

Religious Miscellany.

HE KNOWETH ALL.—He knoweth the way that I take.—Job xxiii. 19.

The twilight falls, the night is near, I fold my work away, And kneel to see who came to hear The story of the day.

The old, old story, yet I kneel To tell it as they call, And cross your lighter as I feel That Jesus knows them all.

Yes, all! The morning and the night, The joy, the grief, the loss, The rugged path, the sunbeam bright, The lonely hours and cross.

Thou knowest all—I feel my head; My weary eyelids close; Content and glad awhile to tread This path, since Jesus knows!

And He has loved me! All my heart With answering love is stirred, And every anguished pain and smart I find healing in the word.

So here I lay me down to rest, As night shadows fall, And lean on nothing but my breast Who knows and pities all!

No one can be a living, growing Christian, who does not feed the fountain with secret communion with God.

It is not the sphere in which we move, but the spirit which moves us, that makes life vulgar or heroic.

The Christian life is not an engagement by contract between a master and his servant. It is the union of two hearts—that of the Saviour with that of the saved—the enduring ties of the most intimate love.

"There is something infinitely evil in unbelief, if we only consider what it prevents. It stands, and it is the only thing that does stand between a sinner and the relief of the gospel. Let him believe, and he is saved. He that hath the Son hath life; and he that believeth hath the Son."

Three things appear to be uninjured by the fall: the song of birds, the beauty of flowers, the smile of infancy. It is difficult to conceive how either of these could have been more perfect had man remained holy; as if God would leave us something to remind us of the Paradise we have lost, and to point us to that which we may regain.

The Bishop of Wartsburg asked a sprightly shepherd boy, "What are you doing here my boy?" "Teaching swine." "How much do you get?" "One florin a week." "I am a shepherd also," said the Bishop, "but I have a much better salary." "That may all be, but then I suppose you have more wine under your care," replied the boy.

"What does Satan pay you for swearing?" asked one gentleman of another. "He don't pay me anything," was the reply. "Well, you work cheap; to lay aside the character of a gentleman; to inflict so much pain on your friends and civil people; to suffer; and lastly to risk your own precious soul—and for nothing. You certainly do work cheap—very cheap indeed."

As a general thing, it may be expected that all Christians will find themselves able to bear the great crosses of life, because they come with observation; they attract notice by their very magnitude, and by putting the soul on its guard, give it strength to meet them. But happy, thrice happy is he who can bear the little crosses which ever lie in wait, and which attack us secretly, and without giving warning, like a thief in the night.

Bernard, preaching one day very solemnly, the learned thanked him, but not the godly; but when, another day, he preached plainly, the good people came blessing God for him, and gave him many thanks, which some scholars wondered at. "Ah," said he, "yesterday I preached Bernard, but to-day I preached Christ. It is not learning, but teaching; not wisdom of words, but the evidence and demonstration of the Spirit, that is welcome to the Saints."

To have lived in the scenes through which we have just passed, was a high privilege. But to be permitted to live when God rends the heavens, when he comes down, when the mountains flow down at his presence, will be a glory of which we know not what may be before us in the twelve months upon which we enter, but may be as always about our Master's business, that when he comes he may find us waiting for his appearing, and ready to do his will.

A living Jesus! There is no more glorious fact than this. It gives infinity to our religion, and life to all our labors. It lifts our sermons out of a dead formalism, and fills our prayers and songs with the warm blood of real life. It straightens up the soul into real dignity, and gives a tone of tenderness to the voice that is never unkind. Men are in earnest—the earnestness of desperation and convulsive fits, but of real life. Jesus is there, all and in all. They are absorbed in him.

No matter who you are, what your lot, or where you live, you cannot afford to do that which is wrong. The only way to happiness and pleasure for yourself is to do the right thing. You may not always hit the mark, but you should always aim for it, and with every trial your skill increases. Whether you are to be praised or blamed for it by others, whether it will seemingly make you richer or poorer, or whether no other person than yourself know of your action, still always, and in all cases, do the right.

The Saviour's mission was preeminently on the aggressive. He made war upon sin, in high places and in low. He attacked Satan in his strongholds. He came to destroy his works. He hurled his fearful anathemas against the children of darkness and hypocrisy, and sought out the poor, the degraded and the oppressed, to do them good. It was by an active missionary career that he earned the name of a faithful minister of the gospel and preacher of righteousness. The life and labors of the apostles were after this model. Under them the word had free course. So it has ever been, and will be. When Christian zeal declines, and aggressive movements cease, Christians sleep, the church decays, iniquity abounds, and the world runs madly on to ruin.

Cleanse the Blood.

WITH corrupt, or tainted blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you in ill-humor, and do you good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S SERRAVALLE purges out this impurity, it catarrhs disease, and restores health and eliminates the origin of life long vigorous action. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrophulous, or King's Evil, Tumors, Eczema, Eruptions, Pimples, Blisters, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Br. yelpus, Tetter Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, and to expel the impurities of the blood, and to restore health, Vigor, and Strength, Whites, Stricture, or Syphilis or Venereal Disease, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try AYER'S SERRAVALLE, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Serravallo for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Serravallo, but offer no curative ingredient whatever. Hence, bitter disappointments have followed the use of the various extracts of Serravallo, which bear the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the class of disease to which it is adapted. We can assure the sick, that we offer them the best alternative we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most efficient purifier of the blood.

AYER'S URINE PURIFIER is so universally known to surpass every other medicine for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, and Consumption, and for the relief of Obstructive Fevers, in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows that. (Jan. 21, 1866, 2m.)

Patented May 29, 1860. This is an article for washing without rubbing, except in very dirty places, which will require a very slight rub, and unlike other preparations it does not stain, and is perfectly safe for use on all fabrics, and will save the labor of scrubbing, and wear and tear of the clothes.

It removes grease spots as if by magic, and restores the color of dyed goods, that is, it cleanses in ordinary cases entirely removes it. This powder is prepared in accordance with the method and upon a process similar to that which is used by Letter Patent. It has been in use for more than a year, and has proved itself an universal favorite wherever it has been used. Among the advantages claimed are: It saves the labor of scrubbing, and wear and tear of the clothes.

Also, for cleaning windows it is unsurpassed. With one quarter the labor usually required it imparts a beautiful gloss and lustre, much superior to that of any other water required except to maintain the powder. Directions with each package.

It can be readily appreciated by a single trial. The cost of making it is only a few cents, and six persons will not exceed a dozen cents. The manufacturers of this powder are aware that many useless compounds have been introduced into the market, and they have endeavored to remedy this, by introducing the invaluable excellence of this article, the suddenly proclaim it as being adapted to meet a demand which has long existed, and which has heretofore remained unsupplied. A man who lived not far from here, Who worked hard at his trade, But had a long walk to his shop, That squandered all he made. I met him once, says he, "My friend, I look thrifty and snug; I've tried to get myself a suit, But can't save up enough."

Says I, my friend, how much have you? "I'll tell you where to go, If you'd care to buy a suit, At REIZENSTEIN'S and cheap—At REIZENSTEIN'S!"

He took what little he had saved, And went to Reizenstein & Brothers', And there he got a handsome suit, For half he paid to others.

Now he is home, he looks so well; And his wife is glad, too; That he has bought so cheaply, And that he has money left to spend, And some to lay aside.
