough for a woman, darn her."

A would-be agreeable, taking his seat between Madame de Staël and the reigning beauty of the day, said, "How happy I am to be thus seated between a wife and a beauty!" "Yes," replied Madame de Staël, "and without possessing either."

A squaw in Central Michigan had a pappoose on her arm, exceedingly white for a member of its race, which fact induced a gentleman to ask if it was not a half-breed? Whereupon she said: "No, not a drop of white blood about it—half Injin and half missionary."

"I wish I could prevail on neighbor Binder to keep the Sabbath," said good Mr. Johnson. "I'll tell you how to do it," exclaimed incisive young Smith; "get somebody to lend it to him, and I'll be bound that he'll keep it." He was never yet known to return anything that he borrowed.

O'Connell, in addressing a jury, having exhausted every ordinary epithet of abuse, stopped for a word, and then added, "this un-fratious ruffian." When afterward asked by his friends the meaning of the word, he confessed he did not know, but said, "he thought it sounded well."

At an assemblage of a few friends, one evening, the absence of a lady was noticed, which was apologized for by an acquaintance, who stated that she was detained by an interesting little incident. "Ah, yes," exclaimed Mrs. John Smith, "and a beautiful little incident it was too—weighing just nine pounds and a half!"

A physician passing a stone mason's shop called out: "Good morning, Mr. D.—hard at work I see. You finish your grave-stones as far as 'In the memory of,' and then wait I suppose, to see who want a monument next?" "Why, yes," replied the old man, "unless somebody's sick and you are doctoring him, then I keep on."

A young exquisite, innocent of any hair upon his face, went into Phalon's last week, and seating himself in one of the chairs, told the operator to shave him. The barber lathered his face and then sat down on another chair and began to read the Tribune. "Hallo, fellow," says the dandy, "what are you waiting for?" "I have done all I can, sir," replied the other. "I am now waiting for your beard to grow."

It has transpired that the Paymaster who embezzled several thousand dollars of the Government money by cutting from the Seven-thirty bonds in his possession the material coupons, and appropriating the proceeds to his own use is Lieutenant Colonel Thomas F. Winston, Chief Paymaster of the Pay District of the Gulf of New Orleans.

THE METEORIC DISPLAY.—The meteoric shower promised by the astronomers about the middle of November is, it appears, preceded by preliminary exhibitions. It is stated in the Philadelphia Ledger that for several nights past, notwithstanding the moonlight, brilliant meteors have been noticed in the heavens, and the grand display anticipated next month will probably not fail us.

THE METEORIC DISPLAY.—The meteoric shower promised by the astronomers about the middle of November is, it appears, preceded by preliminary exhibitions. It is stated in the Philadelphia Ledger that for several nights past, notwithstanding the moonlight, brilliant meteors have been noticed in the heavens, and the grand display anticipated next month will probably not fail us.

THE METEORIC DISPLAY.—The meteoric shower promised by the astronomers about the middle of November is, it appears, preceded by preliminary exhibitions. It is stated in the Philadelphia Ledger that for several nights past, notwithstanding the moonlight, brilliant meteors have been noticed in the heavens, and the grand display anticipated next month will probably not fail us.