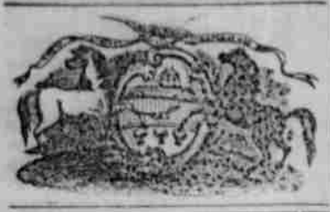
The Republican.



GEORGE B. GOODLANDER, Editor.

CLEARFIELD, PA.

Wednesday Morning, Dec. 20, 1866.

To Our Readers.

The old year has about passed away. Before we address you again, the annual and hallowed influences of Christmas and New Years will, we hope, be shared by us all, either to our profit or loss. All other people and Governments seem to enjoy themselves better than we do. While they are as happy as mortals can be in this life, we are unhappy, divided, separated The monster that crawled into the shades of Eden, has evidently dragged his slimy carcass across our Paradise; and if the agencies he has employed are not expelled from the Garden very soon, the occupants will be driven forth, like our first parents, accursed of God and man. The old serpent succeeded in destroying the social, and very nearly the eternal, happiness of our race, through the profession of great wisdom, "a higher law," and the innocent amusement of eating of the fruit of the Garden. His agents have been zealously at work in our political Eden. While claiming great wisdom, with its numerous concomitants, they, at this day, six thousand years later, also proclaim "a higher law" than that delivered to us by our fathers; this last deception has nearly proved as disastrous as the first, and if we are not miraculously furnished with a Redeemer, our last state will be worse than the first. A way has been secured to us by which we can escape the dreadful associations and punishment of the "Father of lies;" but that our country can ever escape the horrible results of the teachings of Abolitionists, civil war, disunion and the blending of the races, is not so clear now.

The best we can do, is to wish our readers all the happiness that can be enjoyed in our distressed, oppressed and dissevered country, hoping that through the interposition of the Governor of the world, and the intelligence of the people, we may be able ere long to rescue our Eden from the hands of the despoilers.

THE INFAMY CONSUMMATED.—The Rump Congress, on Friday last, passed the bill conferring the right to vote upon the negroes in the District of Columbia. The vote of the Senate stood, yeas 37, nays 13; in the House, yeas 118, nays 46. Our loyal member, Scofield, acknowledged by his vote, that he is no better than a negro. We should think so too. As he gets $2,000 a year extra pay for his services, he is as much entitled to live in the Bureau as the black niggers. The other infamous feature in this matter is, that there are not ten citizens in Washington, that have asked for this legislation, while at an election held in reference to the matter, over 7000 votes were cast against it. Nevertheless, this is done by the party that howls so lustily for the "majority to rule." The distinction between theory and practice, is rather clear.

UNGRATEFUL.—The Albany Journal, and a score of other loyal newspapers in New York, pitch into Philosopher Greeley, since his announcement for Senatorial honors. They all pronounce against him because he is not blood-thirsty enough for them. This is very remarkable; for while Horace and his piratical crew were engaged in shooting, burning and exterminating for four years, until they become sick of their bloody work, not one of these loud-mouthed shysters ever took a hand at it. We have no love for Greeley, but we believe him to be less of a skunk than any of his competitors. Although blood-thirsty, he is nevertheless a moral coward, and can be scared off.

MR. CULVER'S PAMPHLET.—We have been favored with a copy of a pamphlet of thirty-one pages, entitled, "Letter from C. V. Culver, (now in jail at Franklin,) Addressed to Thomas Hoge, James S. Myers, and F. D. Kinnear, in Relation to the Failure of Culver, Penn & Co." It goes over the whole ground, and states Mr. Culver's views of the case, which of course, is not the view entertained by the gentlemen to whom the letter is addressed. In this controversy we have nothing to say. All matters at variance between the parties will be settled by the Courts, and to whom we leave the case.

A CURTAIN IN DANGER.—The political mules, under the lash of old Thad, have made a damaging raid upon the Senatorial prospects of the "Soldiers' friend." The "government" of Pennsylvania had better look to its radical laurels, or the Johnnies will plunder his baggage train before he reaches Washington. Go in skunkies; we don't care which whips.

Refreshing Loyalty.

The Rumpers have actually organized a prayer-meeting in the House hall, at Washington, bereft of all sectarianism. The despatcher might have added "and religion" too. Thirty members and senators participated the first night. It is run by Representative Dodge, of New York, on the part of the House, and Senator Wilson, of Mass., on the part of the Senate. The former is the man that ousted Mr. Brooks from his seat, through bribery and corruption. Three checks were produced before the committee dated on Sunday, signed by Dodge, and drawn in favor of low drinking houses. He and his brother, during the war, imported a large amount of lead statuary, upon which there was no duty, and cut them up and sold the lead. This is the way he supported the Government—made thousands of dollars by cheating it out of its revenues. A pretty Dodge! Senator Wilson rushed from the Senate Chamber in May, 1861, secured a colonel's commission, went to Massachusetts, raised a regiment, got back to Washington about the time somebody got licked at Bull Run, handed back his commission to Cameron, and never afterwards crossed the Potomac. It is reported that he lately joined the Church. New converts are often like young bees, biggest when first hatched; hence his enthusiasm. No two men could be found better suited to run a Rump prayer-meeting, than the loyal Dodger and the saintly Wilson. The former is a knave, the latter a coward.

JUST LIKE HIM.—The loyal bloodhound who does the praying for the Rump, in his opening prayer on the morning after the District negro bill had passed, "thanked God that there was one place under the full control and jurisdiction of the United States where all men had been enfranchised, and he trusted that this was but the beginning of a good (?) work everywhere." There was a fellow many years ago, that went up into the Temple and prayed similar to this; but we are told the "Government" did not approve it.

IMITATION.—The dead duck, in imitation of his former master, has issued a proclamation from his seat in the Rump Senate, calling upon the "loyal" in this State to employ every means to secure the election of Thad. Stevens to that body. Forney would have to employ more wenches than he does now, if Thad would happen to go to that place, or there would soon be a "loyal" rumpus in the Senatorial closets.

The quotation editor of the Journal is greatly annoyed because of the difference of opinion that exists among the members of our party in reference to the minor features of party organization. He evidently belongs to the class of things that can see a mote in their neighbor's eye—for which they reprove him—while they carry a beam in their own, and a dagger in their hearts, with too little courage to use it.

GOOD AT IT.—The toadyism lately displayed by that political bummer, Forney, towards Thad. Stevens, exceeds his best efforts during the days he basked in the shadow of James Buchanan. He will ruin that corrupt old miscegenator as sure as the world, if he don't keep his eye cocked.

A "LOYAL" TRICK—To reprimand the Democracy for divisions, etc., while your party has only existed in one-half the country since its organization, and in a perfect Killkenny fight kept up for two years. Look at the war between the "Government" and the Rump, etc.

MORE PERJURY.—It is reported from Washington, that Holt and Stanton propose, on the return of Surratt, to offer him a pardon, if he will swear them out of their infamy and swear others in. That's a grand moral idea. None but a loyalist could ever conceive anything like it!

The State Canvassers of New York return to the Department the following as the official vote of that State for Governor: Hoffman, Democrat, 352,526; Fenton, Disunionist, 366,315. Maj. for Fenton, 13,789. The majority for a State Convention to revise the Constitution is 96,490.

If the decapitated "loyalist" who does up the heavy work for the Journal comes out from behind his works, we will give him some attention; but while he barks from behind a screen, we will not bother with anything of the kind.

Mr. George C. Wilson, late associate editor of the Clarion Democrat, has withdrawn from editorial life, and turned the paper over to R. B. Brown, Esq., who in the future promises to devote his time to that staunch Democratic organ. Success to both.

Nearly all the clerks in the Departments at Washington are praying for higher wages. It is singular that loyalty should run on this line all the time.

Artemus Ward says there are no daily papers published in his town, but there is a ladies' sewing circle, which answers the same purpose.

Progress of the Greeley Reformation.

Robert Anderson, a mechanic of Albany, blew his brains out on last Friday.

A steel corset saved the life of a lady in Louisville who was accidently shot by her son.

J. Friederberg, of Buffalo, was stripped and robbed on a road through a swamp near Bergen, N. J., by three robbers.

Three robbers were taken from a Kentucky jail last week and hanged by the people.

A young and very pretty dressmaker of Columbus, Ohio, has absconded with a large number of "rich fabrics" belonging to her customers.

A colored preacher, named Wm. Harris, has been arrested in Richmond for alleged abduction and seduction of the daughter of Lomax D. Smith, a colored barber.

A Hartford special says that Mr. Leach, grocer, of that city, was stabbed four times on Thursday night in an encounter with a burglar. The robber escaped.

A young man in Clay county, Ill., attempted last week to shoot his father, but as his revolver missed fire, the father seized a shot gun and shot the young villian dead.

An indignant mother found her hopeful daughters in a low place of amusement in Chicago the other night, and taking each by the hair of the head led them out of the house to the great astonishment of the spectators.

In the suit of Repon, charged with counterfeiting, now pending before the courts of New York, Mr. Spencer in pleading for the defence said, "that three-fourths of the detectives engaged to break up counterfeiting were in league with the counterfeiters."

Julius Thompson, of West Hartford Conn., was brutally murdered on the 12th inst., near his residence, by an unknown man, who called him out of the house to lend assistance. No arrests have been made.

Brigam Young says the Gentiles are filling Salt Lake city with barrooms and other dens of vice, and thereby attempting to drag it down to the level of their so-called civilized cities—Denver, San Francisco and New York.

Mrs. Julia Thoman, formerly Miss Julia Pelby, a well known actress committed suicide at her residence in Cambridge, Mass., on Saturday night, by taking laudanum She had recently returned from a professional engagement in California.

PARDONED.—Hubert Riddle, who was sentenced on the 10th of November, 1865, to five years imprisonment, at labor, in the Schuylkill county jail, for the murder of Dennis Haggerty, at Mount Carbon, Schuylkill county, has been pardoned by Gov. Curtin.

At Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Richard Lewis was convicted of murdering Rev. J. C. Richmond by shooting him, and sentenced by Judge Gilbert to be hung on the 25th of January. The father of the prisoner, who was charged as an accomplice in the assassination, committed suicide in jail.

A Chicago showman of "European Circus" notoriety, was lately "cornered" by his faithful wife, who, as he did not return at an "early hour," went forth into the cold and chilling blasts, and through the assistance of a policeman "corraled" Mr. Howe as the registered occupant of a room at a hotel in company with a beautiful and celebrated equestrienne, which circumstances added somewhat to the statistics of marital infidelity of that model municipality.

Almon P. Lord, a resident of Pavillion, Wyoming county, was found dead in his own barn, with a pistol in his hand and a bullet hole under his left ear. It appeared on an inquest held that deceased wanted to marry a girl, who refused him. On the refusal of the girl to accept a ring, he made the remark to his brother's wife, where he boarded, who urged him to change shirts, that he would never want another clean shirt. Soon after breakfast, on Friday, he left his brother's house, and was not found until Sunday morning. The verdict of the jury was—"Shot himself."

A horrible stabbing affray occurred on Thursday afternoon in Jersey City. James Meehan and John Friery, two firemen, were drinking in a place in Newark avenue, when a quarrel took place between Friery and the keeper, in which Meehan interfered. Friery deliberately took a knife out of his pocket and plunged it into Meehan's side. Eye witnesses say he turned the blade about in the wound. He then walked off with some of his companions. Many persons saw him go; but as he was understood to have a revolver in his pocket, and was known to be a desperate ruffian, no one ventured to stop him. Half an hour after he was arrested. Meehan will die.

CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 10.—George Maxwell Franconi, was brutally murdered on Saturday evening. He lived in a farm house by himself, quite a distance from any other dwelling. The body was found in his house on Sunday morning, horribly mangled. The condition of the furniture indicated a terrible struggle. A knife and a billet of wood were first used by the murderer, and finally an axe, the whole blade of which was buried in the victim's neck. It is supposed the crime was committed for money. The murderer fled with the horse and wagon of the victim. He was of medium height, and had whiskers and a moustache, and was, apparently, about thirty years of age. A reward of $500 has been offered for his arrest.

A young man named Tenney, in Greenfield, Mass., not long ago took $25,000 in securities, placed for safe keeping in the bank in which he was clerk, and gambled the money away in stock speculations. The fact of the theft seems to have been proved beyond a doubt; but the defaulter's counsel eloquently urged that the clerk meant to replace the bonds, and that he therefore did not steal them, but, "only borrowed them for a temporary purpose." This plea dazzled the minds of the jury, together with the affecting facts that the accused was a handsome young man, a favorite in local society, a good dancer, and a Sunday school teacher, and, to the astonishment of every body, they brought in a verdict of acquittal.—Albany Journal.

Crippled soldiers are constantly arriving in Washington, expecting to get into the Invalid Corps, but as no more disabled men are received, disappointment and suffering are the results.

The N. Y. Herald favors Greeley's election to the U. S. Senate because it wants one Senator who can keep sober during the long night sessions, and who will avoid "Forney's Bourbon bottle."

Thad. Stevens wants one hundred million dollars added to the currency, and when gold goes up, as it consequently would, he would have speculation in it made a crime. Thad is a queer statesman, anyhow.

An old lady who had insisted on her minister's praying for rain, had her cabbages cut up by a hail storm, and on viewing the wreck remarked that she "never knew him to undertake anything without overdoing it.

Wendell Phillips is out in this week's Anti-Slavery Standard in favor of Fred. Douglass, the negro, as United States Senator from New York, in place of Hon. Ira Harris. As Harris votes for the nigger, he might as well give him his seat.

There are nine million pounds of Pennsylvania iron in the dome of the Federal Capital. Notwithstanding the Yankees rule the roast, there is no denying that the Old Keystone has some weight down there—even if it is only in base metal.

Efforts are now being made since the arrest of John H. Surratt, to get the perjurer, Conover, released. Facts are gathering too fast to make it comfortable for such loyalists as Holt, Stanton & Co. Bribery and perjury is coming to light thick and fast.

Prentice speaks of a brawling Kentuckian, who was bragging about how loyal he felt, and who, being asked what he meant by it, replied: "I feel as if I should like to shoot somebody, steal something, or betray my neighbor." This is about the best definition of "loyalty" we ever saw.

Mr. Bruce will certainly have no trouble to find his spoons, if he knows where Butler stays.

Colonel Henry Wilson, of Mass., with a party of friends, has availed himself of the opportunity of the Congressional recess to visit the battle fields near Richmond. The Colonel never found an opportunity to visit those fields when he was a Colonel, and they were battle-fields.

The Editor of the Boudoir says:—"A millionaire of this city recently gave a dinner at his elegant residence to which forty guests were invited, one-half of whom were ladies. With very questionable taste, a present worth five hundred dollars was laid beside the plate of each of the lady guests."

It is stated that the name of the Frenchman who engaged with Weichman in teaching in Washington, and who furnished the information leading to the arrest of John H. Surratt, is Santa Farara—at least, that is the name by which he then passed. He is a tall, good-looking man, with black hair and moustache, and manners somewhat dignified.

AS USUAL.—The first bill called up in the Rump Senate, was to establish negro suffrage in the District of Columbia. Sumner called it. The first bill in the Rump House was to repeal that portion of the act of 1862, which empowered the President to grant pardon and amnesty. Another Massachusetts fellow, Elliot, introduced the bill. The first State that tried to get out of the Union was this same Massachusetts. She is always ahead when treason and plunder are the reward.

TO SCHOOL DIRECTORS.—There has, perhaps, been no time since the establishment of the Common School System, when a meeting of Directors of the county was more needed than at present. It has, therefore, been considered practicable to hold a Director' Convention, on Tuesday evening (15th) of January court, at the office of T. J. McCullough, Esq., in Clearfield, for the purpose of interchanging views and opinions upon educational topics. The School system has reached a crisis in this county, which we can in no way so effectually meet. It is hoped that all Directors attending court, and as many others as can make it convenient, will be present.

Godey's Lady's Book for 1867.

THE FASHION MAGAZINE OF THE WORLD.

LITERATURE, Fine Arts and Fashions. The most magnificent Steel Engravings. Double Fashion plates. Wood Engravings on every subject that can interest ladies. Crochet knitting, netting, embroidery, articles for the toilet, for the parlor, the bonduir, and the kitchen. Everything, in fact, to make a complete Lady's Book. The lady's favorite for thirty-seven years. No Magazine can compete with it. None attempt it.

Godey's Receipts for every department of a household: those alone are worth the price of the Book. Model Cottages, (no other Magazine gives them,) with diagrams. Dressing lessons for the young; another peculiarity with Godey. Original music, worth $3 a year. Other magazines publish old worn out music, but the subscribers to Godey get it before the music stores. Gardening for Ladies; another peculiarity with Godey. Fashions from Mmes. A. T. Stewart & Co., of New York, the millionaire merchants, appear in Godey, the only magazine that has them. Ladies' Bonnets; we give more of them in a year than any other magazine. In fact, the Lady's Book enables every lady to be her own bonnet maker.

MARION HARLAND, authoress of "Alone," "Hidden Path," "Moss Side," "Nemesis" and "Miriam," writes for Godey each month, and for no other magazine. A new novel by her will be published in 1867. We have also retained all our old and favorite contributors.

TERMS, (from which there can be no deduction:) One copy, one year, $3; two copies, one year, $5; three copies, one year, $7 50; four copies, one year, $10; five copies, one year, (and an extra copy to the person getting up the club, making six copies,) $14; eight copies, one year, (and an extra copy to the person getting up the club, making nine copies,) $21; eleven copies, one year, (and an extra copy to the person getting up the club, making twelve copies,) $27 50. All additions to clubs at club rates. Club subscribers will be sent to any post office where the subscriber may reside. Godey's Lady's Book and Arthur's Home Magazine will be sent, each one year, on receipt of $4 50. We have no club with any other Magazine or newspaper. The money must be all sent at one time for any of the clubs. Address,
L. A. GODEY,
