Think how much danger you escape when you escape great prosperity. Gold is often a hardener of the heart. Promotion often dazzles the brain. Wealth has made millions poor for eternity, "Ah, David," said Dr. Johnson to Garrick, when he showed him his superb drawing rooms, "Ah! David, these are the things that make death beds terrible." You do not need luxuries. Jacob never slept more sweetly, or had more beavenly dreams, than when he rested on a stone for his pillow.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY.

THE times are hard; you'd like to know How you may save your dallars; The way to do it I mill above, If you will read what follows.

A man who lived not far from here, Who worked hard at his trade, But had a household to support That equandored all he made. I met him once. Says he, "My friend, I look thread bear and rough; I've tried to get myself a suit, But can't save up enough."

Says I, my friend, how much have you I'll tell you where to go To got a suit that's sound and cheap: To REIZENSTEIN & Co.

He took what little be had saved, And went to Relocated & Broth And there he got a handsome suit, For half he paid to others.

Now he is home, he looks so well, And their effect is such, That when they take their daily meal, They don't eat half as much.

And now he finds on Saturday night, With all their wants supplied, That he has money left to spend, And some to lay aside.

His good success, with cheerful smile, He gladly talts to all, If you'd save money, go and buy Your stather at

We are satisfied that it will work its own small fulls the confidence of all who are it, and those who fry it one will never be without it, and therefore we rely on experience as the best test of its neckniness. It is presented by Farriers, and all who have tried it, to be the best application ever used. This Embrecation has been put up for our eight years, and it is easy through the hermonic demand and urgent request of my friends and the Public that I send it forth as the graind remedia, agent for the various diseases to which that notice and vertal aximal, the horse, is subject than relies and vertal aximal, the horse, is subject its made allerent forms, some of these are injurious, others at best of little use, and many wholly improper to answer the purposes for which they are recommended.

A follivious and really useful composition, free from those objections, has therefore long been desired by many gentlemen who have valuable horses, and are anwilling to trust them to the care of designing and pretended Ferrieers. Their wishes are at length fully gratified, by (fe. Beale) being prevailed spon to allow the valuable Embreauther (wh as has proved as effective to the various diseases) to be prepared and brought out to the public.

This Embrecation was extensively used by the Government during the war.
