The two poles could sooner meet, than the love of Christ and the love of the world.

Some people believe sometimes that they hate flattery, when they only hate the manner of flattering.

The trimmer to popularity is a trai-tor to God. His presence destroys unity and zeal of action.

A business that does not challenge the scrutiny of God, and the approval of a good conscience, cannot be consistent and proper. When the world crowds Christ out of the heart, duty becomes simply cold, irksome, hard duty, and the worship of God a bore.

Vice and ignorance are the necessary companions of each other; and we can no more reverse it than we can reverse the stars in their course.

Brother, religion is not a jumble of principle thrown together without system, order, affinity, and completion! They form a complete zone to encircle you round about.

One of the most truly contented ex pressions I ever knew of was that which fell from the lips of a dying minister. He was asked whether he wished to recover or not. He replied : "Really, my friend, I do not care which. If I die, I shall be with God; if I live God will be with me."

The blessed dead say to us, "Weep not; rather follow the way which will bring you where we are; one gets here by loving God, serving him with all one's heart, through the mourning, the separations, griefs, depressions, tears that fill up the whole of life. Heaven is at the end; we TWENTY PER CENT. LOWER THAN must pass through trials as the soldier without fainting or dismay, across battle fields to glory."

It is God'swill that sooner or later we should be separated the one from the other, and that in these separa tions our heart should attach itself more strongly to him, and turn entirely towards the place whither those we miss are gone. The death of our learned entirely towards the place whither those we miss are gone. The death of our learned entirely towards the place whither those we miss are gone. The death of our learned entire the second entire the secon loved ones teaches us to detach ourselves from life, and all that goes on in this poor land of exile, and to have Now is your Time to Call and Examine, no other than heavenly hopes.

A prosy member of the church rose in a meeting and said : "My friends, the devil and I have been fighting for more than twenty minutes. He told me not to speak, but I determined that I would. He even whispered that I spoke too offers and the speak too. I spoke too often, and that nobody wanted to hear me; but I was not to be put down that way-and now that I have gained the victory, I must tell you what I have in my heart." Then followed a tedious harangue. Coming out of the session-room, the good pastor inclined his hand so that his mouth approached the ear of the brilliant member, and whispered, "Brother, I think the devil was right."

Lovers of biblical antiquities will rejoice to hear that the excavations now being made in Syria have resulted in the discovery, at Nadir Sarape, of a Hebrew house dating from about the second century before Christ. Some of the rooms, with their contents, are in perfect preservation, among the latter being a number of house belonged to a literary man. Besides the books of Moses and the Psalms of David, there is a collection of Hebrew poems, absolutely unknown A Proclamation against High Prices! to the Orientals of our day. These

It is comforting to think we have a God over our heads, to look after us and role us. Alas! what could we make of ourselves, if left to our own shift? It is more comforting that we can call this God our own God, and call him more our own than we can call houses or lands, or aught that we Deity, and the property in the same, astenish both old and you is very satisfying; and the more so, "that no man can take this joy from us." But that this fulness of the De- GREAT EXCITEMENT ity for our more easy and familiar participation of the same, should dwell bodily in a created nature, and particularly ours; this gives all satis-faction possible, that poor, necessi-tous creatures could want or desire. An absolute God could not answer our exigencies; His majesty would astonish, and his justice terrify, our guilty and misgiving minds. But a God dwelling in the human nature, astonish, and his justice terrify, our guilty and misgiving minds. But a God dwelling in the human nature, and there exhibiting all the divine glory for our contemplation, and all the fulness of the Spirit for our vivification and consolation, this raises the soul to the highest pitch of humble confidence, admiration and joy.

It is hith's work to claim and chal- Laines, lenge loving kindness out of all the roughest strokes of God. Do that for the Lord which ye will do for time; time will calm your heart at that which God bath done, and let our Lord have it now. What love ye dia bear to friends, now dead, seeing they stand now in no need of it, let it fall as a just legacy to Christ. Oh, how sweet to put out many strange ers and Shiris, Hats & Caps. Boot & Shoes loves, and to put in Christ. It is much for our half slain affections to part with that which we believe we have right unto; but the servant's INSHORT A GENERAL ASSORTMENT will should be our will; and he is the best servant who retaineth least of his own will, and most of his master's. That much wisdom must be ascribed to our Lord, that he knoweth how to lead his own in-through and out-through the little time-hells, and the places of time puring wraths in this life and yet keep safe his love with out any blur upon the old and out any blur upon the old and great seal of free election. And seeing His mountains of brass, the mighty and strong decrees of free grace in Christ. stand sure, and the covenant standeth. fast forever, as the days of beaven. let him strike and nurture, His striking must be a very act of saving, seeing strokes upon His secret ones come from the soft and heavenly hand of the Mediator, and His rods are steeped and watered in that flood and river of love that cometh from the God man's heart of our soul loving and soul redeeming Jesus.
