There are scores of young man, well intentioned, warmhearted, no lovers of W evil, but adrift from their homes, or with homes as unattractive to them as so many of our homes to any young man may well be, who yet have no place of resort for good companion-ship, for amusement, for an evening of man may well be, who yet have no place of resort for good companion-ship, for amusement, for an evening of rational recreation which is not in direct contact with coarseness, gambling, vice, and poisonous drinks. Even to enjoy themselves it is requisite that they snuff the airs of heil. There are thousands of persons, rich and poor.

I have seen a professedly Christian mother more wrought up over the mud brought in upon her carpet by her boy's shoes, than over the lie that sullied his conscience and proclaimed him a coward. I have seen her exhibit more anxiety when detained from church to hear from her daughter's lips how this and that one was dressed than what the man of God said concerning the great themes of death and eternity. Ah, thought I, will she, throught her instrumentality find through her instrumentality, find those children at the right hand on NEW BOOT AND SHOE SHOP. the last great day?

Embracation has been put up for over eight years, and it is only through the increasing demand and urgent request of my friends and the Public that I send it forth as the grand remedial agent for the various diseases to which that noble and useful azimal, the herse, is radjuct.

Many remedies have been effered to the Public under different forms, asme of these are injurious, others at best of little use, and many whelly improper to snewer the purposes for which they are recommanded.

A judicious and really useful composition, free from those objections, has therefore long been desired by many gentlemen who have valuable horses, and are unwilling to trust them to the care of designing and pretended Farston. Their wishes are at length fully gratified, by (Dr. Beale) being prevailed upon to allow this valuable Embrocation (which has proved so efficacious to the various diseases) to be prepared and brought out to the public.

This Embrocation was extensively used by the Government during the war.
