Whatever God may design to effect E by the cultivation of the passive history of his people, it is evidently not by this means that he designs to bring by this means that he designs to bring about the conquest of the world.

They may be called to suffer; but their commission is to go and preach, to the intent that men may believe and be saved. He bids them seek spheres of usefulness rather than comspheres of usefulness rather than comfort, having first diligently sought to qualify themselves for such spheres. True, bis service is calculated to develop and strengthen our faculties and Christian graces, and so promote our Joun H. ogvis. comfort; but he bids us go work in his vineyard and seek the good of others, because he would have us imitate A Tronneys at Law, Bells'onte, Pa. the benevolent example of His Son in seeking our good.

"Strive," says our Lord, "to enter in at the straight gate; for many shall seek to go in thereat, but shall not be Jesus does not say, "many shall strice to enter in, but shall not be able." He says: "many shall seek"—teaching us that the chief reason why men do not enter the narrow gate of salvation and obtain rest is, that they seek but do not strive to enter in. It is not difficult to understand what is meant by striving, and how different a thing it is from mere seeking. Only notice the conduct of any one who, in real earnestness of soul, desired to obtain any good; you will perceive in his conduct this striving and not mere seeking.

Christ gave himself for us. But are not too many of our gifts for General Merchandise and Lumber, Christ like the one illustrated by the [jan5] Grahamton, Penn'a. following incident? To a little boy at the breakfast table, his father says, "John, you knew your teacher tells "John, you knew your teacher tells" you you must deny yourself in order to present an acceptable offering to the missionary cause; now, what do you think of doing?" "I have made you think of doing?" "I have made tances promptly made, and all kinds of legal instruments executed on short notice, up my mind, father; I won't eat salt mackerel for breakfast." I am glad, my child, that you are willing to deny yourself anything for Jesus' sake. Why do you select that?" "O, father, I am not at all fond of it, and it is very easy to give it up, and besides, we don't very often have it."

I verily believe there's not a sweeter word in the Bible than the word "Come." I am sure that when it fell from the lips of Jesus, when the Spirit and the bride uttered it, when it was echoed by the tongues of apos-tles and saints, and in all these cases was addressed to the weary and heavy laden-to those who were atheists with spiritual needs-it was so full of grace and truth that it could not be exceeded in preciousness by any word in human speech; and this word "Come" is the key-note of the gospel. "Come!" with whatever thirst you faint, "come and drink; come and ing their eyes also on the distant harvest fields, unite to send them the faithful laborer, to reap and gather fruit into life eternal. Would they but keep in remembrance the fact that holy aggressive movement for the conquest of the word is their "being's end and aim," and would they but place themselves in array for the work, and remain united therein, with a proper sense of dependence on their head, they would soon witness results more glorious than have yet followed the publication of the gospel.

An eminent divine, remarkable for the devoted piety and spotless purity of his character, was heard to say that he never read or heard of a crime that be never read or heard of a trime in his life, no matter how heigons, without feeling an inward consciousness that under certain conditions of connection, training or association, he will be same sold STOVE; thus saving many a trip beam from the timper's; and articles that, by being repaired at once, are made new.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, is a southing expectorant, propared to an and rehable cury for discusses of the threat and luoge. A trial of many years has established the fact, that it is more efficacious in pulmonary affections than any other romedy. Its efficanty has now hecome so generally known, that it is justly regarded in many countries as a medicino of indispensable necessity. In Great Britain, France and Gernamy, where medical schemes has reached its highest perfection, it is prescribed in domestic practice, and constantly used in the armies, in hospitals, and other public institutions, where it is regarded by the attending physicians as the most speedy and agreeable remany that can be completed, and constantly used in the armies, in hospitals, and other public institutions, where it is regarded by the attending physicians as the most speedy and agreeable remany that can be completed, and constantly used in the armies, in hospitals, and other public institutions, where it is reparted by it. These results are the most convincing proofs of the superior curative proporties of this proparation; and to them the authors point with peculiar antisfaction. While it is most powerful against confirmed diseases, it is extremely gentle as a medicine in infancy and youth, being quite harmiess to even the youngest, whether arising from Coldes or Coughs, or from other causes, and thus prevent that long train of painrul and incurable diseases, which would arise from the neglect of them. Hence no family chould be without it. Influents, Croup, Hearseness, Whooping Cough, Pleuriey, Incipient Consumption, and other affections of the breathing organs, give way hefore this pre-eminent combination of modicial virtues.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY.

The times are hard; you'd like to ough How you may save your Dollars; The way to do it I will show, If you will read what follows. A man who lived not far from here, Who worked hard at his trade, But had a household to support, That squandered all he made.

I met him once, says he, "my friend, I look threadbare and rough; I've tried to get myself a sult, But can't save up enough."

Says I, my friend, how much have you? I'll tell you where to go, To got a suit that's sound and cheap— At REIZENSTEIN'S and Co. He took what little he had saved,
And went to Reizenstein & Brothers',
And there he got a handsome suit,
For half he paid to others.

Now he is home, he looks so well; And their effect is such, That when they take their daily meals, They don't eat half so much.

And now he finds on Saturday night With all their wants supplied; That he has money left to spend, And some to lay asido. His good success, with cheerful smile,
He gladly tells to all;
If you'd save Money, go and buy,
Your clothes at Reizenstein Clothing Hall.
